The Civic Improvement club has taken up another neglected matter. Months line, having a depot near the center of ago a memorial fountain executed in bronze, was installed on the plaza. For some reason no official and public rec- identified with the Oregon Development ognition concerning this gift has ever been made by the city authorities, so the Civic club has taken the initiative and in connection with the carnival features this memorial will be unveiled with brief exercises. This fountain is the gift to the city of the Carter heirs the memory of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Carter.

The attendance will be augmented by the presence of the Order of Railway Conductors, now on its way home from the 33d annual convention recently held at Jacksonville, Fla. Their itinerary brings them through Ashland south by special train. Tuesday morning. June 6, and arrangements are un der way to "hold up" the special here for a brief period in order that the visitors, to the number of a hundred or more, may witness and participate in the round of pleasure.

OREGON GIRL DIVORCED AND REWED SAME DAY

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Reno, Nev., June 5.-Alice A. Mc-Innis, an Oregon girl of well-known family, yesterday stepped from the wit-ness chair, where she had related her story of a husband's neglect and had just been granted the much sought ui-vorce decree, to another official, accompanied by the man she was happy with,
