

LIQUOR FLOWS AND OFFICIAL FAMILY FUMES AND FUSSES

Usual Quiet of Troutdale Gives Way to Arrests and to Charges of Usurping Authority of Peace Officer.

A row in the official family of Troutdale yesterday afternoon involving Mayor Harlow, Councilman Bert Edmondson and Town Marshal Otis Bowen, resulted in the latter being detained last night at the county jail. No charge has been placed against the town marshal.

The trouble yesterday started over the arrest of J. C. Sutherland, who became involved in a quarrel on the street with Milton Fox. What is known in Troutdale as "The Bank" saloon was moving to another building, and free beer was on tap. The two fighters had consumed a goodly share of the liquor, and Councilman Edmondson arrested Sutherland without calling the town marshal, who was only a short distance away.

Sutherland to Jail.

Sutherland was placed in the village jail without being searched. Within half an hour Sutherland set fire to the bedding in the jail with matches, which the city councilman had not taken from him. When the town marshal heard of the fire he appeared on the scene, and from the best information at hand he charged that Sutherland should not have been arrested unless Fox was also arrested. Angered at the apparent unfairness and the further feature of not searching the man when placing him in jail, Marshal Bowen released the man. This brought an open breach between the town marshal, the mayor and city councilman.

STRIKERS STONE STRIKEBREAKERS

Outbreak Occurs at California-Hawaiian Sugar Refinery at Crockett, Cal.

(United Press Lead Wire.)

Crockett, Cal., June 14.—Bitter feeling was displayed yesterday when strike breakers brought to work in the warehouse of the California Hawaiian Sugar Refining company were marched past the strikers. Rocks were hurled by the strikers and their sympathizers but none of the missiles struck the strike breakers and further outbreaks were suppressed.

The outbreak occurred as the strike breakers were being marched at noon from the warehouse to the Crockett hotel for their lunch. The strikers were lined up along the road down which the strike breakers and the guards marched, and hooted and jeered as they passed.

Patrick Riordan, a citizen of Crockett, injured yesterday by two strike breakers' escorts while he was watching the men marching back to the warehouse, swore out John Doe warrants for the men who attacked him. He is making an effort to enter the warehouse and identify his assailants.

BUILDERS OF GREATER OREGON JOIN IN PICNIC

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Brownsville, Or., June 14.—Scores of Willamette valley pioneers are in Brownsville today, the occasion being the twenty-third annual picnic. The feature of the opening day was the parade which formed at 10 o'clock and marched to Coshov's park, where the exercises are being held. The picnic will continue over tomorrow and Friday. The Brownsville band in new uniforms will furnish music.

Among the speakers who will discuss early days are Judge McFadden of Corvallis, Judge Stephen A. Lowell of Pendleton, Rev. Hurd of Newport and Rev. Standard of Newport.

As if to emphasize the purpose, and the propriety of the celebrating at Brownsville this city is the home of possibly the oldest pioneer in this section of the state—Captain James Blakely, now closing his 98th year, and who will be a prominent figure on the grounds.

George Burbank, 70-year-old Coburg Methodist minister, was sentenced by Judge Harris in the circuit court this morning to one year in the county jail and to pay the costs of prosecution. The judge disregarded the preacher's plea for leniency on his wife's account.

M'CUMBER CRITICIZES MOTIVES OF PAPERS

(United Press Lead Wire.)

Washington, June 14.—Criticizing the motives of American newspapers in general, Senator McCumber (Republican, North Dakota), today discussed reciprocity in the senate. He said: "For selfish ends the press created false impressions and nearly overthrew the Republican party at the last election. For selfish ends it proposes to support the party next year, provided a reciprocity agreement is enacted."

His reference was to the proposed free entry of print paper and pulpwood. McCumber predicted that the Republicans would find great trouble in lining up the farmer vote on account of the reciprocity bill.

TRUST SECRETARY SAYS HAVEMEYER DOMINATED

(United Press Lead Wire.)

Washington, June 14.—That H. O. Havemeyer dominated the sugar trust, was the testimony today of Charles R. Helke, former secretary of the American Sugar Refining company, who appeared before the Hardwick investigating committee. The sugar trust, Helke said, was virtually a one-man concern. Its official meetings, he continued, never discussed the business affairs of the company. Helke now faces jail in connection with the sugar weighing frauds.

RIVER TO RISE TO HEIGHT OF 19.4 FEET

Predictions of the weatherman today are that the Willamette river at Portland will reach a stage of 19.4 feet Sunday, which will bring it three tenths higher than it was during the annual high water last year, which occurred in May, the river reaching a stage of 18.1 feet on May 15 and 18. Observer Drake says that the river will reach a 17.6 foot stage tomorrow, 18.2 feet Friday and 18 feet Saturday.

Taking of testimony will probably begin tomorrow. The state is demanding that married men with daughters be placed on the jury.

Girl's Bail Reduced.

(United Press Lead Wire.)

New York, June 14.—When the case of Miss Lillian Graham and Miss Ethel Conrad charged with assault to murder W. E. D. Snow was called today, the girls asserted they would prove they were justified in shooting him. Magistrate Feschel reduced their bail from $25,000 to $15,000. Stokes was unable to attend the hearing and the case was continued to Friday.

SANDY BOULEVARD PAYING ORDERED

P. R., L. & P. Co. Officials Make Ineffectual Attempt to Have the Matter Referred.

The paving of Sandy boulevard, from the north line of Laurelburg to East Seventy-second street, was ordered by the city council this morning. The improvement will be of bitulithic pavement. It will be nearly two miles long.

An effort was made by officials of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company to have the council refer the matter to a joint committee of the street committee, but a delegation of property owners from Rose City Park, championed by Councilman Kubli, prevailed upon the council to authorize the improvement without further delay.

The streetcar company is willing for the pavement to be laid, but the company wants to put in crushed rock on the portion of the street occupied by the company's track, instead of bitulithic.

The council adopted the report of the license committee, recommending that the ordinance closing poolrooms Sunday be placed on file. This action practically ends the ordinance. It was taken after the council had earlier in the morning referred the measure to the health and police committee.

The council passed an ordinance which will remedy the defect in the present liquor code, through which five bartenders escaped punishment after having been arrested for maintaining stairways leading from barrooms to overhead dens.

An ordinance raising the salaries of draughtsmen in the city engineering department was passed today. The ordinance appropriating $2800 for the payment of a warrant issued on the Waverleigh boulevard improvement was referred to the judiciary committee after a warm interchange of opinion between Mayor Simon and City Attorney Grant, the latter advising that the city is not obliged to pay the warrant and the latter asserting that the city is under obligation to do so.

GIRLS FRIGHTENED BY STRANGE MAN

Pupils at Ladd School Accosted—Teacher Follows Person — Police Notified.

The man who has been insulting young children in the neighborhood of the Ladd school at West Park and Jefferson streets for the past three weeks reappeared again this morning and made advances to three girl pupils in the lower grades at the school, according to a report from the principal.

A little girl not over ten years old came crying in to her teacher about 10 o'clock this morning, complaining of the man. The teacher went out with the child and had her point out the man who had approached her. While the teacher was watching him he went up to another child and endeavored to coax her off with him. His actions were so brazen that when the teacher stepped up to him to merely turned and glared at her.

The teacher hurried back to Principal Higgins, who telephoned for the police. They promised to send some one out at once, but in spite of repeated messages no officer reported at the school.

After she had telephoned police headquarters the teacher went back to the park and followed the man down West Park street as far as the Arlington club, where he turned and ran up Salmon street.

The man is about 5 feet 10 inches tall, weighs about 190 pounds, being heavily built, has a ruddy complexion, light hair and a sandy mustache somewhat which covers him. He wore a dark coat with broad gray stripes, tan shoes, somewhat worn, a soft hat, rolled on the sides and turned down in front, dark tan in color, while his shoulders droop in a way that makes the coat tilt up in back in a peculiar manner. He is about 40 years old.

Many children are afraid to go to school as a result of the visits of this man to the park in front of the Ladd school.

FEAR CHAUFFEUR MAY BE DROWNED

Robert McLean Missing Since Upsetting of Boat—Harbor Patrol Makes Search.

Fearing that Robert McLean, a chauffeur living at 218 1/2 Morrison street, was drowned near the upper end of the little island lying between Ross island last night, the harbor patrol has been hunting all day hoping to find some trace of McLean or his body.

McLean and F. W. Hodson, a chauffeur, 39 years old, living with him, rented a boat at the Favorite boat house yesterday afternoon and went up to the Oaks. When they got to a point opposite the house boat colony at the Yacht club and about 1,000 feet from shore, they overturned the boat. Both swam ashore where their cries attracted people from the club. When they got over to the place where the boat was the two men had disappeared.

The harbor patrol went up and tried to find the men but couldn't. This morning Hodson, his face and hands badly scratched as a result of wandering through the jungle, made his way out to where his boat was tied and got across the river in it. When he went to the boat house to get his clothes he was arrested.

McLean hasn't been found yet, although the harbor patrol has gone through the jungles pretty thoroughly looking for him. The police are inclined to believe he got ashore in some way, although he has not yet shown up to claim his clothes at the boat house.

DOBBS TELLS WHY ADVERTISING PAYS

President of Coca Cola Company Addresses Admen at Their Luncheon.

Full of enthusiasm for the Pacific coast in general and Portland in particular, S. C. Dobbs of Atlanta, Ga., arrived in the Rose City this morning on a tour of the principal cities of the central and western states. Mr. Dobbs is general manager of the Coca Cola company and president of the Associated Ad clubs of America.

The Portland Admen's club took advantage of Mr. Dobbs' presence in the city and gathered at noon to listen to an address on "Creative Force in Advertising," an address that he has delivered in many of the large cities of the country for the purpose of rousing interest in the real work of the advertisement creator. Mr. Dobbs has made a remarkable success of advertising the famous soft drink and he gives credit for the success to the force put behind every advertisement put out by the company behind the drink. The Admen's club entertained Mr. Dobbs at luncheon at Richards' restaurant.

Included in Mr. Dobbs' itinerary was St. Paul, where he spoke before the National Sales Managers' association; Spokane, where he addressed 200 representatives of the Pacific Coast Admen's association; Portland and Denver. He will leave Portland tonight for the Colorado metropolis.

In discussing the "Creative Force in Advertising" before the Admen's club, Mr. Dobbs said, in part:

"No department of commercial endeavor has shown more advancement during the past 10 years than advertising.

"The profession of advertising is of such tremendous importance that men in all walks of life, endowed with brains and energy, are knocking at its door.

"But advertising by itself does not pay. There must be back of all advertising quality of product and the ability to administer to a human want.

"Publicity solves the problems of distribution. Advertising is today the greatest economic force in the realm of commercial activity.

"We as advertising men are facing a great opportunity and the upward and onward progress of this marvelous creative force depends upon how we meet the opportunity."

MATTRESS FACTORY IS DESTROYED BY BLAZE

Fire started from an unknown source in the rear of a mattress and furniture factory owned by Frank Ketchum at 58 Morris street at 6 o'clock this morning and completely destroyed the plant and an old barn in the rear of the building, doing about $5000 worth of damage, most of which is covered by insurance.

The building was enveloped in flames when the department arrived, but was soon put under control. The building was the property of Henry Tonsing, and was valued at $2000. The damage to the machinery is believed to be about $4000. There is insurance amounting to $1000 on the building and $2400 on the machinery. CITY RICHER BY $4500 SHORTLY

Ordinance Providing License Fee for Operating Steam Railroad Gets Results.

City Auditor A. L. Barbur's persistent efforts to enforce an old ordinance providing a license fee for the operation of steam railroads finally resulted this morning in a compromise by which the city will be richer in the sum of $4500. The license ordinance has been in effect 10 years, but it was never enforced. City Auditor Barbur discovered this and began several years ago to dun the railroad companies.

The attorneys for the Southern Pacific, O. W. E. N. and Northern Pacific companies claim that the ordinance is not valid and that even if it were, the statute of limitation would prevent the city collecting for more than two years back.

However, the companies, to escape the persistent city auditor's "annoyances," as the attorneys termed Mr. Barbur's efforts to collect the license fees, entered a compromise. They agreed to pay 50 per cent of the $9000 charged up to date for 10 years providing the city would repeal the license ordinance. The council accepted the compromise, on the advice of the city attorney and passed the repealing ordinance.

An ordinance exempting additions to non fireproof school buildings from the provisions of the building code, was placed on the table.

The Ellis street end ordinances were also tabled for two weeks.

Al Woehlers, whose saloon license was revoked because he had maintained a stairway leading from the barroom to an overhead room in which liquor was served to women, asked for his license revived. An ordinance for this purpose was introduced by Councilman Driscoll and referred to the liquor license committee.

The council passed a new vehicle tax law. It is hoped that this one can be enforced. Three former laws taxing vehicles were declared invalid by the courts for various different reasons. It is believed that the courts cannot pick any flaws in the ordinance passed today.

JURY FAILS TO AGREE IN M. CHAMPER CASE

The jury in the personal injury case of Margaret Champer against the Portland Railway, Light & Power company failed to agree and was discharged this morning in the circuit court. The plaintiff is one of Portland's oldest public school teachers and brought suit to recover $100,000 damages for injuries received when she was dragged by a streetcar at Twenty-fourth and Roosevelt streets May 13. The jury was divided five to seven in her favor. The 12 men trying the case were unable to agree over a release the woman signed a few days after the accident. The company claimed she signed the release for all damages sustained in the accident. The attorneys for the teacher claimed she did not know what she was signing, but was led to believe it was to repay her for damages to her clothing.
