

WISCONSIN SENATE ACCUSES SENATOR

Upper House Adopts Resolution Charging Stephenson Bought Seat in Congress.

(United Press Special Wire.)
Madison, Wis., June 8.—In a resolution adopted yesterday the Wisconsin senate charges that United States Senator Isaac Stephenson, of this state, bought his seat in the senate. The resolution asks the United States senate to investigate his election.

Senator Hastings made a long speech on the floor. He was a member of the senate committee that investigated Stephenson's election. He said it appeared as if the senate was guilty of bribery and violations of the corrupt practices law.

The resolution was adopted with only mild protest from Stephenson's friends.

HUMAN ROSEBUDS PARADE

Human Rosebuds, the happy children of the schools that with fantastic formations will fascinate Rose Festival visitors on Grand avenue at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Probably 6000 members of fraternal and military organizations will participate in tonight's glowing pageant. They will form at East Clay, below

Hawthorne avenue, and march north on Grand avenue to Holladay avenue, where, counter marching on Grand avenue, they will return to Hawthorne avenue.

Eight bands will furnish a wealth of music. Grand avenue, most fitting parade thoroughfare in Portland, has been hung with flags and bunting, with streamers and evergreen.

Prizes Offered.
Eight prizes have been offered. Five will be given to fraternal organizations competing in the parade. A silver cup will be given to the best appearing company of Spanish war veterans. Another has been provided for the best drilled company of the Oregon National Guard, and a third for the company of regular soldiers making the best appearance.

The avenue will be made to blaze with light made by electric illumination and flaming torches.

A company of Spanish War veterans will lead the pageant, bearing a snake gorged with green and gold, in length 50 feet, the "sign of the snake." Another company of veterans will lead two score dogs, in keeping with their mystic rites.

Companies of regular soldiers, well drilled, and companies of the Oregon National Guard will be interspersed with the bands. From the fraternal organizations there have been entered Knights and Ladies of Security, 400; Woodmen of the World, 2500; Moose, 2000; Knights of the Rose, 400; Italian society, 200; Modern Brotherhood of America, 400; Maccabees, 300; Modern Woodmen, 400; Brotherhood of American Yeomen, 200; Royal Neighbors, 150; Red Men, 500; United Artisans, 300.

In full war paint, the Red Men will hold their war dance in the space comprehended by East Seventh and Eighth and East Alder and East Morrison. Before the reviewing stands—one on Grand avenue near Hawthorne, the other at East Ankeny and Grand—there will be brilliant drills by soldiers, guardsmen and fraternal organizations.

No feature of the Rose Festival will excel in beauty the Human Rosebud parade and drills on Grand avenue tomorrow afternoon. More than 4500 school children, prettily costumed, will participate. The Maypole dance, the wreath and garland drill, and a dozen other formations, the result of three months drilling by Professor Robert Krohn and Miss Georgia Wey, will be given on Grand avenue and before the reviewing stands.

Brooklyn school will furnish 225 children, 80 of them in costume. From other east side schools, except two, will come similar numbers. These will be represented, Lewis, Arista, Creation, Woodstock, Sellwood, Llewellyn, Brooklyn, Clinton-Kelly, Mount Tabor, Glenwood, South Mount Tabor, Richmond, Holladay, Sunnyside, Buckman, Kerns, Montavilla, Rose City Park, Woodlawn, Vernon, Oakley Green, Portsmouth, Peninsula, Shaver, Stephens, Hawthorne, Brooklyn.

Larger Than Ever.
Last year the Rosebud parade was one of the most charming events of the festival. With 2000 more children participating this year than last, with more delightful and intricate formations, with brighter costumes, its production tomorrow will be of happier cast than ever before. Prizes are to be given to the school having the largest number present, the largest percentage, and the most attractive formation. The competition for these prizes is very keen.

One Suicide Leads to Another.

(United Press Special Wire.)
Chicago, June 8.—Preferring to die rather than live without his best friend who committed suicide, Clement Miller went into the attic of his home and hanged himself to the rafters. His friend, Karl Stiner, living in the same house, had taken carbolic acid only half an hour before.

MARYS OF EMPIRE GIVE QUEEN MARY PRESENT

(United Press Special Wire.)
London, June 8.—Not to be outdone in popularity by her royal consort, who has been presented with a splendid coronation gift by the "Georgians of the Empire," Queen Mary today has a check for $60,000, the coronation ragnambrance of the "Marys." Her majesty received at Buckingham palace a committee representing the Marys of the empire, who presented the queen with their coronation gift.

Although a quarter of a million visitors, it is estimated, are already here for the coronation, merchants and hotel men express disappointment at the absence of expected rush of Americans.

Temporary gates for the control of the crowds on the procession days, are being erected in all streets through which the parades will pass. These will be closed by the police when the route is comfortably lined with spectators.
