

AMUR STRIKES ROCK; RUN ASHORE ON SAND

Vancouver, B. C., June 1.—The C. P. R. steamer Amur struck a rock in Wharfedale Narrows yesterday afternoon and floated off again shortly afterward.

being run ashore on a sandy beach at North Flat, according to advices received here last evening. There was no danger to passengers or crew. The report stated that the Princess May was on her way down from Skagway south and that she would arrive at the point where the Amur is beached this evening.

The extent of the damage to the Amur cannot be ascertained. Inquiry at the local offices of the C. P. R. elicited no further information, only a wireless message to the effect that she had grounded being received here. Journal Want Ads bring results.

LINCOLN-DOUGLAS DEBATE

Woodburn, Or., June 1.—Jacob Ogil, a wealthy and prominent citizen of Woodburn, died at his home in this city this morning. He was born at Oxford, Ohio, February 18, 1830, and came to Oregon in 1870, locating east of Salem, then came to Woodburn in 1890. He attended the Lincoln-Douglas debate in 1858. The widow and two sons, Charles L. of Woodburn and Dr. William O. of San Francisco survive him. The funeral will be Saturday morning.

BRYAN SAYS HE WILL REMAIN IN THE RANKS

St. Paul, Minn., June 1.—William J. Bryan will not be a candidate again for president in the coming national campaign. He said so himself today.

Speaking at a banquet tendered him by the Democratic club of the northwest, Bryan said: "I am not a candidate for president. I can be of greater service in the ranks. Besides there is plenty of good material from which to choose presidential timber."
