Repeat magic electric parade.

Millions of roses, riotously flung broadcast by 100 beautiful girls, carpeted the street and filled the air with perfume over a 10 mile course this morning. It was the beautiful contribution of peninsula people to the success of the Rose Festival, and an event without a possible parallel in the United States. Four carloads of roses were given and thrown away. There was a bouquet for each of the thousands that thronged the line of parade. Perfect blooms that would have excited the envy of eastern florists and command— (Continued on Page Seventeen.)

SANTA FE LIMITED CRASHES INTO TIE TRAIN; SIX DEAD

Fast California Flyer Comes Into Collision With Freight Train; Among Dead Are Engineer and Fireman.

(Salem Press Leased Wire.) Albuquerque, N. M., June 9.—The passenger train No. 3, known as the California limited, came into collision with a tie train near Domingo, 30 miles north of here, at 10:45 this morning. Six persons are reported dead and a large number injured. Among the known dead are A. W. Green, engineer, and the fireman of the limited. A mistake in orders is said to have been responsible for the wreck. A relief train of nine cars, carrying surgeons and hospital supplies, has left for the scene of the wreck.

OVERHEARING CIRCUS MAN'S LAMENT, GOVERNOR PAROLES FORMER EMPLOYEE

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.) Salem, Or., June 9.—Private jubilees after public performances are common among circus people but few crews have ever had more genuine occasion for a "blowout" than that given the Sells-Floto followers by Governor West in this city last evening. When the circus pulled into Salem visible gloom overpread the countenances of clowning riders and acrobats alike. Inquiry revealed the cause of the sadness to be a comrade serving time in the penitentiary. After a visit to the penitentiary the employees were talking in depressed groups in the big tent when the governor came along and overheard what was being said. The manager of the circus said: "I'd like to have John selling tickets today. He's the best man I ever had." Governor West stepped up and said: "You would give him work, would you?" The manager fairly jumped at the suggestion. Warden Curtis was communicated with and declared John Langford an ideal prisoner. The governor ordered him brought to the circus and there paroled him. Heartfelt jubilee among the crew followed. Langford was sent up on circumstances that evidenced in connection with a man's loss of cash while drunk.

VEHICLE PARADE DECLARED TO BE THE MOST ARTISTIC FEATURE IN THE GALAXY OF FESTIVAL ATTRACTIONS

HUMAN ROSEBUDS, RAREST FLOWERS, IN GRAND ARRAY

More Than 4500 Children to Parade on East Side Streets Today; Wonderful Sight to Be Seen.

Human Rosebud Parade. 4 1/2 m.—Grand avenue. Form on Holladay and Grand avenue; march on Grand avenue south to Hawthorne. Maypole dance, garland and wreath drills and other formations in uniform and flower costumes before the reviewing stands at Hawthorne and Grand and East Ankeny and Grand. Three prizes are offered for the school having the largest percentage of representation, and for the school making the best appearance. Forty-five hundred children from nearly 30 schools will participate.

RESPLENDENT HORSE AND VEHICLE PARADE HAILED AS ACME OF BEAUTY

- The real test of the success of the Rose Festival—the horse and vehicle parade—passed off yesterday afternoon with flying colors and established a new standard for beauty that other festivals will have to strive long and hard to surpass. From every viewpoint, both in the quantity of roses and other flowers used, the artistic manner in which the horses and carriages were decorated and in the general appearance of the parade, that of yesterday afternoon was probably the most beautiful of all the week's pageants. It isn't so easy to get a sufficient number of handsome horses and carriages to make a notable parade as it was five years ago—the automobiles are crowding the horses out—but there are many who will always prefer looking at the action and life of a parade of men and horses to the mechanical swiftness of an automobile or electric procession and the enthusiasm of the crowds that thronged the streets yesterday afternoon showed that public favor is still with the horses when it comes to the making of a spectacle. Prize Winners. Following are the prize winners in horse and vehicle parade: First—Woodlawn's float. Second—Fraternal Brotherhood, Portland lodge No. 209. Honorable Mention—Seattle Golden Potlatch '97. Special Mention—Japanese society of Oregon. Tallyhoes. First—Kramer's Riding school. Horse and Buggy. First—Mrs. M. Kugler, No. 37. Second—Mrs. A. C. Lohmire, No. 58. Horse and Cart. First—O. J. Brown, No. 128. Second—C. W. Dike, No. 155. Pony and Cart. First—Alice and Marion Bowman, No. 90. Second—C. S. Crook, No. 89. Horses and Traps. First—Miss Frances Sheey. Second—Mrs. O. P. M. Jamison. Saddle Horses. First—Miss Lulu Hatfield. Second—Miss Esther Poulsen. English Riding Cart. First—Harry Ladd Corbett. Buggy and Team. First—L. C. McCormick. Fire Companies. First—Engine company No. 13. Second—Engine company No. 5. The Oregon Agricultural college cadets, always one of the star features of the Rose Festival, headed the parade yesterday afternoon and, as always, were cheered to the limit from first to last. They marched and drilled to what seemed perfection. Wearing fresh khaki uniforms, with just enough orange braids to display the college colors, they made a fine showing and the admiration they aroused along the route of the parade must have paid for the trouble of the long trip to Portland, made especially to participate in the festival. Following the cadets came the members of the Portland Hunt club, the men wearing white riding breeches, red jackets and silk hats, the women black riding habits with red collars, while those who rode cross saddle wore silk hats and those riding side, English

CRIME COMMITTED AS VICTIMS LIE SLEEPING AT HOME

William Hill, His Wife and Her Two Children Beaten to Death Near Sellwood; Murderer Unknown.

HEADS OF FOUR ARE HORRIBLY MUTILATED

Fiend May Be Hiding in Dense Wood Nearby; Autopsy Being Held.

William H. Hill, his wife, Ruth Cowling Hill, and Mrs. Hill's two children, Philip and Dorothy Rintoul, aged 9 and 8 years old, were murdered early this morning in their little cabin one mile south of Ardenwald station on the Cascade line of the O. W. P. All were killed as they slept, the murderer braining each with an axe. Conditions of such unusual atrocity surround the murders that it is thought they must have been committed by an insane degenerate. The heads of each had been beaten out of semblance to human shape. A physician has been sent for to perform an autopsy on the bodies of the woman and the little girl. Murderer May Be Hiding. It is thought possible the murderer, after he had finished his work in the house, escaped across the road and into a property known as the Scott estate, which is wild and thickly wooded. A posse is searching this estate with the expectation of finding the fiend or his dead body. Mrs. Hill was a daughter of Thomas F. Cowling, who lives at 474 East Madison street and is an attorney in the firm of Cowling & Cowling, 324 West-center building. She was married about 10 years ago to James Rintoul, well known as an athlete and a member of the Multnomah club football team of 1905. She obtained a divorce from Rintoul three years ago on grounds of cruelty and obtained the possession of their two children. Rintoul was formerly employed by the Oregonian but is believed to be living in Salt Lake at the present time. He has remarried. Hill was a plumber, employed by the Sellwood Gas company. He formerly lived in Marvill, Wash., and married Mrs. Rintoul there a year ago. They have been living on the little farm on the Willaburg road since last Christmas. The house in which the family was

WILLIAM BYRD, DOUBLE MURDERER, SUPPOSED TO BE IMITATOR OF TRACY

Is Making His Way Through Woods East of Spokane With Many Hunters After Him; Love for Wife of One Victim Assigned as Cause of Tragedy; Murderer Shoots From Hip With Rifle and Is an Expert Marksman.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Spokane, Wash., June 9.—With a high power rifle, plenty of ammunition and a determination to kill rather than be captured, William Byrd, who killed G. H. Whipple and John Manski, and probably fatally wounded Justice C. W. Meisner of Dishman, a Spokane suburb, last evening, has succeeded in eluding heavily armed searchers up to noon today. Byrd, an expert shot and perhaps the most cold blooded murderer rampant in the northwest since Tracy's day, will add several more victims to his list before taken, it is feared. The slayer's trail through the hills south of Spokane was taken up anew this morning by Sheriff George E. Stone and a force of deputies, who are now following his supposed route into the Saltese country, 25 miles southwest. Bloodhounds were placed on the trail this morning, following a failure to work last night but they are untrained and of little assistance. Justice Meisner, a member of the posse, shot while pursuing Byrd following the murder at Dishman, continues in a coma from a hole in one lung. He has little chance of recovery. Byrd, who claimed to have put seven

REVIVING INTEREST IN DIRECT WATER FREIGHT SHIPMENTS INTO ALASKA

Another effort will be made to interest Portland merchants in direct water shipments to Alaska, it is understood, and if 500 tons of freight is guaranteed there will be a sailing from here about June 25 for northern ports. Fred D. Parr, traffic manager of the E. J. Dodge company, arrived in the city from Seattle a few days ago, where he has been looking after the interests of the company in connection with the loading and sailing of the steamer St. Helens, which sailed for Nome laden to the guards last Monday. Mr. Parr said that there was an unusually large amount of freight leaving Seattle for Alaska ports this season and all of the vessels are being taxed to their capacity to handle it on their first trips out. He says that the outlook is very encouraging and has never been better from the standpoint of the steamship owners, all of the lines hav-

FRENCH MAID SHOT MILLIONAIRE KOHL FOR HOUNDING HER

Confesses She Dangerously Wounded San Franciscan After She Had Lost Her Suit Against Him.

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Francisco, June 9.—C. Frederick Kohl, millionaire clubman, shot yesterday by Adele Verge, French maid, who had just lost a suit against him for false arrest, today was resting comfortably at the Adler sanitarium, to which he was removed. Although the wound would prove fatal, it was said by physicians today that he had a chance for recovery. An X-ray examination, it was stated, would be held today if Kohl's condition permitted. Wife Is Summoned. Mrs. Kohl, summoned hastily from her San Mateo home, yesterday, has been constantly with her husband. The maid shot Kohl in the entrance of the Grant building where the superior courts are housed. Her suit against the millionaire for damages for false arrest had just been decided against her. She walked in the entrance until Kohl appeared. Drawing a revolver she shot him down. Bystanders caught her as she ran out into the street. Later the girl was taken to the Emergency hospital, where Kohl was lying. He identified her. Girl Is Hysterical. Adele Verge today is in a semi-hysterical state. She is wildly excited, crying and laughing in turn. In every sentence she asserts she was hounded from place to place by Kohl and by detectives whom she charges he employed, and whose statements about her made it impossible for her to retain situations. She was placed under the influence of opiates last night and at midnight transferred to the city prison. "Ever since my first trouble with the Kohls in 1909 when after the elder Mrs. Kohl had brought me from France to

TWO JAPANESE AVIATORS HURT AS PLANE DROPS

(Colled Press Leased Wire.) Tokyo, June 9.—The first serious accident to mar the success of the military aeroplane experiments at the Tokosawa aviation grounds occurred this morning, when two officers were injured. After sailing 24 miles a Bleriot monoplane, carrying Captain Tokugawa of the army and Sub-Lieutenant Ito of the navy suddenly fell to earth injuring both aviators. Fortunately the monoplane was not high in the air when the accident occurred, and neither occupant was fatally injured. Lieutenant Ito's left arm was broken.

LUMBER TRUST JURY DEMANDS MORE ROOM

Chicago, June 9.—Larger quarters were today demanded by the secret grand jury that is probing alleged offenses of the lumber trust. Members of the jury today appeared before Judge Landis and informed him that the documentary evidence now received is so great that there is no room in the present quarters. It is reported that many of the documents were secured through subpoenas duces tecum from the office of Frederick Weyerhaeuser. Landis adjourned to the quarters used by Judge Kohlsaat and permitted the jurors to use his courtroom.
