

PROGRESSIVES IN REPUBLICAN PARTY FAVOR LA FOLLETTE

Progressive League Swings in Behind Senator From Wis- consin—Changing Political Map.

(Washington Bureau of The Journal.) Washington, June 17.—The announcement of La Follette's candidacy for the presidential nomination today brings the National Progressive League definitely into the fight.
Although when it was organized the league announced that its purpose was to stand for measures rather than for men, this bureau has stated that when the time comes the league would be found favoring the La Follette candidacy and against Taft's renomination.
That the result has been attained was today admitted by a statement that the league would support the Wisconsin man to the finish of the preliminary campaign at the national convention.
It has been admitted that upon the face of the existing political status, Taft would be renominated. When, however, the list of leading citizens who openly back La Follette for the nomination is published, it will be seen instantly that the entire situation has changed from certainty to wide uncertainty, and that the Taft organization must fight if it is to be renamed.
Senator Bourne, president of the league, will throw himself into the contest for La Follette, although he has made no public announcement as yet.
He will utilize the progress of the fight in an energetic campaign country wide in scope, based largely upon the popular government laws and reforms.
Foldestler will sign the manifesto of La Follette to run. Probably Works of California will do the same.
La Follette will make his campaign largely on his opposition to reciprocity, and will take the lead in a tariff fight in the senate.
Cannan will support Taft, in all probability, although he will not fight La Follette, with whom he is on good terms.
Jones, of course, will support Taft.
Dixon and Perkins are also for Taft.
With almost absolute unanimity, politicians express the belief that La Follette cannot win the nomination; but it is conceded that he will develop much strength, and will go to the convention with a following so powerful as to compel the Taft organization to take account of it, and adopt a platform with much more progressivism than otherwise.
In the contest Oregon, the first in the field on account of its presidential preference law, will be nationally important, as well as will Nebraska, North Dakota, Wisconsin and New Jersey, where the same law has been passed.

ALLEGED "WHITE SLAVER" GETS 10 YEAR SENTENCE

San Francisco, June 17.—Haruo Nita, alleged white slaver, was sentenced to ten years in the Folsom prison today by Judge Lawlor. Nita was convicted of putting his wife, Sonoe, into a disreputable Japanese resort. The evidence showed that he had offered to sell his wife for $250 and has agreed to allow her to get a "Japanese divorce" for $250.
"The crime of which this defendant stands convicted," said Judge Lawlor, in passing sentence, "is not only a degrading one, but it seems to be on the increase. Those found guilty of it should be severely dealt with."

MADERO FAMILY PUT UP MILLION TO DEFEAT DIAZ

Distinguished Family Contrib- uted Liberally to Cause of Mexico's Freedom; Cost of Diaz' Overthrow, Million.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Houston, Texas, June 17.—The cost of the overthrow of the Diaz regime in Mexico was less than $1,000,000. Excepting the loss of life, the pillage and the financial losses to individuals through the operations of war but $500, 000 was needed to force Diaz from office and return Mexico to the hands of the people for government, as the constitution of the republic provides.
This war fund was put up entirely by the Madero family. Francisco I.
Madero, Jr., the rebel leader, invested about $400,000; Gustavo Madero about $300,000 and Francisco I. Madero, Sr., about $300,000. The money was invested in arms and ammunition. The soldiers served without pay, love of freedom and patriotism for the constitution and their rights drawing thousands to the cause of the Maderists.
Since the crushing of the self-constituted monarchy in Mexico an interesting bit of history regarding an intrigue by the government to make impossible the financing of the revolution, has come out. It appears that when Madero "pronounced" the revolution the government attempted to crush the bank of Nuevo Leon, in which the Madero family was heavily interested. The paid-up capital of the bank was $2, 000,000 and it had a $2,000,000 reserve, largely in guayule rubber plants. It was also heavily interested in varied Mexican industries.
Efforts Made to Ruin Bank.
At the outbreak of the revolution the bank had $3,000,000 in outstanding bills, "Senior Madero declares" creditors, were urged by the government to insist upon liquidation within 30 days and that an "interventor" was appointed to take charge of the collateral. The bank withdrew from the rubber market and realized upon its own plants to the extent of $2,000,000. It was at this time that Jose L. Limantour, minister of finance, returned from Europe and told President Diaz that the country was in the hands of the rebels.
Despite the intrigue the Mexican government, says Madero, reckoned without one of the strict laws of the country, the national banking law.
According to the Mexican banking system all local banks must hold stock in the Central bank of the City of Mexico. This forced the Central bank to aid the Bank of Nuevo Leon and the latter was able to liquidate its $3,000, 000 claims. It was at this time that Limantour returned to find the finances of the country in a snarl.
The minister of finance realized the government's cause was hopeless and undertook the task of winning Diaz to a compromise with the Maderos. It was a long fight and one that exhausted both Diaz and his adviser. Both now are going abroad to rest.

MEDICO-PHARMIC FRAT. INSTALLED

Eleven Charter Members, 3 From Portland, Make Up
O. A. C. Roll.
Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Or., June 17.—A chapter of the Kappa Psi fraternity, to be known as Beta Zeta chapter, has just been installed at the Oregon Agricultural college with charter membership of 11 men. Lyle V. Hendricks and A. Harry Nitschke of Beta chapter, Philadelphia college of Pharmacy, and Bert Pennington of Beta Gamma chapter, University of California, conducted the installation and initiation exercises, and were afterward guests of honor at the installation banquet at the initiation banquet at the Hotel Julian. They told something of the history of the society, which, founded in 1878, is not only one of the oldest medico-pharmic fraternities in the country, but also one of the leading societies of its class, having in its membership many of the best known physicians and pharmacists in the country.
The charter members of Beta Zeta chapter are Clarence M. McKellips, Corvallis; E. C. Calloway, Spokane, Wash.;

Springfield; Ford A. Hand, McMinnville, and W. J. Thornton, Roseburg.
A new course, in the teaching of public school music, has been added to the summer session curriculum at the Oregon Agricultural college this year, and Miss Mabel A. Garrett, supervisor of music at Baker, has been secured as instructor for the work. Miss Garrett is a graduate of the Thomas school at Detroit, Mich., and has had considerable experience in music instruction since completing her work there. There will be no additional fee for the work, the only expense in the entire summer ses-sion's work, in addition to the cost of board and room, being the regular $5 registration fee, which covers the clerical expense of registration. In connection with the public school music instruction, teachers may also secure training in methods of teaching public school drawing. Four courses will be offered, in line drawing, light and shade, water-colors, and outdoor sketching.

EUGENE MAN BRINGS SUIT TO ESTABLISH RIGHTS OF CANINES

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Eugene, Or., June 17.—Suit was instituted in circuit court here this afternoon by W. H.
Kay, owner of a sporting goods chief of police of Eugene, to restrain him from carrying out the provisions of the recently enacted ordinance which prohibits dogs from running at large on the streets and provides for their seizure and death in case they are found loose. It is al-
