> pressing their political preferences and on their, verdict depends the fate of, the Liberal government, which, under the leadership of Premier Murray, has been in office for many years. The campaign has been hotly contested in all of the eighteen constituencies. Both sides express confidence in the outlook. though unprejudiced opinion inclines to the belief that the Liberal government is practically certain of five years more office. It can be truly said that outside of extreme partisans nobody expects the Murray government to be decated. This is due to many reasons, main fact being that since 1867 only one Conservative government has been in power in Nova Scotia, and that was wenty-nine years ago. Four times has Premier Murray appealed to the people, and four times has he been returned to power with the overwhelming majorities. On the other hand, the Conservatives profess confidence that, even if not deeated, the government's majority will
