SHANNON RESIGNS TO JOIN STEVENS

President Gray's Assistant to Take Up Work With Former Employer.

F. P. Shannon, assistant to President C. R. Gray of the North Bank and the Hill lines in Oregon, submitted his resignation yesterday to become effective July 1st. Mr. Shannon plans to leave for Chicago and the east June 15. No successor will be appointed to the position now that the construction of the Oregon trunk line is practically completed.

Mr. Shannon came to Oregon with John F. Stevens, who was succeeded as president of the Hill lines by President Gray a few months ago, and he was probably joined by Mr. Stevens in the near future. He was Mr. Stevens' right hand man when Mr. Stevens had charge of the construction of the Panama canal and prior to that time had been his confidential secretary for some time.

"Mr. Stevens has not told me what he is going to do," said Mr. Shannon this morning, "but I hope to join him soon. I am going to take a vacation first, however, and will spend a few weeks in Chicago and the east."

The inference is, however, that Mr. Shannon has already received an invitation from Mr. Stevens to take up new work, the character of which Mr. Stevens does not yet feel ready to announce to the public.

Mr. Shannon has a large circle of friends here who regret to hear of his resignation and planned departure.

TO INVESTIGATE CENSUS TAKING METHODS HERE

A United States grand jury will be called early next month for the purpose principally of inquiring into alleged census frauds in Portland during the taking of the 1910 national census. Special Assistant to the Attorney General Newton arrived in Portland yesterday and will begin at once an examination of the methods employed by census enumerators and of what are alleged to be fraudulent returns of names.

Not only were names written in at certain addresses, where no one lived, it is said, but in many instances the enumerators paid three cents a name by the government to collect census statistics did not visit entire districts. Complaints were many at the time of the taking of the census that the government enumerators failed to take many names and this feature of the matter will be gone into as well as the allegation that fictitious names were inserted.

Empress Visits Shrine.

Victoria, B. C., June 8.—When the steamer Kamakura Maru left Yokohama on May 24, the empress of Japan was visiting the Ise shrines, where the Imperial mausoleum is situated, and great interest was being taken in the trip, as she is the second empress in the history of Japan to visit the shrine. The mausoleum has been visited from time to time by Imperial nobles and distinguished persons, but very seldom by noble ladies. The shrine was visited by the Empress Jito 1200 years ago, and since then has never been visited by consorts of the mikado.

STORY OF OLD DEBT HARD TO REMEMBER

Wappenstein Falters on Dates; Repayments Years Late in Beginning.

Seattle, Wash., June 8.—Arguments in the Wappenstein trial began shortly after 11 o'clock this morning. It was agreed that each side was to have two and one-half hours to present the case. The jury will probably retire for its deliberation this evening. George H. Rummens, special prosecutor, began the arguments for the state.

Wappenstein showed marked lapse of memory in fixing dates that are material to the case. He had accounted for the heavy deposits in his bank during his incumbency in office by a repayment of a $5000 debt to him by his brother-in-law, Ed Benn, of Aberdeen. On cross-examination, however, he could not fix the date when the loan was made to Benn within three years. Benn had testified that it was in 1900. Wappenstein faltered in his testimony and thought it might have been in 1897. The repayments, however, did not commence until April, 1910.

JURY ACQUITS BLOM OF LIBEL CHARGE

Tacoma, Wash., June 8.—After a stormy all night session, the jury in the case of Carl Blom, charged with criminally libeling Dirk Blauw, Norwegian consul general here, returned a verdict today finding Blom not guilty.

The libel suit was an outgrowth of the somewhat mysterious death of Captain Torvald Blom, a well known coastwise mariner, who was found lying face down in the water near the mouth of the Columbia river, after an investigation by the police it was declared to be a case of suicide. Carl Blom, brother of the dead man, however, maintained that murder had been done and publicly circulated reports connecting the Norwegian consul with the alleged crime.

PORTLAND AND STATE TO OBSERVE FLAG DAY WEDNESDAY, JUNE 14

Next Wednesday, June 14, is "Flag Day," and all public buildings and the schools of Portland and the state will observe the day in a fitting manner. The American Flag association has issued the following appeal: "We respectfully appeal to the president of the United States of America, to the governors of all the states of our land, and to the mayors of each American city, to herald the coming and celebration of Flag Day, June 14, 1911, by proclamation. We call upon every public officer, every teacher of the youth of our country, the editors of all newspapers, the daily instructors of the youth of our land, to call public attention to the significance of the day, to arouse enthusiasm and to provide for public exercises and general celebration of the day. We earnestly exhort our citizens to join in making Flag Day an event, and its celebration in 1911 a great event. Let us, from one end of our land to the other, fling the stars and stripes to the breeze on June 14, 1911. May it greet the rising and salute the setting sun, and float all day long from every church edifice, school and building, public and private and however humble, through the entire land."

OLCOO-DUNWAY EXCHANGE GOES ON

State Can't Bear Expense of Latter's Moving, Secretary Writes Him.

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.) Salem, Or., June 8.—That the state will not stand the expense of moving the state printer's plant from the state house and that office room only will be allowed the state printer in the capitol building was made clear in a letter addressed to W. S. Dunway by Secretary of State Ben W. Olcott today. In reply to a letter from the state printer, Secretary Olcott said:

"There is no appropriation available from which any expense of moving the state printer's office could be paid and I advise that upon reflection you will conclude that such expense would not be in any event a legitimate charge against the state of Oregon. The printing plant always has been and is now private property and its occupancy of the capitol building has been only a courtesy extended to the state printer. Until the space now occupied by your offices and your plant is vacated and placed at my disposal and reassignments made therein to relieve the congestion now obtaining, thereby allowing for rearrangement of the space in the building, I am naturally unable definitely to state what offices could be assigned to the state printer for office use only, but every effort will be made to afford such office room as will comport with all reasonable requirements of the state printer and as may be permitted upon rearrangement of space when the other departments of state are housed and readjusted. You will, of course, please understand that present conditions prevent me from rearranging of space which would accommodate the equipment of the printing plant which you operate as state printer."

Pendleton, Or., June 8.—Sheepmen of Oregon received welcome news yesterday in a letter from Secretary S. W. McClure of the National Woolgrowers' association to Dan P. Smythe, secretary of the Oregon Woolgrowers' association. In this letter Secretary McClure, who has been in Washington since congress opened, gives positive assurance that no legislation affecting the wool market will be enacted during this session, and he advises all wool-growers not to sacrifice their clips, but to hold them for higher prices, which he feels sure will prevail before the season is over.

PENDLETON MAY GET MEACHAM SAWMILL

Pendleton, Or., June 8.—The Pendleton Commercial club is working to add a sawmill to the various industries of this city. To that end several conferences have been held with C. W. Nibley, representative of the mill at Meacham, who has announced his intention of moving the mill to a heavier timber region. Mr. Nibley declares that if a railroad could be built to the timber belt this city would make an ideal location for a mill, and he has promised to present the proposition to his father, who is president of the company.

Firemen Do Good Work.

Pendleton, Or., June 8.—What might have been a disastrous fire was prevented yesterday afternoon only by the heroic work of the Pendleton volunteer fire department. The building of the Pendleton Dye Works, which is located in the midst of a number of wooden structures, took fire from an explosion and flames were soon shooting high. Notwithstanding the fact that there were several full tanks of gasoline in the room, the volunteers fought the blaze valiantly and succeeded in subduing it without any great damage except to the one building.

Bakersfield, Cal., June 8.—The Southern Pacific Railroad Co. is reported here today may be enjoined by the United States government from moving oil from lands, the titles to which the government is now attacking. LOVER IS ACCUSED; HELPED BURY BODY

Virginia Woman Clears Up Murder of Davis, Killed With an Ax.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Norfolk, Va., June 8.—Confessing that she had helped bury the body of Harry Davis in an onion bed in the yard at her home at Mason Creek, Mrs. Minnie Murdock cleared up the mystery surrounding the finding of his body and accused her lover, Charles Merkle, of having killed him.

In her confession to the police today Mrs. Murdock said that Merkle climbed through a window of her home, and fitting her head with an ax. She declared that she and Merkle were panic-stricken and hid the body under the bed until morning. Then, she said, they dragged it out and buried it in the onion patch.

Merkle and Mrs. Murdock are held for murder. "Davis, who was also known as Harding, was a friend of mine for years," Mrs. Murdock told the police. "Three months ago we quarreled and he left. Charles Merkle and I went together after that. We could not agree and I ordered him away. Then Davis returned. Recently Merkle told me 'if I did not drive Davis away he would kill both of us.' A few nights ago Harry and I were sleeping when a sudden noise awakened me. I was horrified to find that my pillow and my body were covered with blood. I turned and there beside me I saw Harry's head crushed in. Beside him stood Merkle with a bloody axe in his hands. I screamed and Merkle with lifted ax threatened to kill me if I did not keep quiet. I don't think Harry was dead when we put him under the bed. Then we sat down and waited.

"In the morning we scooped out a hole in the onion bed and buried the body."

GRIFFITH MURDER REWARD IS $2000

Sheriff Says His Office and District Attorney Are Working Together.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Corvallis, Or., June 8.—The Benton county court has offered $1000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the murderer or murderers of Mrs. Elizabeth Griffith, who was murdered Friday night and thrown into Rock creek near Philomath.

By telephone, Governor West duplicated the reward. Owing to the fact that many people crowded into the house and over the course from the house to the spot where the body was found, bloodhounds could not be used and the county officials were unable to track the murderers.

There is no conflict between county officers and the district attorney and the officials have not been censured locally.

Sheriff Gelatly stated this noon: "There is no conflict between District Attorney Clark and this office. We are working hand in hand to run down the murderers."

"OLD GLORY" ON STAGES STIRS CANADIANS' WRATH

(United Press Leased Wire.) Winnipeg, Man., June 8.—So ostentatious has the display of the stars and stripes become in the theatres of Winnipeg that the city council issued orders today to theatrical managers to avoid in future unnecessary use of the American flag on the stage and to discontinue the custom of relegating the union jack into an inconspicuous place. Many audiences have this month, coronation month, been irritated by the apparent thoughtlessness of managers in this respect.
