VIRULENT TYPHUS RAGES AMONG JUAREZ WOUNDED

DISEASE ATTACKS FEDERAL SOLDIERS IN POST HOSPITAL

One Is Dead and Five Are Suffering From Fever; Panic in El Paso Among Those Who Gathered Souvenirs.

(United Press Leased Wire.) El Paso, Texas, May 12.--Typhus in its most virulent form broke out today in the Mexican federal hospital at Juarez and already one is dead and five other Diaz soldiers are suffering from the disease.

As the form of typhus discovered is of the most epidemic type, the discovery has created a panic here, hundreds of Americans having carried away articles of clothing worn by the federals as souvenirs of the Juarez attack.

Seize All Clothing. The El Paso board of health and the United States authorities are seizing all clothing worn by the federals at the international bridge and are burning it as fast as seized.

The typhus cases have been isolated and every possible means is being taken to prevent the spread of the disease. There is admitted to be grave danger through the crowds which will stream across the river into Juarez, braving the disease in their curiosity to visit the scene of the battle.

Much alarm was felt in Juarez last night that the federal command of Colonel Rabago had arrived and were opening the attack. It was found, however, that the firing was only a discharge of rifles by some of the rebels who got hilarious in one of the saloons.

Federal Awaits Orders. Rabago today was reported at Tarrasa, near Chihuahua. He is without artillery and is awaiting orders from Mexico City. He probably will return to Chihuahua and fortify that city against the expected rebel attack.

Daniel Orozco, cousin of General Pascual Orozco, was killed here last night by the accidental discharge of a revolver.

It is reported that Orozco and Colonel Garibaldi are disputing over their respective authority in the city and that Garibaldi has threatened to quit the rebel army.

JUAREZ IS AN OPEN DOOR TO MEXICO; BARS ARE DROPPED

Treasury Department Proposes to Conduct Customs at El Paso as Before; Free Supplies for Rebels.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Washington, May 12.--The cabinet today discussed the customs situation at Juarez, Mexico, where the rebels under Madero are in control of all traffic into and out of Mexico. While no definite statement was obtainable, it is believed the decision will be that the government is not empowered to prevent bona fide shipments of arms and supplies across the Rio Grande.

COURT MARTIAL FOR NAVARRO WHEN HE'S GIVEN HIS LIBERTY

Mexico City, May 12.--Telegrams to the war department here today say that General Villar, commanding the Chihuahua military zone, has ordered a court of honor to investigate the surrender of Juarez. General Navarro will be court-martialed for having capitulated, and if it is found that he failed to exhaust every resource before making submission, it is probable that he will be shot as soon as he is recovered from the hands of the rebels.

SOUVENIR-SEEKING YANKEES STRIP TOWN; INVESTIGATION BEGINS

MEXICAN AMAZON SETTLES SCORE IN COLONEL'S BLOOD

Madame Talamantes and Her Yaqui Command Kill Federal Who Had Her Husband and Sons Shot.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Douglas, Ariz., May 12.--Evening the death of her husband and two sons who were shot as rebels by order of Colonel Chlipas, Madame Talamantes today has wiped out the score in Chlipas' blood.

This report, the authenticity of which is vouched for by the Insurrecto junta here, was brought to Douglas by three Yaqui couriers from Madame Talamantes' command.

Dies Near Agua Prieta. Chlipas' end, the couriers say, came near Agua Prieta. The slayer of the Talamantes had been left behind there when Colonel Ronaldo Diaz evacuated the place before the advancing force of rebels which is now in possession. Realizing that the $20,000 reward on his head offered by Madame Talamantes made his progress through the disturbed country doubly dangerous, Chlipas rode for his life when he was sighted by Madame Talamantes' band of Indians.

Bullets through his neck and arms, the couriers say, soon brought him out of the saddle, and when his pursuers came up the first face Chlipas looked into was that of the woman whose husband and two sons he had slain.

Few Words Spoken. Only a few words were spoken when the two met. Then, with a short order to her Indians, Madame Talamantes turned and walked away.

Within a few minutes, shallow grave was dug on the desert, Chlipas was placed on its brink and as the rifles of the firing party rang out 10 bullets went home in his body and he tumbled into the pit a corpse.

New Element Disturbs. Douglas, Ariz., May 12.--By the action of the Yaqui Indians in making war on their own account, a new disturbing element has been injected into the situation in Sonora. The Indians' first demonstration was against the town of Ortiz, which they captured without trouble.

STEALS RIDE IN ICED CAR OF ORANGES; DYING

(United Press Leased Wire.) Pasadena, Cal., May 12.--Fred Peck, son of William Peck of Marcellus, N. Y., was taken out of an iced car of oranges at Canadian, Texas, with his hands and feet so badly frozen that he will die, according to word received here today by relatives.

Peck had been visiting an aunt in Pasadena and told a friend that he was going to steal a ride home in a refrigerator car.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Wants Her Children

Mrs. Edwina Cowan (Jack) Cudahy.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Los Angeles, May 12.--Mrs. Edwina Cowan Cudahy, who has been in Los Angeles for the last six weeks, will leave tomorrow for Kansas City to consult her attorneys as to the best way of securing control of her four children, now in possession of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Michael Cudahy of Pasadena.

During her stay here Mrs. Cudahy made daily visits to her three older children, who are attending school at Ramona convent. Michael, the youngest, who is too small to attend school, has been with her most of the time.

Jack Cudahy and his wife were divorced following the sensational episode in their St. Louis home, in which Jere Lillie was attacked by Cudahy. According to the terms of the divorce decree the children are receiving their education in a convent under the direction of their father and Mrs. Michael Cudahy.

MYSTERY SHROUDS PHYSICIAN'S DEATH

Nurse Who Loved Doctor-Editor "Passionately" Finds His Body.

(United Press Leased Wire.) New York, May 12.--The police announced today that they were unable to complete the theory that Dr. W. R. C. Latson, a well known specialist and editor of the Health Culture magazine, had committed suicide at his apartment in Riverside Drive, notwithstanding a statement to that effect from the coroner's office.

Alta Marbelka, a nurse, who admits that she loved the physician "passionately," says she found him dead in his office, fled in terror, but later returned and climbed through a window in the apartment for her coat. "I have loved Dr. Latson for a long time," said Miss Marbelka today. "I was not only his nurse, but also his private secretary and associate editor of his magazine. I went to his office to finish an editorial. The doctor was kneeling beside a sofa with a revolver by his side. I felt of his head and it was cold."

U. OF O. PRESIDENT GIVES DETAILS OF PARKINSON TALK

R. A. Harris Arranged It and Not Even Thought, Let Alone Word, of Bribery Was Entertained, He Says.

PARKINSON KEPT HINTING ABOUT FINANCIAL LOSS

Said He Had Been Obligated to Borrow $200, Wanted Recompense.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

University of Oregon, Eugene, Or., May 12.--In a vigorous denial of the accusation of H. J. Parkinson, labor leader, that as the president of the University of Oregon, he offered Parkinson a bribe said by inference to total $10,000 if Parkinson would see that the proposed referendum against the additional appropriation of the university was suppressed, President Campbell at 12:30 o'clock today gave out this statement: "I have never offered a bribe to Mr. Parkinson, nor suggested one to him, nor thought of offering one to him. I met him at the urgent request of his personal friend, Mr. R. A. Harris, who has been friendly to the state educational institution and wished me to discuss the referendum with Mr. Parkinson.

"Mr. Harris, on his own suggestion, called on Mr. Parkinson by telephone and arranged a time and place of meeting. My discussion with Mr. Parkinson was solely in regard to a plan to substitute an initiative measure, which would provide for the maintenance of the state schools on a mileage basis, instead of the referendum which was being pushed against the appropriations for the university, the Agricultural college and the normal school.

"This plan of an initiative measure of a constructive nature which would settle permanently through a vote of the people the question of the maintenance of the higher educational institutions, both as to method and amount, had been the outcome of a conference between President Kerr of the Agricultural college, President Ackerman of the State Normal school, and myself. The plan had also been approved by the state superintendent of public instruction, W. R. Alderman, Mr. U'Ren and many other friends of the educational institutions.

"As Mr. Parkinson had told me that he had been acting with the committees at McMinnville and at Cottage Grove, I requested him to present this plan to them, just as I had previously asked Mr. U'Ren and others to present it to the members of the committees.

"During the conversation, Mr. Parkinson repeatedly brought up the matter of personal financial loss, which he said he had sustained through being obliged to make good for fraudulent names he claimed had been imposed upon him. He went into details several times in regard to having been obliged to borrow $200 to pay for securing new names for the fraudulent ones. I told him that first of all he ought to make every effort to prosecute to the fullest extent of the law any person or persons who might have been guilty of perpetrating the fraud and that in any event as an innocent party, he ought not to be obliged to bear all the loss.

"I again took the discussion of the advantages of the initiative petitions, but Mr. Parkinson soon interrupted me with a question as to how I thought the money might be secured to make good his loss. I told him that I felt sure the friends of all the institutions would willingly make up the amount to him, and would also make whole the committees which had been pushing the referendum petitions, if they would be willing.

CHICAGO PACKERS BROUGHT NEARER TO PRISON CELLS

Chicago Judge Rules That J. Ogden Armour and 9 Others Must Stand Trial on Criminal Charges.

OVERRULES DEMURRER FILED BY DEFENDANTS

Overthrows Contention That Conspiracy Clause Is Unconstitutional.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Chicago, May 12.--J. Ogden Armour and nine other Chicago packers, indicted for conspiracy and violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, came today measurably nearer prison cells when United States Judge Carpenter here overruled a demurrer filed by the packers' attorneys and ruled that they must stand trial on the criminal charge.

The packers contended that the conspiracy clause of the Sherman law, under which they were indicted, was unconstitutional because it was vague and indefinite and the defendants were unable to determine what was legal and what was illegal.

Judge Carpenter, in overruling the plea, said that the supreme court had four times upheld the Sherman law. He said the indictments were sufficiently lucid, and for his part he could not see how they could be made more definite.

After the ruling on the demurrer, Attorney John S. Miller for the packers asked permission to file a bill of particulars. This motion will be argued Wednesday.

FRUITER SLASHES LINER IN TWIN; ALL ARE RESCUED

Admiral Farragut Cuts Merida in Two Off Cape Charles--Battleship Assists in Saving Life.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

New York, May 12.--Wireless messages today say that the steamer Merida, from Progreso, Yucatan, was cut in two off Cape Charles this morning by the United Fruit company's steamer Admiral Farragut and sank in 35 fathoms of water. The Merida's crew and passengers were saved by her own and the Farragut's boats.

The collision occurred at 1 o'clock this morning. The battleship Iowa, which was anchored nearby, assisted in transferring the passengers to the Admiral Farragut.

On the Merida the damages sustained by the Farragut, its commander asked the captain of the Dominion liner Hamilton to stand by, as it might be necessary to retransfer the passengers.

At 10 o'clock a wireless message was received stating that the captain of the Merida, the first officer and four members of the crew, were not on board the Admiral Farragut. Whether this means that they perished is not known.

Later the battleship Iowa and the Hamilton, conveying the Farragut, started toward Norfolk. Twenty-two of the Merida's 187 passengers boarded the vessel at Progreso, 88 at Vera Cruz and 77 at Havana.

A wireless received this afternoon stated that the passengers had been transferred from the Admiral Farragut to the Hamilton of the Old Dominion line and that the latter vessel was now steaming toward Norfolk.

The collision occurred in a dense fog and the officers of the Merida had previously reported a Seneca says that Captain Robertson, the first officer, and four members of the crew who left the Merida as it sank, escaped. They were reported missing in the carrier reports.

NEW LAND DISTRICT TO BE DISCUSSED

(Washington Bureau of The Journal.) Washington, D. C., May 12.--It is probable the entire Oregon delegation will soon hold a meeting to consider the question of the creation of new land districts in Oregon and the location of a new land office. This meeting will not be held, however, until there has been some preliminary action by the committees interested to send the delegation such petitions or statements as they desire.

LADY DECIES SUBMITS TO KNIFE; TOO ILL FOR COURT PRESENTATION

(United Press Leased Wire.) London, May 12.--Lady Decies underwent an operation for appendicitis here today. Dr. Mayo Collier operating. Before the operation Lord Decies telephoned the United Press that Lady Decies stood the ordeal well, and that there was every prospect of her speedy recovery.

It developed that Lord Decies had hoaxed the public when it was stated that Lady Decies was presented at court on Wednesday night. She was not presented, the king and queen and Lady Decies' physicians deciding that the ordeal would be too exciting.

All the London newspapers printed stories of her presentation, which were given to the press to deceive the public as to her true state of health.

DOOR OF PRIEST'S HOME TARGET FOR STRANGE BULLETS

Father Felix Buehr Flees From Lonely Cabin on the Grand Ronde Indian Reservation, in Fear of Death.

PLEA FOR PROTECTION MADE TO GOVERNMENT

Drunken Orgies Laid to Resort Which Has Just Been Opened Nearby.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Father Felix Buehr, who for nearly 14 years has labored among the Indians of the Siletz and Grande Ronde reservations, burying himself from the rest of mankind and devoting himself to the Indians, is in Portland today to seek the protection of the United States authorities from the ruffians he says are making life a burden at St. Michael's mission on the Grande Ronde.

Revolver shots that have pierced the doors of the chapel, whiskey bottles piled up on the steps of the church and drunken revelry at night in its vicinity, are some of the things that the little father complains of.

The trouble all arose when a road-house and hotel was opened up on the reservation, across from his mission, says Father Buehr. The government sold the land to a hotel man and Father Buehr says that since the place has been opened the mission has been made the scene of almost nightly fights and escapades, some of which have resulted in deaths.

SECOND CORDOVA "TEA PARTY" POLITE, "PINK" FUNCTION

Program of Press Agents Not Carried Out in Single Particular When Edith Docks With B. C. Coal.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Cordova, Alaska, May 12.--Despite widely published accounts about what would happen when the steamer Edith docked at Cordova with a load of British Columbia coal following the dumping of coal from the docks a week ago by Cordova citizens, the Edith landed last night without molestation.

Some 200 men were gathered at the dock when the boat came in, but it was about the usual crowd that sees the steamer come in from the south. There was no hostile demonstration. When the boat had tied up the crowd dispersed.

Deputies from the United States marshal's office were on hand to check any new outbreak, but they were not needed. They will maintain a guard over the coal for the present.

Reports sent out that the Cordovans would arm themselves and work the mines by force are discounted as press agent yarns.

Seattle, May 12.--All reports that Cordova people would arrange themselves and work the coal mines in spite of the British Columbia coal are discounted as press agent yarns.

HOW GUGGENHEIMS CONTROL VAST NATURAL RESOURCES OF ALASKA

That the recent coal incident in Cordova, Alaska, in which Canadian fuel was hauled from a vessel by "enraged" citizens, was an affair staged and directed by the Guggenheim interests, is the opinion of W. Edwin Tribble of Marshfield, Or. The story he relates confirms press dispatches from Washington, where it was said that the interests were simply endeavoring to force President Taft to pour Alaskan resources into their pockets.

Mr. Tribble spent some time in Alaska and is familiar with conditions there. In a letter to The Journal he calls attention to many interesting points. His contribution follows:

Marshfield, Or., May 10.--To the Editor of The Journal--I am very much pleased to see printed of late so many truthful articles from Alaskans who know the true condition up north and are not agents, subsidized by the Guggenheims. May 5 a dispatch from Cordova, Alaska, says: "Citizens of Cordova try to duplicate Boston tea party with British Columbia coal; the excitement over the dumping of Alaska Steamship company's coal into the bay as a protest to President Taft's failure to even acknowledge the receipt of numerous telegrams, etc."
