FACTS AND FIGURES OF RECLAMATION

At the Present Time Uncle Sam Has 28 Reclamation Projects Under Construction Which Will Be Completed at Cost of $145,000,000—The Cost to Date Has Been $62,000,000—One Million Acres Have Been Reclaimed Upon Which 14,000 Families Have Settled.

(United Press Special Wire.)

Washington, May 13.—A graphic statement of the extent of the government's irrigation projects and the success that attends their operation was made today by C. J. Blanchard, statistician of the reclamation service, who has returned from a tour of inspection.

"At the present time there are 28 projects in various stages of construction," said Blanchard. "The total acreage involved in these projects is 3,200,000, which will provide homes for approximately 320,000 persons on farms, and an equal number in cities, towns, and villages within this area or in the neighborhood thereof, or a total of 640,000 people. The total area now under water is 1,000,000 acres, on which have been established approximately 14,000 families and an equal number have taken up their homes in the cities, towns and villages.

"The progress of the engineers has been rapid, notwithstanding isolated location of the principal engineering works from transportation and the many difficulties which have been encountered in the promotion of the work. Up to the present time the canal systems have a total length of 5621 miles. Many of these canals carry whole rivers. Placed end to end they would reach from New York city to San Francisco and New Orleans.

"The government has now completed 15,000 miles of the work, and has approximately 16 miles more to be excavated, mostly through mountains. The excavation of rock and earth amount to the enormous total of 66,000,000 cubic yards, or more than one-third of the yardage required for the Panama canal. Owing to the location of some of the principal works in regions heretofore inaccessible, the reclamation service has been compelled to construct 575 miles of wagon roads, some of which are in the most rugged country on this continent. The service has in operation 1508 miles of telephone, 275 miles of transmission lines, and 18 furnishing pbyer and light for municipal and manufacturing uses to seven cities and towns from its own power plants.

$62,000,000 Already Invested.

"The investment of the government in the projects now under construction is $62,000,000. The total computed cost of these projects when completed is $145,000,000. The allotment to cover the work during the present fiscal year is $10,000,000. This does not include the cost of 230,000,000 in certificates which will be available when required.

"Using as a basis the present value per acre of irrigated land in the projects of the government with sufficient water right, it is conservative to state that the total value of all the lands under these projects when irrigated will exceed $320,000,000. These lands are virtually mortgaged to the government to repay the cost of the irrigation systems.

"The gross value of crops produced in 1910 on lands which were supplied by the government irrigation systems approximated $15,000,000. The value of the improvements of the settlers, including buildings, fences, etc., is $7,500,000. The value of live stock is $2,400,000.

"Information from all sources shows no diminution in the movement of the people to the west. Railroads report that the travel has been above the average, with a promise of great increase in the fall.

"At present the government farms are limited to five projects, and includes only 266 farm units. The field forces are pushing forward the work of extension of canals, some of which will probably be opened in the fall.

"The question 'Can a merchant, mechanic, lawyer, doctor or other professional man succeed as a farmer in the west?' has always been answered—given good health, a small capital to make a start, and a willingness to work, and the answer in most cases is 'Yes!'

ANGLO-AMERICAN ALLIANCES TO PAY TRIBUTE DURING CORONATION SEASON

By Chester T. Overton.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

London, May 13.—According to a London paper there will be 120,000 guests in London during June, July and August, who by conservative estimate will spend $10,000,000, and who, by generous calculation, will contribute $30,000,000 to the current funds of the hopeful tradesmen of the English capital.

Vast and almost impossible as this amount of holiday expenses reads, it is but a drop in the golden bucket which has been kept full to overflowing by Anglo-American alliances, which, since the days of Elizabeth and Patterson, the Baltimore belle, whose little dot of $100,000 enriched Jerome Bonaparte, has risen by dowers and settlements to the amazing sum—according to a patient gazetteer of statistics—to $1,000,000,000.

What Alliances Have Brought.

In fact, the spending of American revenues in English affairs, matrimonial as permanent American hosts and hostesses. Taking a hundred names of well known Anglo-Americans, it is certain that a sum will be spent by them in entertainments amounting approximately to from three to five million dollars, during the coronation week of the Londoners. The Duke of Devonshire, musician, dressmakers, milliners, provision merchants and tradesmen generally.

Indeed, if some reports of contemplated lavishness that have been received here are true, these figures are not a low estimate. For instance, that Captain and Mrs. Drummond have been making sturdy efforts to secure from the Marshall Field estate such concessions as will allow them to spend $1,000,000 for coronation entertainments.

Mrs. Drexel to Spend Fortunes.

Mrs. Anthony Drexel has returned from America, fortified sufficiently to carry out her plans of surpassing all her previous records of splendid entertainment during this summer. Her house in Grosvenor square is one of the finest in London and Mrs. Drexel is one of the handsomest, best dressed and richest jeweled matrons in London—even among American hostesses.

The Countess of Granard, formerly Miss Beatrice Mills, is also making elaborate plans to take frog rank among coronation hostesses. Mr. and Mrs. Drexel will be assisted by a set of as affectionate and forceful assistants during the greater part of the season and entertainments on a gorgeous scale are planned. By this enterprise, Mrs. Granard's collection of gems, which is on a par with that of any American heiress, has been added to by a set of diamond shoulder straps, which are the last word in personal adornment. But every titled American will make the effort of her life this historic season. The Duchesses of Roxburghe, Marlborough and Newcastle have a large program. The Countess of Essex will entertain for the first time expensively at Bourdon house and even the Countess of Suffolk will leave her beloved country home to join the gay throng.

The Countess of Craven, Lady Ancestre, Lady Newchester and Lady Leitch of Fyvie are among the other titled Americans who will be much "to the fore."

Dorchester house, of course, will be the center of American activity and Mrs. Reid is rather dreading the ordeal of constant entertainments. Mrs. Arthur Graham, Mrs. William Leeds, Mrs. Joseph Stickey, Mrs. Graef, Mrs. Arthur Glasgow, Mrs. Waldorf Astor and Mrs. Henry Coventry are a few others who will be constantly receiving guests. It looks in fact as if no member of the American colony of any note will be absent from London during coronation week and several who have not been here for a long time will resume their roles of prominent hostesses.

Among these are Mrs. John Mackay and Mrs. James Macdonald, wife of the Standard Oil magnate, Mrs. Mackay, owing to bereavements and bad health, has been long absent from London. She is now in New York, but is expected at her house in Carlton house terrace before the first of June. Mrs. Mackay owns one of the imposing residences in London. Its marble staircase is one of the sights of the town. She will probably give two great concerts and several dinner parties.

Mrs. MacDonald, whose husband must

Indian Cache Ranch Model of Irrigation Projects Near Lewiston.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Lewiston, Idaho, May 12.—The Indian Cache ranch near Lewiston, is one of the most thorough irrigation projects in Idaho. It shows the development of land for production, not for speculation.

The tract comprises 450 acres, and at the present time 430 acres are served by the pipe line system. The holdings begin at the river's edge and extend northward to the low lying hills. The bottom lands adjoining the river comprise 230 acres and are devoted to apple culture and gardening while the hill areas are devoted to apples, grapes and gooseberries.

In all there are 225 acres planted to apples, the total number of trees being 15,400. The division of the apple varieties are: Rome Apples, 3000; Jonathans, 3000; Winesap, 4500; Yellow Newtowns, 750; Delicious, 1500; Spitzenbergs, 1600; Winter Bananas, 750.

Planting Hills to Grapes.

In the vineyard 26 acres are devoted to grapes, and the most favorable hill slopes were selected for this planting. At the present time 13,000 grape roots have been planted. An additional 5000 plants will be planted to make the total of 18,000. Gooseberry bushes to the number of 18,000 have been set, the area covered being 15 acres.

The irrigation system installed is most complete, and is the largest in the west where gasoline power is used for pumping the water. The pumping station is located in a concrete and iron building located on the river bank and the water is forced through 12 inch mains to the system of reservoirs for the different elevations. The equipment in the pumping plant consists of two gasoline engines of the Fairbanks-Morse manufacture, one being of 80 horsepower capacity and guaranteed to lift 600 gallons per minute to an elevation of 250 feet, while the other is of 32 horsepower capacity and guaranteed to lift 1100 gallons per minute to the elevation of 60 feet. The reservoirs are of stave construction, mounted upon solid concrete foundations, and with capacity ranging from 75,000 to 125,000 gallons.

Market Gardening.

The cultivation of vegetables for the markets has been made an important feature in the plans of the owners of the project and at the present time 115 acres are devoted to potatoes, cabbage, canteloupe, watermelons, lettuce, sweet potatoes and other vegetables. More than 100,000 cabbage plants have been set during the past few weeks while melons, potatoes and other vegetables are successfully cultivated between the apple trees on the flat district. Comparatively small areas will this season be devoted to tomatoes, celery and other like vegetables as an experiment, but it is expected the cultivation of celery will ultimately become an important feature of the garden operations.

The investment in the lands was taken over was $70,000. The additional amount expended in perfecting the irrigation system, planting and plating the lands and general improvements is not made public.

GETS HUNTING LICENSE TO HUNT CHICKEN THIEF

Hammond, Ind., May 13.—John Bannack, a farmer, who has lost hundreds of chickens by theft, appeared in the office of the clerk of the county court this afternoon and asked for a hunting license.

"Asked why he wanted a license, he declared he wanted to hunt the man who had stolen his fowls. Although told that hunting license did not cover the shooting of chicken thieves, the foreigner insisted on having the document issued.

TO EXAMINE SANITY OF ATTEMPTED ROBBER

August Eckhardt, the machinist who attempted to hold up the East Side bank Monday, was indicted by the grand jury yesterday, but Judge Gantenben of the circuit court allowed an order directing that he be examined as to his sanity. This order was made upon the request of Attorney Charles Schnabel, who said several friends of the man had told of his queer actions lately.

The indictment charges Eckhardt with assaulting Raged Newhall, cashier of the bank, at whom he shot when he entered the bank. Indictments were returned against six other men who are in jail on criminal charges.

Of the 30,000 motor vehicles built in France last year, 22,000 were the product of factories in Paris or its suburbs.

Vienna's new aqueduct will cost $18,000,000 and will supply about 1,300,000 persons with water.
