

SIMON'S REMARKS STING WITH IRONY OVER HIS DEFEAT

"People of Mt. Scott District Did Not Show by Their Votes That They Want Water," Declares the Mayor.

"I don't think those people out in the Mt. Scott district want water. They certainly didn't show by their votes that they have appreciated what I have done for them," declared Mayor Simon yesterday afternoon, before the ways and means committee of the city council. Mayor Simon was speaking to George L. Baker, the close political ally of Mayor-Elect Rushlight. The mayor's remarks were tinged with irony. They were the first utterances referring to his defeat that he has made at a public meeting since election, showing that he has been keenly disappointed.

The mayor had appeared before the committee to explain why the committee had been asked by the board to make an appropriation of $50,000 for the purchase of the Woodmore water company's plant.

Must Pass Ordinance

Negotiations for this purchase were completed more than a month ago. Water from the Bull Run system has already been turned into the Woodmore pipes, which are being operated by the water board.

Before the deal can be finished, however, it will be necessary for the council to pass an ordinance appropriating the purchase price. This ordinance came before the committee, which decided to pass it up to the council with recommendation. The committee subsequently recommended the ordinance to Mayor Simon's assurance that the city had made a good bargain in purchasing the Woodmore system.

Attention of the committee was called to the fact that the new crematory will be up for acceptance by the health board the latter part of this month. It was pointed out that if accepted the plant will have to be paid for and that there is no money in the crematory fund.

Additional Bond Sale

It was decided to order the additional sale of $50,000 of crematory bonds, but the sale can not be made before the middle of next month.

Mayor Simon reiterated before the committee a statement he has frequently made, that he would not accept the new incinerator unless it shall be in condition to be accepted. It is strongly rumored that the burning plant can not be made to fulfill the requirements of the specifications under which the contract was let.

The committee recommended the increasing of salaries of draughtsmen in the city engineering department, the increase amounting to $155 a month. Councilman Burgess favored the increase. The expense of the engineer's office was at the same time materially reduced by the dropping of employees who have been occupying positions paying a total of $240 a month.

HARMONY WOULD HELP GOOD ROADS MEASURES

"Good Roads Legislation and How to Get It," was discussed from many points of view by a group of well-known Portlanders at the weekly dinner of the Portland Realty Board held at Richards' cafe yesterday.

W. H. Chapin, president of the realty board, presided. Mr. Chapin introduced C. T. Prall, president of the State Good Roads association, who took charge of the meeting.

The first speaker was James Cole, member of the legislature from Multnomah county, who recounted the strenuous time he and other friends of good roads had in the last legislature trying to secure the passage of bills presented by the State Good Roads association.

Conflicting Ideas

"Desirable legislation in favor of road building failed at Salem last winter," said the speaker, "because every legislator had his own ideas on the subject, and compromise was impossible." Mr. Cole declared that a state highway board and state road bureau are absolutely essential before the state will get satisfactory results in the way of improved public roads. He favored the use of convicts in building roads and opposed the allowing courts to have a hand in the building of state-aided roads. "Unless there is widespread unity of effort, there will be no good roads legislation by the next legislature," concluded the speaker.

State Show Features

John S. Bell said that good roads will not come in Oregon until the farmer is shown and convinced that it is a good business proposition to have them. W. J. Ciema, president of the automobile club, said that the automobile owners would yet bring about a sentiment that would force the people to build good roads all over the state.

C. C. Chapman of the Commercial club, predicted that good roads legislation would only come after the farmer and the business man had effected a compromise by means of the give and take method.

Dr. Andrew C. Smith, the last speaker on the program, was no hope of passing good roads bills through the legislature and advised that the Good Road's association go directly to the people with its bills by means of the initiative.

IVAN ELLMAKER HOME; CAUGHT IN JACKSON

Roseburg, Or., June 13.—Ivan Ellmaker, 12-year-old son of Mrs. A. J. Arnold of Yoncalla, who ran away from home near that place Sunday, June 4, after a quarrel with his mother, has been returned. The boy was walking southward on the railroad track and was detained by a Southern Pacific bridge foreman near Central Point and then turned over to the authorities. The boy was taken home yesterday, none the worse for his experience.

Walsh to Fly Again Thursday

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Centralia, Wash., June 13.—Thursday will be aviation day in Centralia, Charles F. Walsh, the intrepid aviator whose thrilling flight nearly resulted in his death in an aerial whirlpool in Seattle last Saturday, has been engaged. The desire is strong here for aviation as Centralia has seen nothing of the sort.

United Brethren Assignments Made

Bishop William M. Bell, who presided at the Oregon United Brethren conference at Philomath.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Philomath, Or., June 14.—United Brethren of Oregon, whose conference concluded yesterday after four days' work, selected Everett, Wash., as the place for the next conference. The Everett pastor is a woman, Mrs. R. N. Lewis, and the excellent report from her church contributed largely to Everett's getting the 1912 conference. Tillamook and Portland were other candidates.

Pastors were stationed for the coming year as follows: District, P. O. Bonebrake, P. E.; Beaver, D. Young; Bandon, F. M. Dakin; Blodgett, J. M. Linsey; Coos River, M. H. Steins; Dufur, to be supplied; Eugene, F. H. Neff; Everett, R. N. Lewis; Gravel Ford, F. Harnish; Hazel Green, B. M. Peoples; Hopewell, J. S. Rhodes; Hood River, J. B. Parsons; Irving and Goshan, W. M. Blodgett; Manor and Brush Prairie, J. L. Garrett; North Bend, W. Smith; Philomath, to be supplied; Philomath circuit, F. W. Jones; Portland, 1st church, R. S. Showers; Portland, 2d church, J. W. and N. Spracher; Portland, 3d church, C. P. Blanchard; Portland, 4th church, M. Goodrich; Salem, W. W. Rosebraugh; Salem circuit, J. E. Connor; Seattle, G. E. McDonald; The Dalles, C. W. Corbett; Tillamook, E. E. Emerick; Wapinitia, G. Wood; View, J. H. Albright; Vancouver, R. G. Sumnerlin.

Baptists in Session

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Philadelphia, June 13.—Commencing today and continuing throughout the next two weeks, Philadelphia will be the scene of three Baptist conventions which will attract members of this denomination from all parts of the world. This morning the Northern Baptist convention convened, and it will be in session until Sunday, when it will be followed by congresses of the American Baptist and Baptist World Alliance, which will hold forth next week.

Seventeen hundred dollars was given to evangelistic and educational work at the morning service Sunday.

A most hopeful condition in the growing conference is revealed in the increased membership reported in the young people's convention, held just prior to the conference, and also in the fact that the young people are launching a Young People's Memorial church.

Rev. P. O. Bonebrake, D. D., was elected conference superintendent, the former superintendent, Rev. H. C. Schaffer, being compelled to retire for a time on account of broken health.

GOLDENDALE-COLUMBUS ROAD NEARLY FINISHED

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Goldendale, Wash., June 13.—Work on the state aid road from Goldendale to Columbus will be finished this month and the work turned over. The contractors are a little behind, but more rock work was encountered than at first anticipated.

Swedish Lutherans Meet

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Duluth, Minn., June 13.—The national convention of the Swedish Lutheran churches of America opened today in this city with more than 2000 delegates present. Nearly every state in the union, and every province of Canada was represented. The session commenced this morning with a meeting of the examining board to examine candidates for the ministry.

SUMMER PARTING IS NEAR AT O. A. C.

Seniors Hold Class Day Exercises; Various Societies Elect Officers.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Or., June 13.—Senior class day exercises were held on the campus yesterday, when the class will be read, its history related, and the class poem declaimed. The alumni held reunions and business meetings, with their annual dance in the evening, and the student body and faculty joined in dedication of the big Armory to Major U. G. MacAlexander, retiring commander of the regiment, to whom a handsome bronze tablet has been erected on the front of the building.

The end of the year is a strenuous time for the literary societies at the Oregon Agricultural college, with the annual election and installation of officers, the banquets of farewell for the senior members, and the inter-society picnics.

The Philadelphia society has elected Jay P. Green, '12, Twin Falls, Idaho, as president for next year; James M. Coughlin, '12, Gold Beach, Or., vice president; W. L. Dutton, '13, Lakeview, Or., secretary; L. F. Cronmiller, '14, Lakeview, reporter; J. G. Sumnerlin, '14, Corvallis, recorder; H. C. Hetsel, Madison, Wis., sergeant-at-arms.

The new president of the Amiclian society is E. G. Rice, '13, Portland, and the rest of the new staff of officers are as follows: Vice president, J. C. Leedy, '13, Sherwood; secretary, C. H. Reynolds, '13, La Grande; treasurer, T. A. Rice, '14, Portland; sergeant-at-arms, S. O. McFadden, '13, Corvallis; most exalted janitor, H. H. Hayes, '13, Joseph.

Ruth L. Corbett, '13, Corvallis, heads the Feronian society for next year, and her executive staff consists of Hortense Eppley, '13, Salem, vice president; Lucy Crawford, '12, Astoria, secretary; Christine Orford, '14, De Lamar, Idaho, treasurer; Mabel Gardner, '13, Corvallis, sergeant-at-arms; Virginia Mescher, '13, Silverton, recorder; Vena Rickard, '12, critic.

$2.50, COLLECTED AFTER 17 YEARS, GATHERS UP $1.52 MORE, INTEREST

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Centralia, Wash., June 13.—After waiting 17 years for $2.50, with interest of $1.52, John Howie has just been paid a warrant for the full amount, which was due for public service long forgotten by all but Mr. Howie, whose memory lasted longer than official recollection of the transaction. Mr. Howie earned the money for surveying part of Prindle street, Chehalis. The warrant was signed originally by Mayor Dobson, one of the founders of the Coffman-Dobson bank of Chehalis, and by J. M. Pickens, city clerk of that day. The archives of the recorder's office show the indebtedness intact, and Mr. Howie drew his money with a chuckle yesterday.

CATHOLICS TO CAMPAIGN FOR PARDONS FOR TWO

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Montreal, June 13.—That a determined effort will be made to secure the pardon of two Irish Roman Catholic prisoners who were former citizens of the United States and have served almost 12 years in Kingston penitentiary, was decided at a meeting of all the Irish Roman Catholic societies of this city. The prisoners are James Nolan and Luke Dillon, alias Carl Dolman, convicted of an attempt to blow up the lock of the Welland canal. A letter will be sent to all cabinet ministers setting forth the evidence on which the men were convicted was simply circumstantial, and that by the 13 years of imprisonment they have expiated their crime, which did little damage.
