

HERESY! CHARGES AGAINST CLERICS BEFORE ASSEMBLY

Delegates to Presbyterian Convention to Consider Accusations Affecting Eminent Theologians.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Atlantic City, N. J., May 17.—Nearly all of the 848 delegates to the annual meeting of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church, which opens here tomorrow, have already arrived in town, together with a large number of visitors.

The clergymen against whom the charges of heresy have been made are the Rev. Dr. Francis Brown, president of the Union Theological seminary in New York city, one of the most eminent theologians in America, and the Rev. Dr. William Adams Brown, a professor in the Union seminary.

The charges against these two clergymen are brought by the Rev. Dr. W. L. McEwan, pastor of the Third Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh. Dr. McEwan complains about certain statements made by the two clergymen in recent newspaper articles, written by them, which he construes to be in direct opposition to the most cherished doctrines of the church, as well as the essential and fundamental beliefs of Christian people.

The executive committee of the assembly, a body recently created to carry on the work of Presbyterianism during the year, met today to put the finishing touches to the reports and recommendations to be presented to the assembly. The leading recommendations affect the various boards of the church, grouping them in four classes, and providing that the trustees or directors of one board may serve on any other in the same classification. The plans, it is said, call for some radical changes in the present system of management, and the fear is openly expressed that the commission's recommendation will meet with vigorous opposition in the assembly.

NEW LAND LAWS WILL BE

report to the nearest-store and see to it that the wants are supplied. In most cases it has been found the settler is of the kind of man that will pay as soon as he gets some returns from the soil.

The Saskatchewan and Alberta districts are what propositions, and it is possible to raise a fair crop the first year, with a fine crop the second, but it is strictly a wheat country, and life becomes monotonous on the big prairies. The climate is disagreeable, and I don't see how anyone can live in there to live when much better propositions are to be had in the states.

"But the trouble is that the people do not know what is to be had on this side of the line. Therefore this country needs a better land law policy. If the United States would acquaint the people with conditions and the opportunities in the great northwest the drift of the homesteaders would soon be turned westward instead of to the north."

O. & S. E. 1909 WRECK STILL BREEDS SUITS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Eugene, Or., May 17.—Two personal injury damage suits have been filed in the state circuit court here during the past two days, one entitled L. Haney vs. the Oregon & Southeastern Railway company, to recover $10,000 damages alleged incurred when the company's bridge broke down, precipitating a train to the bottom of a gulch and injuring him, and the other is Theodoros Vergelas vs. the L. R. Warriss company, to recover $400 damages for injuries received from a blast of giant powder.

Haney's injury was sustained on June 5, 1909, when a bridge on the O. & S. E. railway operating between Cottage Grove and the Bohemia mines broke down, injuring quite a number of men, some of whom have already sued the company.

on the church when he departed. He has never ceased to watch events here and is now endeavoring to raise $1200, even though the conference last year did not return him to this charge.

Rev. Mr. Reid, following his resignation, took up railroad land at Dover, Oregon.

GOING TO CHURCH AT

gallant took the new man aside and whispered to him earnestly. Still he moved right in. This was last fall. Then about Christmas time there was to be an entertainment in the church and a young Sandy woman offered her piano for the program. It was refused by Rev. Mr. Reid. He resigned the last of February.

Three Saloons in Control

In the new church project De Tovrea is receiving hearty support from a considerable element. He has had much experience in the field and it is possible that within a short time there will be a new church erected, where it will be called as pastor.
