IN SOCIETY

Miss Alice Hiller, Miss Isabella Gauld's cousin from San Francisco, was the honor guest at a delightful bridge party for the benefit of the... William MacMaster. Favors were awarded at each table. Mrs. J. M. Elliott with Mrs. J. G. Gauld presided at the tea table.

A gay crowd assembled at the Waverly Golf club yesterday to urge the champions on to victory in the Yale-Harvard baseball game which was captured by the Yale men. Kenneth Fenon captained the winning team and Chester G. Murphy headed the Harvard aggregation. In the afternoon the links were dotted with numbers of players who are devotees of the game. The river was another busy spot yesterday and all sorts of pleasure craft carried parties on excursions or as spectators for the rowing regatta.

Mr. and Mrs. James McI. Wood were hosts at an informal dinner last evening bidding bon voyage to Mrs. J. M. Elliott who leaves tomorrow for San Francisco en route to Honolulu for a summer visit. During her absence, Miss Priscilla Elliott will be the guest of the Woods and a number of delightful informal affairs are on the tapis in her honor. Last week Mrs. Wood gave two informal dinners for Miss Elliott and her young friends.

Miss Helen Watt of Medford is the guest of Miss Helen Whitney. Miss May Walther will arrive Friday from The Dalles to be the guest of Miss Whitney. Miss Watt and Miss Walther are both '10 St. Helen's hall girls and have come to Portland to attend the St. Helen's hall alumni day Saturday.

Miss Edna Burton has come up from Newport and is spending a couple of weeks with her father, George Burton, at the St. Croix apartments.

Mrs. L. L. Patterson left Monday for Culver, Ind., where she will spend at least six weeks visiting her son, Philip Patterson, who is a student at Culver Military academy.

"Are you going to decorate your machine for the automobile parade Wednesday? And if not why not?" are some of the eternal questions perplexing the automobile committees at this moment. Year after year about the same people have entered their motor in the parade and although there is no dearth of societies and organizations having made entries, the number of private machines is not what it should be. In the face of the increased number in Portland since the Rose Festival last year. There are many women driving their own machines and with the alluring silver trophies to be won and the lovely wild flowers, for decorations, making excuses for delightful excursions to the country, there should be machines aplenty. A special cup has been offered to the three high schools, Portland academy and Columbia university for the best machine. The seniors will do the decorating in school colors and the class officers are to ride.

Miss Gladys Selt is expected to return early next week after an absence of nearly two years abroad where she has been studying voice and piano in Berlin. At present she is visiting in Los Angeles.

Mrs. George Mack is home from Roseburg where she visited her brother, Senator Albert Abrams.

Mrs. Charles A. Burckhardt will entertain at bridge on Friday.

Ensign and Mrs. Reuben Robert Smith (Miss Hilda Helen Gumbert) are leaving today for San Francisco where they will sail June 5 for Manila on the transport Buford.

Mrs. Mary Taylor, 548 East Taylor street, announces the engagement of her daughter, Daisy, to Bert W. Heitschmidt, the wedding to take place the latter part of June.

GIRLS, LEARN TO SAY NO

By Mrs. N. Clarmont.
SHE WAS WAITING for a car at 8th and Washington one day last week about 4 p. m., a young, beautiful girl, tall, slender, brown eyes, which fairly danced. Her face was refined and innocent. Evidently she was the hope of fond parents as she carried a violin case.

But with her, Heaven only knows where she picked him up, was a young man. He was carelessly dressed, hands in his pockets, a derby hat cocked on one side of his head and a slouchy overcoat which almost concealed his very bowed legs. His lips were stained from cigarettes and there was a general air about him of the underworld.

He kept his eyes glued upon those of the girl, who, sometimes would draw their daughter, Miss Teresa Blackwood, left Thursday for St. Louis where they will visit relatives, returning to Portland the last of July.

Mrs. Mary E. Moulis of Pendleton came to Portland Friday, to remain for some time in the home of her daughter, Mrs. L. W. White.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Curtis are guests for several days in Rogue River.

POLICE CHIEF ATTACKS HOBBLE AND PEEKABOO

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Los Angeles, May 31.—Adios to the hobble skirt. "23" for the peekaboo waist and to the dump with the harem skirt. Police Commissioner John Topham is peeved at the many complaints received against Broadway oglers and today advised the women's clubs to begin a campaign against the hobble, the harem and the peekaboo, which, he says, invite attention and insult. "Any woman regaling herself in such apparel," said Topham today, "should expect to be greeted with 'whoops, my dear,' or similar salutations. Such apparel has a tendency to make a man feel frolicsome, for he looks upon the wearer in the nature of a freak. The way some women appear on the street is degrading, and if they would give a little more attention to such matters there would be fewer complaints against mashers. I am heartily in favor of a city ordinance making it a misdemeanor for a woman to appear on the streets garbed in either a hobble or harem skirt."

CURIOSITY TOO MUCH FOR POSTMISTRESS

Los Angeles, May 31.—Because she could not control the eternal feminine curiosity and also suffered from a slight attack of jealousy, Miss Katherine Whitmer, for the past 16 months in charge of the money order department of the San Luis postoffice, is involved in serious trouble with the federal authorities. She opened letters which passed through her hands, read the contents, then revealed them for delivery, and today she was brought here under indictment. She gave a bond of $500 for her appearance before Judge Weiborn. Miss Whitmer made no secret of the opening of the letters, doing so before the clerks. "I did it," she said, "and I want to plead guilty, take my medicine and make the best of it. I would not take advantage of any technicalities."

Dear Miss More: I have some friends

If you are not a close friend and wish to merely give a remembrance there are commencement cards designed for the purpose. They are more or less elaborate, according to the price you wish to pay. There are also bon bon receptacles shaped like mortar boards in miniature.
Lincoln's Letters.
From the Sioux City News.
If you happen to have any letters of recommendation from Abraham Lincoln, don't throw 'em away. Miss Susan Dugger kept hers and it saved her place in the treasury department, though she is 70 years old and ill.
An Iceless Ice Box.
The iceless refrigerator has been added to the list of wonderful inventions of the present century. Even in the days of the horseless carriage and of wireless communication, a refrigerator that is iceless, to the popular mind, is something quite beyond comprehension. The invention is that of William W. Dunbar of Phoenix, Ariz. The new iceless refrigerator is the result of the application of a practice followed for years by prospectors and cattlemen in desert regions of Arizona, New Mexico and Colorado. By wetting the thick felt covering of their canteens they were successful in lowering the temperature of the water inside a number of degrees, affording a cool drink even when the thermometer registered over 100 degrees in the shade. The cooling of the water was effected by the rapid evaporation from the felt covering.

Mr. Dunbar spent many years in mining and it was while engaged in this work that the idea came to him of making a refrigerator, the cooling process in which would be that of evaporation. After much experimenting it was found that by the arrangement of proper drafts and the slowest possible movement of water over which the outside air could be carried, a very satisfactory degree of refrigeration could be maintained, equalling in effect that obtained in a standard ice refrigerator, beautifully supplied with ice.

The claim is made that this refrigerator can be used successfully for all purposes where refrigeration is desired. The only requisite is a small amount of water each day.
Getting a Living.
There was a man from our town supported by his wife. But one sad day she passed away—His only prop in life.
And when he saw his wife was gone, He started on the run, With all his might and main to woo And win another one.
—George B. Staff in Woman's Home Companion.
Butter-Scotch.
One cup of sugar—brown, not white— One half of water clear. One teaspoonful of vinegar (In candy—oh, how queer); A piece of butter, walnut size. Add flav'ring to your taste; Now boil some twenty minutes, say. Then take it off with haste. Woman's Home Companion

SEVEN YEARS OF MISERY

All Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
Sikeston, Mo. — "For seven years I suffered everything. I was in bed for four or five days at a time every month, and so weak I could hardly walk. I cramped and had backache and headache, and was so nervous and weak that I dreaded to see anyone or have anyone move in the room. The doctors gave me medicine to ease me at those times, and said that I ought to have an operation. I would not listen to that, and when a friend of my husband told him about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for his wife, I was willing to take it. Now I look the picture of health and feel like it, too. I can do my own housework, hoe my garden, and milk a cow. I can entertain company and enjoy them. I can visit when I choose, and walk as far as any ordinary woman, any day in the month. I wish I could talk to every suffering woman and girl."
—Mrs. DEMA BETHUNE, Sikeston, Mo.
