

PARADE ON RIVER GORGEOUS EVENT

Rex Oregonus Will Be Escorted By Boy Scouts, Cadets and Drum Corps.

Boy Scouts, Hill Military cadets and the Astoria drum corps will escort Rex Oregonus, king of the festival to the city hall where he will receive the key of the city from Mayor Simon after being introduced by President Ralph Hoyt of the Rose Festival association.

The full program of the king's progress on river, and the water carnival following was given yesterday by U. V. Cooper, secretary of the Portland Motor Boat club as follows:

The morning parade will form down the river near the Portland Flouring Mill at 10 o'clock a. m. All boats are requested to be on the ground as near that hour as possible.

On the signal to start being given, the parade will move up through the city, passing through the Steel, Burnside, Morrison and Hawthorne bridges, around a buoy some distance above the Hawthorne bridge, back down the river, around the draw of the Burnside bridge and back up through the Hawthorne bridge and disband in the open space at the river between the Inman-Poulsen Lumber company and the Portland Lumber company.

The steamship "Rose City," belonging to the San Francisco & Portland Steamship Company, will lead the parade immediately followed by the king's barge with His Majesty, Rex Oregonus on board. The king's barge will be followed by the United States Lighthouse tender "Heather" and the Astoria Motor Boat Fleet who will escort Rex Oregonus from the ocean to Portland.

Following the Astoria Motor Boat club floats will come the Portland Motor Boat club and other craft which have entered the parade, led by the Fireboat "Geo. H. Williams" which will be beautifully decorated for the occasion.

The steamship "Rose City" with a large party of invited guests, comprising city officials, governors, etc., and many of the most prominent citizens of Portland, will fall out of line opposite Stark street, far enough over on the east side to permit the parade to countermarch between where she lays and the west shore. This will enable her guests to review the parade.

On the first return from around the buoy above the Hawthorne bridge the king's barge will fall out of line near the "Rose City" trailing His Majesty to also review the parade. The Lighthouse tender "Heather" will then be in the lead.

C. V. Cooper, Marshal. Secretary C. V. Cooper of the Portland Motor Boat club in his handsome runabout "Charmale" will be marshal of the day assisted by Captain J. Speier, harbor master, in the Harbor Patrol boat "Eldor."

The starting signals will be as follows: One (1) bomb shot high in the air five (5) minutes before the start will be a signal to get ready. Two (2) bombs will be the signal for all boats to start. These will be fired by Captain Jacob Speier, harbor master from the deck of the S. S. Rose City.

The parade will move in ample time so that the last boat will pass in final review to enable the king to be landed at Stark street at exactly noon. Captain E. U. Welch of Battery "A" has been requested to fire a royal salute of twenty-one (21) guns in honor of the landing of the king.

His Majesty will arrive at Portland in a royal barge, beautifully decorated with the royal purple colors, accompanied by his heralds and other members of his court, while a large band of musicians will discourse sweet strains over the water.

"Pilot No. 2," owned by James Keating. Racing Program. The day's racing program is as follows: Free-for-all scratch race, for fast boats. 36-foot scratch race. Cruiser handicap. Pleasure boat race, 16-mile speed and over. Pleasure boat race, under 16-mile speed.

The regatta committee of the Portland Motor club state that they have a number of entries and that the races will be quite interesting. The course, as outlined by the committee, is from a point between the Morrison and Burnside bridges up the river, around the buoy above the Hawthorne bridge.

brilliant than the day that preceded it. Splendid pageantry, color and life will feature the gala week. Nature and men have vied in preparation elaborate beyond all precedent to make this year's Rose Festival the greatest event of its kind ever given.

Each incoming train and boat brings its new throng of festival visitors, drawn by the festival call from Florida, from New York, from Canada and from abroad. Few countries will be unrepresented in Portland this week.

Particularly large will be the attendance from Washington, Idaho and Oregon towns. Special trains will run daily from Seattle over the four connecting lines. The Vancouver people will be represented in many of the parades.

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY STUDENTS WILL JOIN IN FESTIVAL PARADE

Columbia University students have announced their intention of making Wednesday of Rose Festival week Columbia University day. They propose to participate in the automobile parade as contestants for the special cup offered by the managers of the Rose Festival for schools and colleges.

Twelve motor boats from Astoria will escort Rex Oregonus. Astoria, June 3.—A fleet of twelve motor boats of the Astoria Motor Boat club left Astoria at 4:15 this afternoon, acting as escort to His Majesty, King Rex Oregonus of the Portland rose festival.

The evening parade will assemble on the north side of the Steel bridge at 7:30 p. m., illuminated as best suits the owners' tastes. A tug with barge has been provided with two competent men to shoot fireworks during the procession.

Leases Quarters in the Selling Building, on Ground Floor, 145 Sixth St., Bet. Alder and Morrison Sts. Formerly Located in the Oregonian Bldg., Just One Block North of Their Present Location

The Columbian Optical Co. has fitted up in their new quarters, 145 Sixth street, selling building, what are positively the handsomest optical parlors on the coast.

Every modern convenience that will assist their skilled opticians in properly diagnosing eye troubles and adjusting the proper glasses has been installed.

The fleet will be entertained with a banquet and dance at Stella Washington, this evening and resume the journey to Portland at 7 o'clock a. m. tomorrow. It is expected that the fleet will arrive in Portland Sunday evening and will form a part of the great water parade Monday.

FORENSIC BATTLE ENDS, READY FOR WAR OF BALLOTS

election we are confident that our ticket has regained in strength that our success, after conducting a campaign without active newspaper support, will be a surprise to those who have so suddenly circled the report that "Thomas had no chance."

The Republican club, officered by M. C. George and C. E. Lockwood, last night distributed a ticket in which no recommendation is made as between Rushlight and Simon or between Clyde and Daggett for the short term as councilman-at-large to succeed Gay Lombard.

South Portland bridge boosters turned loose an automobile with a bugler to sound the call for votes. The police, in their campaign for a pension fund, drew on cars placed in prominent windows.

Democrats closed their campaign last night in a vigorous manner. Eighteen meetings were held in various parts of the city. The speaker declared that the regular nominee is in league with the liquor interests, and calling attention to Rushlight remaining at home when the legislature was in session.

DEMOCRATS CLOSE THEIR CAMPAIGN IN VIGOROUS WAY

Mr. Thomas scored Simon for his late espousal of the commission form of government. Rushlight was also denounced. The speaker declared that the regular nominee is in league with the liquor interests, and calling attention to Rushlight remaining at home when the legislature was in session.

M'Cabe stands opposed to graft evils. A. J. McCabe, Democratic nominee for the city council in the Fourth ward against F. S. Wilhelm, has been prepared to make as vigorous a campaign as he desired because of the pressure of business, which has called him out of town part of the time.

The Columbian Optical Co. also carry optical goods of all description, such as opera glasses, field glasses, etc. A full line of Eastman Kodaks and Kodak supplies have been installed in the last few years, and this branch of the business has grown to big proportions.

The Columbian Optical Co. started business with their first store in Denver in 1893 and today have branches in Omaha, Kansas City, Dallas, Tex., Council Bluffs and this city.

asking his friends to stand by him, and says he would have been glad to make a personal canvass had time permitted. "As it is," he said, "I hope I will be remembered with enough votes to win, upon my standing as a citizen. As I have many times stated, I favor the immediate adoption of the commission form of government, and I have formulated no long platform, for I feel that a man must act on his own best judgment in each case, and those who know me will feel that I mean what I say when I tell them I will stand opposed to graft and for the interests of my constituents, according to the best of my ability."

BELDING'S CIRCULAR TO VOTERS MAY HAVE ILL EFFECT, IS PREDICTED

A circular sent out by Councilman Belding to the Sixth ward, purporting to tell what he has done for the people of South Portland as a member of the council, is causing much comment in the Fulton district, and friends of John Montag, the opposing candidate, predict that it will help to win the election for the latter when the votes are counted Monday night.

Fulton has been hard hit by Belding's favorite improvement— asphalt—and many of the small property owners are discovering that the improvement will be more than the cost of the land. When the cost of the improvement exceeds the assessed valuation the property owners cannot take advantage of the bonding act for deferred payments, and the result often amounts to confiscation.

Montag, who is proprietor of the Portland Stove Works, and served on the executive board of Mayors Lane and Penoyer, is being given strong support in all parts of the ward and party lines have been lost in the shuffle. Belding is regarded by many as a representative of the railroad interests and paying interests in the council, more than a representative of the people of the ward.

Montag is pledged to consult the people of the ward as to the improvements they desire, and to consult them before resolutions that are hard to beat have been put under way. Many of the property owners have been "stuck" for improvements of which they know nothing until it was too late to sign a remonstrance or to make any effective opposition.

VALIDITY IS DOUBTED

The courts left to decide the legality of such action. "I intend to raise the question by mandamus or other appropriate proceeding against the secretary of state. Very able attorneys at Salem have expressed the opinion that the defects in the petition are fatal."

ORDERED TO PAY $25 MONTHLY TO CHILDREN

Found guilty of failing to support his three small children, George Porter was warned yesterday afternoon by County Judge Cleston of the county court to contribute $25 a month or take chances of being sent to the rock pile. Porter claimed he has been unable to find work.

ROAD TO BULL RUN IS NEARLY COMPLETED

A locomotive passed over the big bridge of the Mount Hood Railway & Power company over the Sandy river last Thursday. It was the first locomotive to cross the bridge which was completed a few days ago. With the bridge ready and the steel laid to a point near the power house on Bull Run it will soon be possible to ship in the machinery that is to be installed in the power house. Most of the machinery has already arrived from the east. Steam trains will be operated over the line until the power station is completed, which is hoped will be in the latter part of September. With the completion of the power station the company will be in position to give electric service on the line.
