DECISION IS BIG FINANCIAL FEATURE

Standard Oil Case Overshadows Everything Else—Big Gains From Low Point.

By Ralph Emerson.
(Publishers' Press Leased Wire.)

New York, May 20.—Of course the decision has been the one big thing in the stock market the past week. The result has been a more active market than has been seen for some time.

Since the close of the stock market last Monday, railroad and industrial shares have advanced from 2 to 6 points with a number of stocks selling on Thursday at the highest price of the year. New high records for the year were made this week by Westinghouse, Amalgamated Copper, General Electric, Union Pacific and Atchison.

Compared with the lowest prices for the year, most of which were made in February, at this week's high levels, International Harvester shows a gain of 18¾ points; General Electric 16¾, Union Pacific 15, Atchison 13, Northern Pacific 12, Steel, Reading and Westinghouse 10 points and Pennsylvania 3. Pennsylvania was the only stock to make its low record for the year on last Monday.

A wholly impartial witness of the public's reception of last Monday's news—the familiar "Man from Mars," for instance—would have found some difficulty in piecing together his impressions. If acquainted with the older traditions of our race he would possibly have assumed that the Standard Oil decision has been placed as a burnt offering on the public altar and that every one thereafter believed that angry god to be appeased.

Something of the perplexity of the Man from Mars has been reflected in the week's casual comment on the markets after the decision. Not so with the stock exchange. The value of a catching phrase was never more convincingly demonstrated than by this week's immediate popularity of the explanation that the court has written "reasonableness" in the anti-trust law.

Now Wall street is not free from a certain amiable weakness of human nature which consists in saying things which it does not exactly understand and saying them with great confidence because it believes no one will ask what they mean. There is etiquette in matters of this sort, which excludes as bad form the insistence, in the midst of a friendly conversation, a clear explanation of such mysterious phrases.

There are those who assert with great indefiniteness that the opinion by using such phrases as "determined by the light of reason" and "right to contract, when not unduly or improperly exercised," has somehow or other reversed all previous decisions. But there are others who believe that these declarations place in simple language what had been previously intimated in the supreme court's judgment under the act of 1890, and with great indefiniteness in such enunciations as Justice Brewer's Northern Securities opinion of 1904, the circuit court's decision of 1909 against th Standard Oil company and Attorney General Wickersham's brief in the tobacco case.

One striking fact in connection with the decision and its effect on the market is the faculty of Wall street to antagonize and to discount and grant events. But lookin- back at the position of a week ago, the wonderful thing is that the stock exchange prices, while all was still in doubt, should have held so resolutely at a level which was little below the very top of the year.

Woodlawn Lodge No. 171, I. O. O. F. Wins Staples Cup in Contest

Lodge No. 171, and winners of the Staples Cup. Top row (left to right)—Kelt, Lawrence, Hamilton, Young and Keller. Second row from top—Ambrose, Litcher, Guiles, Galbraith, Stilwell, Roberts, Cattanach and Davis. Third row—Van Hovenlinger, Haynes, Circle, Robinson (captain), Cason, Shoemaker and McGillivray. Fourth row—Weed, Renne, Greene, White, Robertson, Friese, Funderburk. Fifth row—Paisley, Myers, McIntosh. The two reclining are J. S. Hyatt and H. Getty.

At an impressive and interesting contest for the Staples cup between the degree teams of Woodlawn Lodge No. 171 and Orient Lodge No. 17 Woodlawn won the championship of the Oddfellow world. The contest took place last Tuesday night at the Masonic temple, West Park and Yamhill streets. There were about 1500 Oddfellows present. Many of them were delegates to the Grand Lodge of Oregon which was in session here for three days last week.

This beautiful silver loving cup was given by Isaac F. Staples, the jeweler, as a trophy to be contested for by the first degree team of any lodge of Odd-Fellows. This cup was first won by the first degree team of Hassalo lodge No. 15 of this city during the meeting of the Sovereign Grand Lodge at the A. Y. P. exposition, Seattle, September 21, 1909.

The next contestant for the cup was the degree team of the Orient Lodge No. 17 of this city March 4, 1911, at the Masonic Temple.

After this contest was over and before the judges had announced their decision Charles A. Robinson, degree master of the Woodlawn team, challenged the winning team for a like contest. The judges then announced that Orient had won. A few days later Orient accepted the challenge of Woodlawn. Brother Robinson then got busy with his team of 28 picked men from Woodlawn Lodge No. 171 and drilling began in earnest. While taking the leading part in this old and beautiful drama Robinson also acted as drill-master, working early and late to drill his team and bring it to the perfection necessary to win in a contest with the Champions of the World and holders of the cup. The team, appreciating his efforts, took an equal interest in perfecting themselves for the occasion, worked hard and stuck to it manfully up to the night of the contest.

Intentive Furnished.

Championship in a contest of this kind means more than the winning of a silver cup. The purpose of these contests is to furnish an incentive to train the teams.

The Woodlawn team will rest during the summer after which they will defend the cup against all comers.

The following are the names of the members of the winning team: Charles A. Robinson, H. A. Circle, W. O. White, G. H. Friese, Robert Renne, F. E Wood, E E Robertson, F J. Lawrence, G. H. Hamilton, J. S. Hyatt, Fred Keller, Charles Cason, Arthur Roberts, William Guiles, T. Bennett Galbraith, W. G. Stillwell, William Cattanach, E. E. Litcher, S. S. Shoemaker, H. N. Haynes, W. L. Greene, C. A. Ambrose, V. K. Paisley, L M. Myers, A. E. McGillivray, W. W. McIntosh, H. Van Hovenlinger, J. G. Funderburk, William C. Kelt and H. E. Davis.

I have in my possession a prescription for nervous debility, lack of vigor, weakened manhood, failing memory and lame back, brought on by excesses, unnatural drains, or the follies of youth, that has cured so many worn and nervous men right in their own homes—without any additional help or medicine—that I think every man who wishes to regain his manly power and virility, quickly and quietly, should have a copy. So I have determined to send a copy of the prescription free of charge, in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope, to any man who will write me for it.

This prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of men and I am convinced it is the surest-acting combination for the cure of deficient manhood and vigor failure ever put together.

I think I owe it to my fellow men to send them a copy in confidence so that any man anywhere who is weak and discouraged with repeated failures may stop drugging himself with harmful patent medicines, secure what I believe is the quickest-acting restorative, upbuilding, SPOT-TOUCHING remedy ever devised and so cure himself at home quietly and quickly. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. E. Robinson, 3885 Luck Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send you a copy of this splendid recipe in a plain ordinary envelope free of charge.
