Shinn's triple and a wild pitch gave Sacramento her first score in the opening inning.
Murray's triple and Chadbourne's sacrifice fly gave Portland a tied score in the third. Ryan doubled in the eighth and Rapps brought him home with a single to right. Rapps was able to score on Sheehan's drive into left field. Sacramento scored in the eighth when Heister was safe on Peck's foorle. He stole second. Shinn's single put him on third and O'Rourke's drive brought him heme. But Koestner tightened up and the game was closed.

The game was poorly played and it was excellently played in spots. It saw the downfall of the "17-year-old phenom," the "$5000 Boston beauty," young Paul Strand of Prairie City, Wash., who has been so highly touted. Strand went along very nicely until the fifth inning. when with two men out, the Nicks fell on him for four clean hits including a chased in favor of Southpaw Kraft, who was jerked after one hit, when Willis went in and finally brought the Indians out of the hole, though not before Portland had assumed a 9 to 8 lead in the sixth inning.

Nicks Use Three Gunners.

Portland likewise used three hurlers, ut Garrett, who relieved Lamline, when Miller batted for him in the fifth was found for eleven bingles of varying degree and gave the visitors seven runs, which were enough to win,

Archer started the pitching for Portthe second inning and left Lamline a runs had been presented. Before Lammy could get them out five more had crossed the plate and the crowd sat back and began to wonder what it was

In the fifth inning, however, with two out, Casey walked and Stovall singled. Then Williams ripped off a screeching two-sacker to left that scored the pair ahead of him. This was followed by Mensor's two-bagger that chased Williams over, and Speas was safe on Netzel's error. Ort's two-bagger into left brought Mensor home, and that saw the end of Strand. Kraft was put in and put Ort on third.

Willis Goes to Mound. Willis then went in and when Hasty tried to catch Ort at third, the latter That, counting two runs made in the fourth on errors, tied up the score and Portland forged one shead in a manner that set the fans daffy when Stovall was safe at second on Netzel's error, pulled a stolen base, took third on a passed ball and scored on William's single.

Garrett who had relieved Lamline in the sixth was touched up for seven runs in the next three innings on 10 hits; which included two doubles and a triple

> Henkle Leaves to Join Seattle. Eugene, Or., May 22. - Ferdinand Henkle, the University of Oregon boy who made good on the Seattle team of the Northwestern league last year left today for Seattle to join Dugdale's team and will finish the season with the fat manager. Henkle was waiting for the close of the university, but he lacks the credits to graduate thought he had just as well quit his studies now, as Dugdale has been urging him to report early

Huggins, McConnell, Miller, Fiser and SAND HLL HOMESTEAD

Marshfield, Or., May 22-Two imortant decisions affecting local people have been handed down from the Speas government land office. They involve Ort homestend claims in the district known as the sand hills, along the coast near Coos bay. C. E. Nicholson, who has been homesteading on the sand hills, has been fighting a contest brought by the forestry department. The decision handed down is against Nicholson, on the ground that he had not properly established a home on the place. In the case of R. C. Cordes, a homesteader in the same locality, a partial decision was given. Part of his homestead is located on the Siuslaw national forest and on this portion the decision is withheld. On the rest the decision is in his favor. There are a number of others who have homesteads in the same districts and some of these are quite elabfirst sacker, who has signed up with orately improved. Mr. Nicholson built a residence on his place and had expended considerable money in improving it. Dr. William Horsfall Jr., who has a homestead in the same locality, recently was awarded his patent. Fugene, Or., May 22.—An "all star" eam, consisting mostly of players from the Multnomah club team of Portland. defeated the Eugene team here yesterday, shutting the locals out, 10 to 2. The game was a farce, as far as the playing of the Eugene team was concerned. They were unable to hit Morris and errors helped the Portland players to run up a large score.

White Salmon Winner.
