WIFE SAYS HER HUBBY TALKS OF "MYRA" IN SLEEP; WANTS DIVORCE

That Dr. A. A. Ausplund talked in his sleep of "Myra" is one of the allegations made by his wife, Octavia, in her complaint for a divorce which she filed today in the circuit court. Mrs. Ausplund further states that her husband would frequently call out in his sleep for the woman, and say he wanted her, but would finally say: "But then, you are married."

Dr. Ausplund is the principal stockholder in the Ausplund Drug company at 118 North Sixth street, and his wife sets forth that his income is in the neighborhood of $1000 a month. She says they were married at Oakland, Cal., in 1906. Within one year after the marriage, it is alleged, he began to drink, and now drinks to excess. She also charges him with cruelty and failure to support her as she wishes to be supported. One of the forms of cruelty, it is stated, is the talking in his sleep of "Myra." Other forms of cruelty are by abuse, and associating with other women.

TO TAKE TESTIMONY IN ALASKA COAL CASE

Word has been received in Portland that Judge J. E. Whitten of the law board of the general land office and Special Agent Henrichs of the land office will come to Portland in the near future to take testimony in the cancellation suit of the government against the Alaska Petroleum & Coal company.

Horace Tillard Jones, formerly special agent of the general land office and Louis R. Glavin, former chief of the field division of the general land office, both made investigations into the character of the locations made by the company in the Juneau coal fields, and recommended against the company's claims. They secured affidavits from representatives of the company at the time they made their investigations, and it is to fortify these affidavits that testimony in the case will be taken in Portland.

The Alaska Petroleum & Coal company is largely a Seattle corporation, Thomas S. Lippy, a millionaire and ex-Methodist minister being president, and Clark Davis another Seattle capitalist, being one of several Seattle directors.

It is claimed by the government that stockholders in the corporation filed on coal and oil lands near Juneau for the company. The fact that Judge Whitten, one of the best known men in the general land office is coming to Portland to take this testimony indicates that the government intends pushing its case in an attempt to block the Alaska Petroleum claims from going to patent, though there had been some rumors the fight on the company would be dropped.

FOUR CHILDREN CONTEST LEGACY TO BROTHER

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Hillsboro, Or., June 7.—A petition to set aside the will of the late John M. Simpson has been filed in the county court by attorneys for Hettie A. Johnson, Emma M. Bowby, John M. Simpson Jr. and Bessie Simpson Purvis, sons and daughters. Simpson was a Washington county pioneer. He died May 20, 1910, leaving an estate of more than $25,000. His will gave a life estate to the widow, the entire property with the exception of legacies of $5 each to the contesting heirs to go at her death to Franklin H. Simpson, a son. The petition to set aside alleges undue influence by the latter and incompetence of the testator.

Stillman-Whitney Wedding. San Francisco, June 7.—One of the largest and most fashionable weddings of the season took place in Trinity church today, when Miss Mildred Whitney, daughter of the late Calvin E. Whitney of this city, became the bride of Ernest G. Stillman, son of James Stillman, the eminent New York banker. A large party of guests from New York attended the ceremony.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Astoria, Or., June 7.—Ogden pleaded guilty in the circuit court yesterday afternoon to three indictments charging him with obtaining money under false pretenses by passing bogus checks. He was sentenced to serve an indeterminate sentence of from one to the grand jury yesterday afternoon, as is suspended on the third charge during good behavior. Three indictments were returned by the grand jury yesterday afternoon, as follows: Fred Ferdano, assault with a dangerous weapon by throwing a glass at a bartender and breaking plate glass mirror in a saloon; C. W. Peterson, larceny from a shop by stealing a quantity of tools, and William Grover Smith for taking away a girl under 16 years of age for the purpose of marriage. The defendants are all in the county jail.

Iowa Postmasters in Session. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Waterloo, Iowa, June 7.—Postmasters of the leading cities of Iowa rounded up in force here today for the fifth annual convention of their state association. The president of the association is S. J. Robertson of Fort Dodge and the secretary, Frank Minnocks of Ottumwa. The Sunday closing of postoffices of Ernest G. Stillman, son of James Stillman, one of the chief subjects to be discussed at the meeting. The principal speaker will be P. V. DeGraw, fourth assistant postmaster general. The sessions will continue until Friday.

California Endeavorers. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Santa Ana, Cal., June 7.—A host of enthusiastic young people from every part of the state invaded Santa Ana today for the annual convention of the Christian Endeavor societies of California. The sessions will last over Sunday. The large attendance and the attractive program combine to give promise of one of the most successful conventions ever held by the organization in California.

Wisconsin G. A. R. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Green Bay, Wis., June 7.—Although the annual encampment of the Wisconsin G. A. R. does not begin until tomorrow, the trains brought in the vanguard of the veterans and their friends today, and the large number of early arrivals indicates that the attendance will exceed the expectations of the local committee of arrangements. In honor of the encampment the business streets are profusely decorated with flags and bunting.

NO MUD SLINGING PRACTISED UNDER COMMISSION PLAN

Method Eliminates Politics in Municipal Elections, Says
City Attorney Grant, Anent
System in Spokane.

Mr. Grant, who returned to Portland Saturday night after a tour of northwestern cities, where he investigated the commission plan in effect at Spokane and Tacoma, is even more confirmed in the views that he has always held—that the commission rule is the most economical and efficient form of municipal government.

"I am convinced that the trend of public opinion," said the city attorney, "is unmistakably towards simpler municipal legislative, judicial and executive methods. I have heard that opinion expressed on every hand. But in Spokane, where the people have adopted a most modern commission plan, embracing all the best features of the Galveston and Des Moines systems with many innovations, every body with whom I talked, whether it happened to be the waiter at my restaurant, the barber who shaved me, the street car conductor on whose car I rode to the ball game, the fan with whom I talked at the ball grounds, the merchant, the banker or the contractor whom I met at the Commercial club or the public official whom I met at the city hall—all advised me to warn Portlanders to go slow.

Favorable Comment. "I didn't hear a single unfavorable comment on the Spokane charter, but the general belief in the inland empire metropolis is that the people were fortunate in their choice of the first commission.

"One thing that we do not want in a commission for Portland, in my opinion, is the preferential ballot. It is too cumbersome. Outside of this feature the Spokane charter impressed me most favorably.

"One of the best provisions in the Spokane charter is that which eliminates politics in municipal elections. There are no primaries, but the commission officials are chosen at one election. There is no chance for any throat cutting or mud slinging. If a candidate can't get a first choice vote he asks the electors to give him a second or third choice vote. He does not incur the enmity of the voter by denouncing his opponents, thus losing the chance of their support. The efficacy of the system was shown in the election held at Spokane this year. Only one official was elected on first choice votes. All the rest got into office by second and third choice votes.

"As the result of my tour of inspection the first thing I would counsel is that the committee which is to draft a new charter for this city go about their work without haste and that after it has prepared a charter that this be given the utmost publicity before going to the voters.

Tacoma Acted Hastily. "An example of a charter that was prepared too hastily and which was adopted without sufficient consideration by voters is that of Tacoma. As a result that city has had four recall elections already this year.

"I am surprised that Mayor Simon neglected to include a representative of the city attorney's office on the charter commission that he has appointed. I do not say this because of any personal reason, but it seems to me that the advice of an attorney that has had years of experience with the legal phases of the present charter would have been invaluable on any commission selected to correct the defects in the present charter.

"The mayor's list of charter revisers does not include an engineer, either. This also I consider to be a mistake. One of the members of the commission appointed by Mayor Simon is the head of a corporation against which the city is prosecuting a suit to recover streets that have been occupied by the mill of that corporation for years. I do not believe it was a wise thing to appoint such a man a member of a committee chosen to prepare organic laws for the government of the municipality."

OGDEN PLEADS GUILTY TO PASSING BAD CHECKS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) "Elmore Park"

The Beauty Spot of Oregon's Coast

Was not for sale until last Sunday. Couldn't buy at any price, but lots of people from the Valley knew the place—camped on it every Summer for years—knew it was just what we have told you—a cozy little park, with level and grassy lots, close to the beach, free from cold Summer winds, and the best of fishing and bathing in Clear Lake (on the place). These are the people who know. They are the ones who have bought this past week. As a piece of real beach property it is very pretty, very cozy and very cheap.
