RUSHLIGHT GIVES HIS PLATFORM IN

Councilman Enters Contest Free to Follow Own Course -Favors City Owning Paving Plant.

Councilman A. G. Rushlight this morning filed his declaration of intention to become a candidate for the Remayor, this being his first official anpreement, though he stated nearly six mayoralty race and has ever since then n conducting an active compaign, visiting voters in all parts of the city.

Simultaneously with his filing of no tice of intention in the city auditor's office today, Mr. Rushlight made public his platform. In this he strongly emphasizes the fact that he is free from public to the best of his ability, with- left. out having any ante-election promises Now fully half a dozen persons-in-to carry out, or in any other way having his freedom of action curtailed or Another contribution to the literature of the mayorality campaign was furnished yesterday by J. E. Werlein. His platform has a mild flavor and lacks the insurgent tinge which runs through the appeals of Rushlight and Lombard. He dwells principally on economy and administrative reforms.

INDICTMENTS AGAINST INDIANS EXPECTED

The United States grand jury has ompleted its examination of witnesses and will make its report either this afternoon or tomorrow-probably tomorrow, as it will take some time to complete the routine work of making out indictments and not true bills. Among those against whom indictments are expected are a large number of Indians from the Klamath Falls, Siletz and Grand Ronde Indian reservations. The crimes charged against the Indians are mainly the class of offenses pal government, but owing to the protests forwarded to Governor West and the attorney general in Washington by settlers in the neighborhood of the Siletz eservation, complaining of lawlessness there, the Indian cases have aroused nore than ordinary attention.

The gold cases, too, including alleged by members of the Barrett gang, has and may result in indictments being returned against some of the alleged members of the gang, who are also being held in Portland under indictment from the state grand jury.

By this method, Mr. Beals believes that many thousands of dollars will be saved to the fruit growers annually. Heretofore a frost warning was issued from the regular office and in order to be on the safe side, the growers would start their oil burners. In many instances the frost was not heavy enough to do any damage and the growers were out the cost of the all night fires, which amount to considerable during a season. One orchard in the Yakima valley contains 320 acres of peach trees. The cost of fires for one night in this orchard amounts to about $600.

The government has now established four frost warning bureaus in this district. They are located in the Rogue River valley, the Yakima valley, the and kept the balance in his Lewiston district and the Boise valley. SLEUTHS GET MAN BY REAL SHERLOCK WORK

The lack of foresight of George La Verne in not taking the cap of a foun-tain pen from the room of Peter Johnon, a Mount Angel resident who was brutally assaulted yesterday morning was responsible for his arrest and for the fact that he is now charged with assault and robbery.

Johnson was assaulted at an early nour, and after being beaten into insensibility was robbed of $25. Detectives Tichenor and Howell who were as signed to the case yesterday searched La Verne's room and found a part of a fountain pen which fitted exactly to a pen cap found in the pool of blood in which Johnson was found lying. The arrest of La Verne followed.

By a strange coincidence, another man by the name of Johnson has been robbed at the Foster hotel. J. P. Johnson of Chehalis reported early morning that he had been robbed of a purse containing $85, while he was partially drunk.

Shortly afterward Patrolmen Vessey and Heppner overheard two men on Second and Burnside quarreling over the division of some money, and a little eave-dropping brought out the fact that one man, G. W. Dixon, an ex-convict, had taken the purse from Johnson on the excuse that he was taking it to save Johnson from being robbed

G. W. Fidler, Dixon's companion, arrested as a witness and Dixon is held for robbery. Before the men had quarreled over the division of the spoils Dixon had deposited $60 in Fritz' saloon, Dixon this morning was sentenced to six months in the county jail.

The question of protection from such diseases has been agitated for some time by Dr. Wheeler, city health officer. He has been investigating conditions, and found there was not enough precaution taken. While Harbormaster Speier tries to examine each ship that enters the harbor, his force of men is not large anough to insure a good inspection of each vessel.

The Rygia recently arrived in port, and an investigation showed it was overrun with rats. Men were set to work killing them, and the boat was fumigated. This condition brought the attention of the health authorities to the necessity for immediate action, and conference was held one evening last The question of handling the campaign was of such magnitude that the men came to the conclusion that the county and state should join hands and finance the matter. It was also advisable to employ men whose duty is to enforce the law in regard to unloading ships, and center their attention on the prevention of diseases.
