

IN CAMPAIGN FOR HUGE AUDITORIUM

Fifteen Organizations to Give Impetus to Already Great Demand for Public Meeting Place.

Fifteen civic organizations have united to contribute the maximum of vigorous effectiveness to the concluding days of the public auditorium campaign. These are the Commercial club, Civic Council, Civic Improvement league, Realty board, East Side Business Men's club, Rotary club, Ad club and others.

Plans include full publicity, a tall-ho parade for Saturday all day and until 10 p. m. Saturday night, and a public meeting for Sunday night where it has been tentatively arranged that Dr. J. R. Wetherbee, W. C. Bristol and Judge W. D. Fenton shall be the speakers. Dr. Wetherbee has just concluded a remarkable tour of American cities, collecting public auditorium data, and his much popular interest has been expressed in the findings of this tour, the benefits to cities by reasons of their public auditoriums, and Portland's injury through the lack of one, that the public opportunity to bear him has been requested by a number of organizations and individuals.

TURKISH BATH ACT HIT AT ORPHEUM

Scene in Cooling Room Evokes Applause; "That Minstrel Man" Scores.

Five acts with singing of about the same character almost overbalance the new bill at the Orpheum this week. Originality marks "A Night in a Turkish Bath," the headline attraction featuring Robert J. Webb, with avoirdupois enough to make a dozen Master Gabriels and then not miss it, and a toner voice of great sweetness. The scene, the cooling room, was splendidly carried out and evoked laughs and applause. Breezy comedy is generously handed out with a touch of good heart interest. With the singing of Mr. Webb the act is well balanced and thoroughly enjoyable.

Parrel-Taylor company in "That Minstrel Man," put over an act that went big—just "horse play," but it was funny. Old and new jokes, with music make up the offering and score a hit. Belle Adair makes numerous changes of costume and sings some new songs in a manner which wins her applause and several recalls.

J. K. Murry and Clara Lane sing most of their way through a musical comedy skit which is hopelessly uninteresting except for the singing. Mr. Murry has a pleasing baritone and Miss Lane takes care of the high notes with his thirteenth annual tour over the Orpheum circuit in a repertoire of new songs adapted of a little of everything.

Te bill is opened by the Okuras, good foot jugglers, and closed by the Narrows brothers, who give a slap stick bicycle act with very little bicycle.

RIOT OF APPLAUSE

Pantages Theatre Presents Some Highly Attractive Features.

Though the Oberita Sisters are billed as the headliners at the Pantages this week, the audience indicated last night that the poster featuring Lloyd and Gretchen Whitehouse, who make minutes fly by their pleasing nonsense. When Miss Whitehouse essayed the role of an amateur soprano and Lloyd accompanied her on the piano they inspired a riot of applause.

Parade Is Overshadowed.

(United Press Leased Wire.) New York, May 30.—The annual parade of the veterans of the Civil war was overshadowed here today by a parade of work horses and by the Harlem regatta. He declared that his wife's attorney had tried to get $600 from him to stop divorce proceedings instituted by her and that he had been badgered and tormented by lawyers until he was nearly insane.
