Capturing Commander of Government Forces Rebels Shoot Him Down From Behind; Fight Lasts Hours.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
El Paso, Texas, March 28.—News of a battle between Mexican federalists under Captain Duran and a large body of insurgents at Azu Ferra ranch, in Coahuila, reached here today. The rebel force which was entrenched in a mountain pass was attacked by the federalists. After several hours of fierce fighting the insurgents were victorious, driving the government force back and capturing Captain Duran, who had been wounded. The commander was led to a mountain retreat and shot to death. When his body was discovered by friends it was seen that he had been shot down from behind.

decided as to whether he should accept the governor's appointment. The appointments came as surprises both to him and Mr. Mears. Viewed in the light of a public service, Mr. Goodman said he would perform the duties if the courts recognize the constitutionality of the new port commission. Until the new port commission institutes proceedings to establish its legality matters will remain as they are. W. O. Wheelwright, member of the old port commission, said this morning that the new commission might have instituted litigation three weeks ago at the time it was first organized, had it so desired. In such event the issue could have been passed upon within another week, and it could have been determined whether the old port commission is to continue to serve, or the new one is to replace it. In the meantime the routine business of the port is being transacted and new contracts or operations are being delayed until the judgment of the courts has been passed.

Cause of Delay.
As a reason for delay in instituting proceedings it is remembered that as soon as the new commission with its four members had organized in the office of Judge Munly about three weeks ago, Captain Albert Crowe, related, thus destroying the quorum. M. O. Collins was immediately appointed, but no meeting has since been held, and it will be necessary for the new members to meet and to decide upon procedure. They are C. A. Gray, James McGuire, R. D. Inman, M. O. Collins, H. M. Estery, S. M. Mears and Joseph Goodman. An announcement that the new com-holdings listed under dummy names, controls other roads. The Baltimore & Ohio and the Norfolk & Western are reported to have used the same device to conceal their properties and affiliations.

Trust Dwarfs Others.
The government asserts that the Standard Oil and the Tobacco trusts, enormous as they are, are dwarfed by the combination just exposed. It alleges that the members of the coal combine bought up the coal lands wherever possible and formed secret alliance with the coal companies which refused to sell out. By this means it will attempt to prove the whole anthracite industry of the country is controlled.
Government officials this afternoon admitted that their agents are seeking to connect big Wall street men with the evidence secured against the billion dollar trust.

expensive both the government and to the accused—and the costs in this one will amount to perhaps $3000.
Now Potter's friends say he is poor, and utterly unable to gather together several thousand dollars. They would like to have the government remit the costs and allow him to pay the fine. If it doesn't Potter will have to go to jail for 30 days. There is a federal statute that makes it illegal to imprison a man more than 30 days to work out his fine, no matter what the amount of it may be, so Potter could escape the entire financial part of the obligation by going to jail—in other words earn about $3000 in a month, by allowing himself to be locked up.
