

WEALTHY CLASSES, FEARING SPANISH REVOLUTION, FLEE

Alarmed at Growing Control of Reactionaries, Many of Spain's So-Called "Best People" Hurriedly Leave.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Madrid, April 21.—Alarm concerning Spain's political future today has reached a point where, after transferring as much as possible of their investments abroad, the wealthier classes are getting their own persons and their families out of the country as fast as they can. In the larger cities like Madrid, Barcelona and Seville, hardly any of the "best people" remain, and their exodus is felt severely in business circles.

The reactionary military and clerical elements today are in full control of the government and, as the Republicans hoped, the repressive measures they are adopting are driving the people wild with rage. The radical groups are in fact rapidly organizing for an open attack on King Alfonso's throne.

Though the commissioned army officers are reactionaries the rank and file are almost wholly anti-monarchistic and the Republicans believe that when the meditated revolution does come the troops as a whole will throw down their arms and join with the masses in the establishment of a Spanish republic.

CLASH IS IMMINENT BETWEEN SPAIN AND FRANCE IN AFRICA

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Madrid, April 21.—Apprehension of the gravest sort that all Europe may be involved in war through the clashing of French and Spanish claims in Morocco is felt here today. France is known to be seriously considering the sending of an army to the gates of Fez, and Spain, thereby, it is feared, will be forced to oppose the encroachment as fatal to its own prestige in northern Africa.

The dangers of European war grow out of the attitude of Germany. At the time of the Algeiras convention Germany practically blocked the French plans for African aggression. Today, with Premier Doumergue back in the French cabinet, it is believed he has secured the backing of England for the new aggression and that if Spain and France clash, Germany and England may be drawn into the conflict.

CHUGACH EPISODE AMAZES

Controller bay and which could not be located under any public land laws unless eliminated from the national forest. Working with Ryan, apparently, was former Secretary Ballinger.

When the matter first came up, the forest service prepared to eliminate 323 acres under orders so to do. These finally landed in the hands of Ballinger, who alone was consulted by the president in further negotiation for elimination of the lands in question. The order was signed in October and although for 12,800 acres, no one seems to have known of it excepting those most deeply interested as workers for control by the syndicate, for when information of the elimination of the lands, and their location, probably with soldiers' additional scrip, by friends of syndicate, flashed forth yesterday, the whole political structure was shaken to its foundations.

Ryan and the others who labored for the elimination alleged they were anti-Guggenheim, but Washington remembered another "anti-Guggenheim" rally road company which sought rights in Alaska, whereupon it was discovered that Grant B. Schley, a principal director of the Guggenheim American Smelting and Refining company, was one of the directors of the proposed "anti-Guggenheim" Alaska road.

Forest Service Afraid to Fail.
Of course, forest service officials refuse to say what they think of the results of that restoration order, as they cannot say anything in criticism of the president without coming under the same displeasure that caused Pinchot to be discharged. But it is suspected by their friends that they are more than disturbed, and that were they to express their innermost thoughts they would say that there are only two explanations, either that the president was willing to clinch the domination of southern Alaska by the syndicate that already had every coin of advantage excepting this last one thus secured.

Senator La Follette's senate resolution asking for all the facts will bring forth the real data. Positive assertions are being made that the eliminated lands have already passed to the control of the Morgan-Guggenheim people, but on this point there must be a suspension of judgment until all the facts come out. However, that the secrecy of the elimination gave the syndicate the opportunity it wanted remains undisputed and the probability is that when the truth has been ascertained in full it will be found that today the best of 600,000 square miles of Alaska is safely in the pocket of the syndicate headed by John Pierpont Morgan and actively conducted by the Guggenheim family.

Affords Control, Willy-Nilly.
Maps of the so called "anti-Guggenheim" road of Ryan showed that connection was to be made with the Guggenheim Copper River & Northwestern at "Mile 27," which is taken as indicating a close affiliation between the two companies. With Controller bay under control of the syndicate, the Morgan-Guggenheim interests need not care whether or not the president presents the Cunningham coal claims to the claimants or to others, for control of transportation will give the syndicate control over coal values.

It is generally admitted that no one could in these days finance a railroad enterprise in the United States without at least passive consent of the Morgan banking houses. When, therefore, it thought to make the public believe that some one could finance a road that was to break into the control of the Morgan-Guggenheim syndicate and its proposed expenditure of $25,000,000 in rail enterprises there, without their consent, it was strained to the breaking point. Another significant phase is that while Ryan was called "anti-Guggenheim" road, not a move was made by the Morgan-Guggenheim interests to prevent such a suggestion, notwithstanding it has been openly known that these interests have maintained in Washington one of the most vigilant lobbies ever operating in the national capital.

Bill Through on Last Day.
It was discovered today, too, that just as congress closed in session a bill was slipped through and signed by President Taft March 4, 1911, giving to the Controller Railway & Navigation company the right to build docks and bunkers on that bay and that "the easement hereby authorized may be exercised exclusively so long as said railway was maintained and operated for railroad purposes."

Those who rushed through this bill were always before friendly to the Morgan-Guggenheim interests, so that every scintilla of evidence goes to prove that right before the eyes of the nation, after the disclosure of the serious attempts to loot Alaska by these interests, the president signed an order, and kept it secret for six months, that enabled or made possible the acquisition of final rights that settled for all time that the syndicate would control in Alaska what means control of all the industrial activities or transportation.

JAPANESE STATESMEN HONORED BY MIKADO
(United Press Leased Wire.)
Tokyo, April 21.—For meritorious service to the empire in connection with the revision of treaties with the United States and Great Britain and the annexation of Korea, Premier Katsura and two members of his cabinet were honored today by the mikado. Katsura, who was a marquis, was made Prince Katsura; Count Komura, minister of foreign affairs, was made a marquis and Viscount Terauchi, minister of war, was made a count.

NO BUSINESS OF PUBLIC—WEIHE

Alleged Contributor to Lorimer Slush Fund Grows Very Wroth, Indeed.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Chicago, April 21.—C. F. Weihe, the brother-in-law of Edward Tilden, president of the National Packing company, who is alleged to have collected a $100,000 "slush" fund to elect William Lorimer to the United States senate was mighty wroth today when asked here if he had ever boasted of having given $10,000 to the fund.

"It's none of the public's business," said Weihe and angrily refused to further discuss the matter.

MAYS' HOPE TO ESCAPE JAIL TERM MAY BE GONE

Franklin Pierce Mays has failed to secure a pardon from President Taft and unless some new delay interposes will probably have to begin serving his jail sentence of four months next week. So far Mays has been able to stave off the jail sentence with much success, but President Taft's definite refusal to pardon him or commute his sentence means that his last hope is probably gone of avoiding a residence in the county jail. In addition to his imprisonment, Mays has to pay a fine of $10,000 for conspiracy in the Blue mountain forest reserve case. He was tried and convicted nearly five years ago.
