SECRETARY OF FIGHT CLUB WOULD EXPLAIN. Relative to the rumor that the officers of the disbanded Vancouver prize fight promoting club were engaged in a row over the disposition of the funds remaining in the treasury, and that W. G. Emery, secretary treasurer of the club, had requested to make good an alleged shortage of $1500, Mr. Emery says:

"My books and vouchers have been carefully checked over by the officials of the association, and they are open to inspection of anyone. If any of the officials of the association feel that they have been aggrieved in any way, the courts are free to them for redress. As a matter of fact there is still due me from the association $22, and I will gladly welcome the chance to go into the courts with my books and accounts and contracts with the different fighters, showing amounts due them, to have drawn, as per the articles signed by the association, together with their signed contracts with me as secretary treasurer of the association."
