IN SOCIETY

Bridal was the chosen diversion for the friends whom Miss Frances Warren asked to make a few tables on Tuesday. Mrs. Frank M. Warren, Sr., entertained today with a small luncheon, the attractive color scheme of which was pink.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott R. Corbett removed Tuesday into their residence at 243 Park street.

Mrs. Wilson W. Clark's home on the Linnton Road was the scene of a dainty Dresden luncheon and bridge yesterday, complimenting Mrs. I. G. Caldwell, Mrs. Clark's aunt from Fort Leavenworth, Kans. Dresden china graced the table centered with a beautiful basket of field flowers, forget-me-nots, daisies and lilacs of the valley. A box of Dresden ribbon trinkets the handle and place cards of pomadour roses marked the arrangement of guests. Miss Barbara Crocker won the high score at cards. Mrs. Clark's guests were Mrs. George Van Dusen of the Barracks, Mrs. Cornelius Gardner, Mrs. H. C. Wortman, Mrs. Fletcher Linn, Mrs. John Forbis, Mrs. B. M. Dooley, Miss Elizabeth Sears of the Barracks, Miss Isabella Gaud, Miss Elizabeth Sawyers and Miss Barbara Crocker.

Mrs. William MacMaster has planned a bridge on Tuesday in honor of Miss Alloe Hiller of San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Melbert R. Cary, the charming visitors for a week of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Dolph, left Monday for their home in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Thompson asked guests to their Portland Heights home yesterday to enjoy an evening of bridge. Mrs. Adolph Dekum and A. B. Slauson carried off the prizes. The guests numbered Mr. and Mrs. James D. Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Page, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Andrew Rhindler, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Charlton, Mr. and Mrs. Max Hausen, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Clendenning, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Page, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Slauson, Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Linn, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Dekum and Miss Elizabeth P. Sawyers.

Mrs. J. G. Gauld and her niece from San Francisco, Miss Alloe Hiller, are spending the week at Astoria as the guests of Commander and Mrs. J. M. Elliott on the Manzanita.

Mrs. Gordon Voorhes, Mrs. William S. Hilde, Miss E. B. Lewis, Miss Elizabeth Caldwell, Miss Ann Friendlieb, Mrs. Charles F. Swigert and Miss Eva Christie are among the women who are planning to go on camping tours this summer under the guidance of W. Gifford Nash. Reservations for the tours will close June 15 when Mr. Nash starts for the Blue river.

A letter to Portland friends from Paris brings the news that Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Noble with their family, and Miss Dorothy Newhall, will sail June 2 on the Canadian Pacific steamship, "Empress of Britain" for Montreal and Quebec, returning home by the Canadian Pacific route. The party will stop in the Canadian Rockies for a few days and are planning to reach Portland about the middle of June. Their itinerary has taken them through Egypt and over the continent.

Lights delicately shaded, entrancing music, lavish decorations and handsomely gowned women marked the brilliant tea and Norwegian musical given at Mrs. F. W. Groves' beautiful country home at Waverly on links, Thursday, when Mrs. Groves, Mrs. J. Goulson, Mrs. Hare and Mrs. Cora Puffer received over 200 guests. The wealth of palms in the drawing rooms harmonized admirably with the white and gold and pale blue and furnished an enchanting spot for the musicians.

The dining room was in red with red carnations and candelabra with red shaded lights on the table at which Mrs. D. C. Burns, Mrs. Robert French, Mrs. F. M. Parvin and Mrs. T. I. Townsend poured tea and served food. Miss Alice Wehrung, Marie Girlich, Edith Slusher, Fern Hutchinson, Mildred Armstrong, Mary Welch and Lucile Kenworthy, in soft tones of pink, floated about the rooms. In the living rooms were many interesting souvenirs brought from Norway by Mrs. Puffer who but recently returned from a long sojourn through Europe. Miss Elizabeth Johnson in a Norwegian costume, brought from Hammerfest, the most northerly city in the world, announced the guests. Miss Appleby, Miss Ida Shea and Miss Hazel Koontz, in dainty red frocks, attended the punch bowl. Assisting about the rooms were Mrs. James Muckle, Mrs. James Appleby, of Los Angeles, Mrs. C. A. Dolph, Mrs. J. Yates, Mrs. Theodore Falongus and Mrs. Wortman T. Wade.

Mrs. W. E. Hare, guest of honor and a recent bride, received in a gown of white duchess satin with pearl trimmings and carried lilacs of the valley. Mrs. Puffer wore black crepe with pink corals and white roses. Mrs. Hare was in pale blue marquisette over a foundation of blue satin with diamonds. Mrs. Groves wore pink crepe over silk with diamonds and pink rose buds. The beautiful tunes played by Waldemar Lind are too well known to need further praise though they seemed even more effective in his wonderful interpretation of the composition of the famous Norwegian, Ole Bull. Miss Zeta Hollister sang beautifully several Norwegian songs and the Misses Elna Anderson and Mildred Kling in Norwegian costume played guests charmingly.

HERMIT AND ARTIST ARE TO WED ON HIGH

(United Press Leased Wire.) Grand Junction, Colo., May 26.—Miss Beatrice Farman, a Boston artist, and John Otto, hermit of Monument Park, which is to be set aside as "Monolithic National Monument Park" by President Taft, plan to be married on the top of Independence monument. The monument rises at the entrance of the canyon to a height of 550 feet. No one has yet climbed to the summit. For his marriage Otto is building a ladder of iron spikes, driven into the side of the monument. The stairway is about half completed.

Elks' Home Dedicated. Mankato, Minn., May 26.—The handsome new clubhouse of the Mankato Elks was formally dedicated and opened today with an elaborate program of exercises and festivities. The dedication was attended by the grand officers and by many prominent members of the order from Minneapolis, St. Paul and other cities of Minnesota.

THE ETERNAL TRIANGLE

By Darra More.

NEW YORK has been startled with a tragedy of the eternal triangle, acted by two girls and a boy, all under 21. George O'Shaughnessy had a young wife, who is soon to become the mother of his child. Notwithstanding this fact, when the young husband met Miss Tessie Hayes, the cashier in the grocery store in which he was employed as a clerk, he made fervent love to the pretty cashier and asked her to marry him.

One day the two lovers were walking down the street together. A young woman approached them and when directly in front of Tessie Hayes, she stopped.

"Do you know that this man you are with is a married man?" the woman inquired.

"No," exclaimed the frightened Tessie. "My God, no."

"He is my husband," the woman continued. "Did he never tell you about me?"

"No," faltered the girl. "I never heard of you."

Then the wife turned to the husband. "Did you tell this girl you were married?"

"No," replied the man. The woman looked into the eyes of the girl. "I believe that you did not know, and I don't blame you," she said.

The following day as George O'Shaughnessy was on his knees protesting that he could not pray, and would never give up Tessie Hayes, the young wife shot and killed him.

Tessie Hayes is just turned 18. Both her parents died about five years ago, and the girl lives with her grandmother. George O'Shaughnessy was her first sweetheart.

"He came to work in the grocery where I was cashier," said Tessie. "He was good looking, jolly and agreeable, and we fell in love with each other. He asked me to marry him, and I said 'yes.' He never mentioned his wife in any way, and he was just a lad—only 22—why should anyone have thought of his being married? I thought he was just a boy, as I am a girl; that we were two kids together."

Several sermons might be preached from the evidence, but one fact stands out with startling abruptness. When the guardians of young girls of 18 don't take the trouble to find out what sort of people the pretty girls under their care are going with, disaster is bound to result. There's hardly a girl that goes wrong who couldn't have been saved if only those responsible for her had taken the trouble to tell her the nature of man's heart. It is a tragical thing when silly girls and callow youths play recklessly with those little words, "I love you," and no man stands guard. Whose is the fault?

There is too much romance and independence taught the children of today, and too little discipline and common sense.

The authorities have not as yet been able to find any trace of his whereabouts.

Why Society Women Have Pretty Faces

"How often so many of us admire the beautiful complexion of society women and wonder why," writes Mae Maryta, authority on beauty matters, in the Boston Post. "Their good looks and pretty faces are generally the result of the greatest care and precaution in using beautifying preparations."

"The day is passed when powder finds favor with the knowing ones. It has been found to clog up the pores and cause rough, sallow complexions. If instead of powder women generally would use a simple, inexpensive lotion made by dissolving four ounces spumax in one-half pint hot water with two teaspoonfuls glycerine added, the matter of beautiful, charming faces would soon come to be a common thing."

"This lotion clears and beautifies the skin as no other preparation will. It does not show like powder or rub off so easily, and for taking away that shiny, oily, sallow look is unequalled."
