Fireman Injured-Pat Bird, hoseman

at engine company No. 13, and Ralph Marks, Earl Biddle and Toby Smith of engine company No. 3, were injured slightly last night in fighting a fire at Russell and Flint streets that destroyed the Palmer livery stables, causing a loss aggregating about $5000. The blaze started in a machine shop adjoining the stable. Seventeen horses were taken from the flaming barn and led to safety. The building was completely destroyed.

Injured by Falling Lamp-J. W. Lewis and his daughter, Jessie K. Lewis, 224 Monroe street, and Miss Mary C. Clark, 235 Monroe street, were painfully injured last night at Fourth and Morrison streets when an arc light fell, striking Miss Lewis. The flying glass and the glancing lamp struck both the other persons. Patrolman Cason, who was standing near by, took charge of the situation and with the assistance of bystanders helped all into the residence of Richard Gensrowski, 173 Fourth street, a physical director for a local athletic association, who bandaged the wounds of all and assisted them to their homes. The injuries sustained are not serious.

Took Long Joy Ride-Two young men, believed to be members of a prominent Portland Heights family, last night atop an automobile belonging to E. H. Mix of the King Davis apartments, and with it enjoyed an evening of joy riding through the city, pursued by Mix in another automobile and sought for by the police. This morning the car was found at Twenty-fifth and Overton streets, undamaged and with all the robes and other articles belonging to it unmolesated.

Will Hold Inquest-An inquest will be held tomorrow afternoon to determine the cause of the death of W. H. Turner, a member of the street cleaning department, who was instantly killed last night at Belmont and East Thirty-second streets by a Sunnyside car, with Motorman W. C. Beal and Conductor F. Sber, when the car struck the wagon by which Turner was working. The man lived in Northeast Portland, on Thirteenth street, and leaves a widow and three children.

Tired of Life-Fear of becoming blind and unable to care for himself led John Hanson, aged 55 years, an ironworker, to commit suicide yesterday afternoon by swallowing carbolic acid. He was the son of A. E. Hanson, 601 Morgan street. Young Hanson on returning to his home last night found the body of his father lying on the floor of the living room. A note was found by the coroner that explained the reason for the rash act.

O. A. C. STUDENT PRESIDENT

Ernest G. Rice.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Or., June 7.-A Portland boy, Ernest G. Rice, has been elected to lead the student body organization during the next college year as president. This position is considered the highest honor to which a senior can attain. It carries with it positions in many influential organizations. Charles R. Thompson, also of Portland, was chosen editor-in-chief of the O. A. C. Barometer, the official student publication. During the past year Mr. Rice has been president of his class and a member of the student council. Thompson has been connected with the Countryman, an agricultural publication, and the Barometer during the past two years.

The other student body elections are as follows: First vice president, Vane G. Gibson; second vice president, S. W. Richardson; third vice president, Gerald Wilcox; secretary student assembly, Neil Sykes; manager Barometer, A. V. Swarthout; president oratory and debate, A. F. Eschriest; secretary oratory and debate, Fred Weatherford; treasurer oratory and debate, John Coeter; auditor athletic board, J. C. Leedy; alumni member athletic board, Chauncey Harding; yell leader, S. H. Boddington.

"Good Unions" Permitted.

Syracuse, N. Y., June 7.-The national convention of the Railway Mail Clerks' association, in session here, considered today the principle laid down by municipal Assistant Postmaster General Joseph Stewart, in an address before the convention, that the government is not opposed to "good unions" and only objects to organizations which "tend to destroy loyalty to the service." Stewart said the government required that officers of the clerks' organization must be in the service.

Charged With Arson.

Pomona, Cal., June 7.-C. J. Elsassner, a wealthy merchant, is out on $2500 bail today following his arrest on a charge of firing his tea store. Elsassner says he will be able to prove his innocence.

MUSIC AT HOTEL PORTLAND

Outdoor concerts will be given all this week by Herr Waldemar Lind and his famous orchestra. The balcony is being used for this purpose, much to the advantage of the diners. The following program will be rendered this evening: March, "Festival".....Mendelssohn Selection of songs from "The Yankee Girl".....Helm Revere "Voice of the Children".....Leigain Valse Intermezzo, "Songe d'Automne".....Joyce Overture, "Phedra".....Masseenet Son for corset, "Goodbye".....Tosti Fantasia on "Russian Folk Songs".....Ayar Grand selection, "The Girl from the Golden West".....Puccini "Invitation a la Valse".....Von Weber Songs from the "Balkan Prince" Rubens Herr Waldemar Lind, Musical Director. Many complimentary remarks have been paid the management on the gorgeous decorations in the large dining-room and grill. Special preparations have been made to handle the numerous dinner parties during the week, and excellent service is the result.

OPENS CABIN DOOR AND FACES LYNX

Hood River County Track Man, Aided by Iron Rod, Becomes Victor.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Hood River, Or., June 7.-Thomas McFall, who is working for the O. W. R. & N. Co. as trackwalker three miles east of Hood River, had the battle of his life yesterday morning when he returned to his cabin and was confronted by a large lynx that had taken possession while he was absent. The door of the cabin stood a little ajar as Mr. McFall returned and as he opened it the beast began to prepare for a struggle. Mr. McFall at once slammed the door shut and securing an iron rod invaded his cabin to contend with the uninvited guest. After a brief struggle he succeeded in landing a blow on the head of the lynx that brought instant death. Mr. McFall brought the pelt of the animal to Hood River last night, where it became the center of attraction to a large crowd that had gathered on the street square to listen to the story of the gray haired victor.

Joke Is on Many Candidates. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Hood River, Or., June 6.-The ardent politicians who have been grooming candidates for postmaster of Hood River are doomed by disappointment. William Yates, the present postmaster, who resigned several months ago and who it was thought would be succeeded at once by another appointee, has received notice to be present at a meeting at Astoria in the near future to study the postal savings system and has also been notified to secure a new bond, which indicates that he will be retained in office.
