

JAHNS DIES BRAVE DEATH, ASSERTING INNOCENCE TO END

Son and Daughter Send No Last Word; Murder and Cremation of Mrs. Agnes Jensen in 1909 Is Avenged.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Walla Walla, April 21.—His white hair glistening, Frederick Jahns, alias James F. Logan, walked with firm step on the scaffold this morning and was punished for the murder of Mrs. Agnes Jensen, near Blawie, Wash., October 28, 1909.

Jahns protested innocence to the last, and while he said not a word on the scaffold, he previously told Warden Reed he was innocent, but that he had no statement to make. He approached the scaffold at 5:32 a. m., and it required just two minutes to prepare the noose and to bind him. Jahns stood erect, and when the signal was given and the five electric keys that control the trap were pressed he fell straight.

Death was instantaneous, and he was almost decapitated, the result of the drop, which was made longer on account of his light weight.

Jahns was convicted of killing his housekeeper, and afterwards burning her body in a lonely midnight funeral pyre of pitch logs. Evidence was circumstantial, and the case was fought through the supreme court. He spent eight months in prison, and left a note of thanks to the warden for his treatment at the penitentiary. His son and daughter did not send him a word of comfort.

APPLAUD LOMBARD'S PLEA

vicious legislation by the council, and the council can't do a thing. I don't care what kind of a council you have, this charter gives the executive a check on the legislative branch. The mayor has power to remove every officer of the city except councilmen. The officials do not know how to use the charter, and they blame the charter for it."

Lombard, in discussing the charter, said it was adopted nine years ago, when the city had about 100,000 population, and when there was only one office building in the city, the Chamber of Commerce, and before the commission form of government was being discussed. Since then, he said, 100 cities have adopted the commission form, and none have repudiated it after choosing it. The charter is now obsolete, he asserted, failing to fix responsibility, makes cumbersome delays, and should be entirely swept away.

"The charter makes the paving trust," he said. "The council is required to designate the kind of paving to be used, and there is no chance for competition. There has been some decrease in the cost of paving in the last two years, but I have proof to show that this reduction has been accompanied by a decrease in the character of the pavement."

Need of Commission Form.

"I have great admiration for Harry Lane, for I believe he is honest and sincere. He declares a new charter is needed. Mayor Sison says the present charter is ineffective. So does John F. O'Shea and I. Lang. I think these men know what they are talking about, and from my own experience in the council I am convinced the commission form is needed.

"Public office should be a public trust, but the city council is a private trust. It is the greatest trust in the city. We need men of ability and integrity in the council. I want to reiterate the charges I have heretofore made that the third house, consisting of representatives of the paving companies and public service corporations, has the ears of the councilmen and control their votes. We can't have a clean government under these conditions.

"Some have asked me why I did not complain of these things while I was in the council. I want to say that I did fight special privilege in the council, and I was in a turmoil all the time. What I have said about the council I have said, not with personal in view, but because I have been anxious for clean government and I know many of these men are not sincere. I trust Mr. Werlein to say what he thinks of the councilmen."

Proud of Record.

Answering a statement by Werlein that he had introduced more resolutions for hard surface streets than any other member of the council, Lombard said he was proud of it. He referred to the holes in downtown streets a few years ago and said he believed those streets should be improved, as well as other main streets in the city where the cost is not excessive in comparison to the value of property. He said he is opposed to paving in the suburbs where the cost is too heavy a burden.

Defending himself from a charge by Werlein that he has promoted his own business interests by becoming the head of a bonding company which has written bonds for paving companies, Lombard said he went into this company as a matter of local pride, has invested $25,000 in it, has received one dividend of 1 1/2 per cent in two years, has not solicited business from the paving companies, and has written no bonds for the Harbor asphalt concern, although he has introduced more asphalt paving resolutions in the council than any other kind.

Opposes Municipal Paving.

Lombard opposed the voting of $1,000,000 in bonds for a municipal paving plant on the ground that no more bond issues should be authorized except when absolutely needed. He said he would at least not favor such a bond issue to be spent by the council until he knew what it would be for. He would favor an appropriation of $40,000 or $50,000 for a municipal repair plant.

"The city crematory, said Lombard, is the result of a political job in payment of a political debt, whether by the ward of health or whoever it may be. He said no man can promise a reduction in city taxation, considering the astounding growth of the city, and he made it plain that he has not charged the council with extravagant expenditure of the public funds.

Werlein Taunts Lombard.

Werlein in his talk several times referred to Lombard as "this man." Instead of by name, and said Lombard's charges as to the handling of city funds in 1907 had brought tears to his wife's eyes. Later he taunted Lombard several times, but Lombard paid no heed to his badgering.

Werlein said he has stood behind the wicket in the city treasurer's office like a caged lion while the money of the taxpayers has been squandered by the council, not through dishonesty, but by mismanagement. Increase in the cost of government this year over last is 50 per cent, he said, and he wanted to know when this extravagance will stop. He quoted figures on city bond issues, showing the city is $5,725,500 short and asking a man of Lombard's caliber to charter limitation on indebtedness.

Would Keep Down Taxes.

He said he would keep taxes down to the present figures if he becomes mayor. He declared no increase will be needed in the clerical force in the city hall for several years, and said that by mismanagement, he had paid $150,000 more for salaries of city employees than he should have drawn $25 for the same class of work. He said he is not after the men who work in the street cleaning department, who earn their pay, but the men who are trying to build up a machine in the city and in the state.

Emphatically Not Present.

Werlein said it was pitiful the way councilmen vote to do away with penalties on contracts that are not completed in time or according to requirements. He said he could take 12 councilmen and accuse a man of murder easy enough if it were the murderer's first offense.

"Councilman A. G. Rushlight, the third Republican candidate for the city hall, sitting in the chair, did not attend the meeting and was not referred to by the speakers. He has refused to enter the joint debates. The only councilman whose presence was noted was H. J. McInnis, who has just been elected to fill the unexpired term of Lombard.

that State Bank Examiner Mohundro, President Phillips and Frank Aldrich had a silent partnership in many of the transactions which took the money from this bank. If this be true, the public should know the facts and we should see that the whole matter be investigated.

"The action of Mohundro in holding the bank for three months has caused numerous stories to be circulated about the streets. We should make a showing of the facts, whatever they are."

The statements of Captain Aho were heartily endorsed by a number of other speakers, who reiterated the one that if a partnership were in existence, the men involved should be smoked out by the grand jury.

May Pay 25 Per Cent.

The report of Receiver M. B. Kies, showing the condition previously announced was read. It conveyed the idea that if the bank pays 25 per cent it will be doing better than is now contemplated.

The meeting named C. W. Hall, Lloyd Dubois and A. W. Calder as a committee to wait on Judge MacMaster, urge the calling of a grand jury and to the employing of special counsel to prosecute the case.

The committee announced that immediate action would be taken and that if there were criminal liability, every effort would be made to bring the men responsible to justice, whether higher-ups or not, to quick justice.

The meeting was the third held by the depositors since the bank failure. Many women were present. A determination to stop the rumors which have been floating around and to get the real condition of affairs out, was the object of every word which bore on getting the courts busy with the case met hearty indorsement.

An effort will be made to send men to each territory where investments have been made to get the facts about the alleged "partnerships."

BLACK HANDERS THROW BOMB INTO BAKERY

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Oakland, Cal., April 21.—Attempting to carry out a threat to blow up the bakery of C. G. at 811 Clay street, if he did not meet them in a vacant lot at Sixth and Jefferson streets and deliver $2000 to them, self-styled members of the "Black Hand" society last night threw a bomb at the rear of Cassin's bakery and created a panic in the Echo lodging house, which adjoins the place.

Every effort has been made during the past three or four weeks to intimidate Cassin, although the matter was not reported to the police, as he feared that anonymous letters would carry out their threats to kill him and his family if he notified the police and asked their assistance.

BECOMES NEW HEAD OF CITIZENS BANK

N. U. Carpenter.

With the purchase yesterday of a large block of stock in the Citizens bank at Grand avenue and East Alder streets by N. U. Carpenter, one of the best known bankers in the state, the capital stock of that institution was increased to $100,000 and Mr. Carpenter becomes president of the bank.

Mr. Carpenter was for a long time manager of the Portland Trust company, but he has severed his connections with that institution and will devote all his time to the Citizens bank. Former President Lambert of the Citizens bank will remain a director, but will devote most of his time to his real estate holdings.

Associated with Mr. Carpenter in the Citizens bank are David Johnston, M. E. Thompson and O. S. Fulton, cashier.

FORMER LOS ANGELES CITY EMPLOYEE TAKEN

On request of T. W. Lloyd, a detective from the city attorney's office of Los Angeles, F. W. Frankhouser, formerly an employee of the city of Los Angeles, was arrested last night by Detectives Mallett and Craddock at Killingsworth and Albina avenues, on a charge of defalcation of public records. The charges grew out of a recent scandal in Los Angeles, in which several thousand dollars' worth of Gamewell police alarm boxes were installed in the city without competitive bids, and Frankhouser was said to be the man who ordered the alarms and saw to their payment.

Forest Grove, Or., April 21.—William Bloomquist, aged about 50 years, was found with his throat cut, beneath a trestle near Timber, Or., 25 miles northwest of here, yesterday afternoon, and Coroner Brown and Sheriff Hancock went last night to investigate. One theory is that Bloomquist fell from the trestle and being terribly injured and no assistance coming, committed suicide.

FEDERALS RUSH TO RELIEF OF JUAREZ

Among the federal soldiers it was commonly reported that Juarez was Colonel Chiapas' destination.

Cottolene

A Rational National Shortening

The woods are full of imitations of Cottolene—because Cottolene has made a pronounced success as "the perfect shortening." These imitations are of inferior quality, are packed in tins with ordinary removable covers, and depend largely upon substitution methods for their sale.

When you ask for Cottolene be sure you get Cottolene. There's only one Cottolene—packed in patent air-tight tin pails, with our trade-mark on the face of the pail.

It pays to pay a little more for Cottolene because of its superior quality and the fact that, being richer, it will go one-third farther than lard or any of its imitations. Its use means economy in the end.
