

COPPERSTONE OF DIOCESAN LIBRARY Laid Yesterday

Bishop Scadding Accepts Gift of Catherine Percival Made in Honor of Departed Priest—6000 Volumes.

With impressive services, in which Bishop Charles W. Scadding of the Episcopal diocese of Oregon, was assisted by several of the local clergy, and in the presence of the donor, Miss Catherine Percival, the H. K. Percival Memorial Diocesan library cornerstone was laid yesterday afternoon.

The new library building, which is the gift of Miss Percival in memory of her brother, a noted scholar of the church, who spent most of his active career in Philadelphia, will cost about $2500 and will house 6000 volumes at the start, together with the office of the bishop and the diocesan officers.

A fair congregation stood in the bright sunshine while the service was read and the brief addresses made by Bishop Scadding and Rev. C. W. Robinson of Oregon City. To the latter the occasion was one of special satisfaction as the giver of the building is a former parishioner of his, when he was in Philadelphia. His address was an eloquent tribute to the Episcopal church for its defense against the assaults of unbelief.

Others of the clergy participating in the ceremonies were Archdeacon Chambers, Rev. John Simpson, Rev. W. Powell, Rev. G. Bowen of Sellwood and Rev. John Marshall of Portsmouth. In a copper box within the cornerstone were placed copies of the Portland newspapers of June 17, a pamphlet on "Opportunities in Oregon" by Bishop Scadding, a brief history of the library, a review of the life and work of Rev. Henry R. Percival, the Oregonian Churchman for May, 1911, and various diocesan leaflets.

In his address, Bishop Scadding said: "On June 17, 1854, exactly 57 years ago today, a convocation of the clergy met in the city of Portland, Oregon, and Washington and Oregon was held in this city of Portland. It was the first convocation of the Right Rev. Thomas F. Scott, first missionary bishop of Oregon. In his address on that occasion he used these words: 'It gives me pleasure to say that during my visit to Philadelphia previously to sailing, I received upward of 90 volumes from the library of the Bishop White Parish Association towards a diocesan library for this territory, and also for the same object $30 in cash from members of St. Andrew's church.'

Many Valuable Books. "I am delighted to report that these books are still in my possession, and also the original bookplate owned by Bishop Scott. Since that time libraries of clergy have come by will to the diocese. Bishop Morris collected many books, and some of them are of great value. On several occasions Bishop Morris appealed for a suitable building in which to house them. At last the appeals have been heard, and it is singularly fitting that a lady of Philadelphia should build this beautiful and much needed structure, the gift of the diocese of Philadelphia, whose life and work on literary lines has meant so much to churchmen.

"We have now about 6000 volumes, and the building will not only contain these, properly arranged and catalogued, but also a registry in which important documents, papers and journals can be kept, and also an office for the bishop and diocesan officers.

Grateful Thanks Extended. "On behalf of the diocese, I have great pleasure in accepting this generous gift from Miss Catherine Percival, who is with us today, and offer her our grateful thanks. It is a spirit of generosity we will all do well to cultivate. It is a beautiful, appropriate and practical way to erect a monument to our loved ones, who have entered into the rest of paradise; a far more useful memorial than a marble shaft.

"In accepting this building may I remind our own people of Oregon that theological books, like medical books, get out of date, and that it would be a good thing for the clergy, lay readers and Sunday school teachers, and readers generally, if we could add 25 to 50 new, up-to-date theological and serious books every year.

Percival's Career. "I shall be glad to hear from churchmen in this diocese who would like the privilege of helping me in the creation of a small fund for this purpose. As Miss Percival, to whom the memorial is built, died September 22, 1903. He was of such unusual precocity as a youth that the University of Pennsylvania set aside its rules as to age to admit him as a student. At the age of 24 he became a priest, and for 13 years was at the head of the Church of the Evangelists of Philadelphia. He devoted much of his time to writing, and was the author of several important works, including one upon the doctrines of the Episcopal church.

HARNEY BOY SAVES PENNIES FOR TEDDY

From far-off central Oregon comes a message of cheer and joy for the half-blind boy, Teddy, given by a little fellow who hopes the Portland mail may some day be able to see as well as himself. "Teddy's friend," Mr. Harney, read of the half-blind boy's condition and has been carefully saving his pennies for a long time. His name is Lynn Bower, and the little fellow's letter follows:

"Dear Little Teddy—I am sending you today a money order for $3. I hope you will be able to go to school as I am, and some day be able to see the same as other children.

ROSEBURG IS HOST OF RAILROAD PARTY

Fifty Mile Automobile Ride Past Umpqua Farms Is One Treat.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Roseburg, Or., June 17.—The party of Northern Pacific Railroad officials and Portland newspaper men who have been making a tour of eastern Oregon arrived here at 1:30 this afternoon. Their special cars were met at the train and they were taken for a 50 mile automobile ride through the surrounding valleys.

At 5:30 o'clock the party was taken to the Curry ranch at the forks of the Umpqua river, nine miles west of this city, where dinner was served under large maple trees. This evening the visitors were given an informal reception at the Commercial club and they left for the north at 11:30. They pronounce this vicinity a most beautiful section.

Except that the Oregon Trunk line will be extended as far as Bend, the railroads have nothing to say regarding railroad building.

TRUE BILLS AGAINST M'NAMARA, WM. BURNS AND 1 OTHER

Involved in the indictments is James Hoshack, deputy sheriff of Los Angeles, who is jointly charged with Burns with kidnapping. Governor Marshall expressed himself as highly pleased with the grand jury's report which exonerated him of any part of the act in honoring the regulation for McNamara's arrest and extradition.

Grow Out of Arrest. The kidnaping charge grew out of the arrest of John J. McNamara in Indianapolis by Burns and his extradition to California. The arrest occurred on Saturday evening, April 22. McNamara was taken from his office at the headquarters of the iron workers, where a meeting of the executive council was in session. He was pushed to police headquarters, where Police Judge Ketchum issued a warrant issued on the strength of extradition papers from the governor of California, approved by Governor Marshall of Indiana. McNamara was put into an automobile and taken across country to Terre Haute, where he was put aboard a train for St. Louis and was there taken to Los Angeles. On April 24 Ford and Fox were arrested for kidnaping on warrants sworn out by John Keegan, a local labor leader. Later William J. Burns and his associates were arrested on similar warrants. Each was admitted to bail in the sum of $5000.

Indictments came as a surprise to those who had been watching the case. Today the grand jury notified Judge Ketchum a second report was ready and the indictments were served.

GRAND JURY'S FINDINGS WILL EXPOSE BURNS?

(United Press Leased Wire.) Los Angeles, June 17.—This finding by the grand jury will give the people of the nation a line on the methods employed by Detective William J. Burns and his associates. This was the statement made this afternoon by Attorney Leecompte, chief of counsel for the McNamara brothers, when shown the United Press dispatch telling of the indictment of Detective Burns on a charge of kidnaping in connection with the removal of John J. McNamara to Los Angeles for alleged complicity in the destruction of the Times building.

"Burns' action," he continued, "could well be likened to a mob that storms a jail, takes out a prisoner and strings him up to a tree without giving him a chance to defend himself." Attorney Job Hartman was jubilant over the indictment. "That's splendid," he said, "but nothing more than we expected. There is no doubt but that McNamara's removal from Indianapolis was in direct violation of all rules of justice."

Neither of the attorneys would say what effect, if any, the indictment of Burns might have on the trial of the McNamaras.

Gun Man Uses a Knife. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Spokane, Wash., June 17.—"Jim" Logan, a gun-man, formerly a member of the local police department and recently under ex-Sheriff Pugh, is being hunted by the police tonight for stabbing George Hageman, a mining man, the result of a quarrel over a card game. Logan's victim is in the hospital with an ugly gash in his abdomen. Logan has lived in the northwest over 30 years, having followed stock ranching for a living up till a few years ago.

NOTED OFFICERS OF B'NAL B'RITH TO COME TODAY

Grand Lodge Delegates to Confer With Local Members—Important Meeting for Jews on Tuesday.

The officers of the district grand lodge No. 4 of the Independent Order B'nai B'rith are expected to arrive in Portland this afternoon and will spend a couple of days in conference with the local members. Those to arrive today are: Grand President Otto Irving Wise and Grand Secretary I. J. Aachelm. Mr. Wise is one of San Francisco's most prominent attorneys and is a brother of Rev. Dr. Stephen S. Wise, a former occupant of the pulpit of the local Jewish temple. Mr. Wise is a very able speaker and a noted thinker. Mr. Aachelm is one of San Francisco's pioneers and has been secretary of the B'nai B'rith for nearly 15 years. There are two lodges of the B'nai B'rith in Portland, namely, Portland lodge and Theodore Herzl lodge, with an aggregate membership of nearly 500. The local lodges have purchased a piece of property on the Pacific street in which a three story building will be erected for club and communal purposes.

Special Meeting Tuesday. Dr. Martin A. Mayer will arrive Tuesday afternoon in time to take part in a joint meeting of the lodges the same evening at the Selling-Hirsch building. Dr. Mayer is the minister of Temple Emanuel of San Francisco and the leading Jewish congregation on the Pacific coast.

The meeting Tuesday night will bear a special interest to the Jews of Portland on account of the recent Garrard incident in which at the instance of a representative of the B'nai B'rith, President Taft reprimanded Colonel Garrard of the United States army on account of his action against a private of the army, whose promotion he objected to on account of the fact that the private is a Jew. A discussion of this incident is expected to take up the greater part of the evening.

The Independent Order B'nai B'rith maintains lodges in the leading cities of this country and has a membership of nearly 75,000.

Recognition of Passports. It also maintains lodges in the capitals of most of the European and Asiatic countries so that it is in position at all times to aid in the amelioration of the condition of the Jews in those countries in which they are oppressed. At this time the order is doing everything possible to have the United States force the Russian government to recognize the passports of all American citizens visiting that country. The Russian government refuses to allow Jewish citizens of this country to enter Russia. This is done in violation of the treaty of 1832 and it is on this point that the B'nai B'rith base their claims and voice their protest.

Messrs. Wise and Aachelm expect to stay in Portland Monday and Tuesday and leave on Wednesday morning for Seattle where they will be joined by Rabbi Mayer. The Seattle lodges are making extensive preparations for the reception of the grand lodge officers.

"DESSERTERS" PAYNE CALLS DEMOCRATS

"Father of the Tariff Wall" Vigorously Attacks Underwood Wool Bill.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Washington, June 17.—In defense of the present tariff laws which he fathered, Seneca E. Payne of New York, today attacked the Underwood wool bill, pending in the house. He scored the Democrats for "deserting free trade." Payne declared the Underwood bill was framed without sufficient consideration, and that the Democrats were rushed into tariff legislation without the slightest study.

Payne declared the reason the Democrats had not put raw wool on the free list, was that "some gentleman back home told them it would ruin Democracy."

Charles B. Randall of Texas, supported the measure declaring that it would reduce the cost of woolen clothing. Randall also defended William J. Bryan, saying his fame would endure after the memories of the present house had passed away.

"WILD MAN" IS ONLY A HARMLESS LABORER

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Oregon City, June 17.—The "Oregon City wild man" was captured tonight by Henry May, into whose barn he had gone to sleep. The "wild man," who has terrified so many women in the Barclay school neighborhood, turns out to be no one but a harmless workman employed by a Seventh street contractor. He was sleeping out in order to save money. The man had been moving his bed around the canyon each night to minimize the likelihood of any one discovering and stealing his bedding. Today, however, some one discovered the cache and made way with it, so he found refuge in May's barn. Local police will do nothing with him.

RABBIT DRIVE AT MALIN NETS MUCH IN BOUNTIES

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Merrill, Or., June 17.—A rabbit drive that resulted in destruction of many hundred bunnies and was attended by scores of people from the southern Klamath region was held near Malin yesterday. In spite of the slaughter of 300 rabbits when the snow was on, they have multiplied so rapidly this spring that the farmers decided to hold another drive in the hope of lessening the damage the animals do to growing crops.

Since the county court has raised the rabbit bounty to ten cents, the financial returns from the drive were considerable. A division was made at the corral.

India has trained runners who can cover more than 300 miles a day.

Low Wages in Great Britain. Sixty per cent of the adult workers of Great Britain receive less than $7.50 weekly wages, according to estimates quoted in the house of commons by H. J. Tennant, the parliamentary secretary for the board of trade, in opposing the motion of Will Crooks, labor member from Woolwich, for a compulsory minimum wage of $7.50.

Much Money Paid in Benefits. Since January, 1896, when the molders' international established the sick benefit fund system, it has paid to brothers in sickness $1,870,784.48. During the year 1910 it paid in death and disability benefits $69,550,10; for out of work benefits, $146,110.40.

MT. HOOD LINE TO BE EXTENDED

Portion of Right-of-Way From Lusted's Hill to Cherryville Secured.

The Mount Hood Railway has secured a portion of the right of way for the extension of its line from Lusted's Hill, this side of the Sandy river, through Sandy to Cherryville, a distance of about 10 miles. It is reported that the contract will be let in a few days for the grading of the first five miles of the projected extension.

PRESIDENT AND MRS. TAFT

num lock watch, attached to an ornate diamond-studded chain. The wives of the officers ranking below that of general will also make Mrs. Taft a personal gift. Five hundred contributors is a modest estimate for the group.

The members of the Philippine party who went with the former secretary of war, now the president of the United States, have bought a handsome silver piece.

Others are making individual presents. Members of Mrs. Taft's cabinet of ladies will present their gifts to her instead of to both the president and Mrs. Taft, while their husbands will do like honor to the president.

Frank Hitchcock, postmaster general, has an elaborate silver urn for flowers. The governor of Virginia and Mr. Mann have sent a set of five vases.

Other presents are a miniature painting in a handsome silver frame from Lee McCurg, treasurer of the United States; a silver pitcher and tray engraved with the initials of the president and Mrs. Taft, and a tiny gridiron from the members of the Gridiron club; a heavy, handsome silver flower basket from the members of the Press Gallery in the capitol; two silver frames from Mrs. Francis Berger Moran and Mrs. John M. Huggins, containing the pictures of President and Mrs. Taft, and a dozen silver almond dishes from Mrs. Harley Calvin Gage and Miss Margaret Gage.

But One Other Similar Event. Only once before has a silver wedding been celebrated in the White House. That was on December 20, 1877, when President and Mrs. Hayes celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding.

It is a curious coincidence that Mrs. Taft—then Miss Helen N. Herron, daughter of President Hayes' law partner, a beautiful young girl—was a guest at the Hayes reception. It is reported that Miss Herron on that occasion jokingly remarked to President Hayes that she would never marry a man who would not become president of the United States.

SHASTA BANDITS WALK BACKWARD

Bloodhounds Take Trail of the Crafty Pair Who Looted Mailcar Near Drain.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Roseburg, Or., June 17.—Advises from Yonahs say that Sheriff Quins and his posse have not yet returned in that city. Two bloodhounds were received there on the 4 o'clock local and put on the trail. On a hill a short distance northwest of the city tracks were found where the men walked up the hill backward. On top of the hill were found tracks where they turned and walked forward again. It is supposed they did this as a ruse to throw searchers off the track.

It is thought these two are part of a larger number who robbed a general merchandise store at Drain last night, taking several suitcases, suits of clothes, guns, etc.

MAIL CLERK MEYERS TELLS HIS EXPERIENCE WITH SHASTA ROBBERS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Ashland, Or., June 17.—John C. Meyers, who with James L. Gray and S. J. Grimes, all of Portland, made up the three mail clerks in the mail car of the Shasta Limited, said today: "We had just pulled out of Drain and were busy at our work when we were started by a command to 'Throw up your hands.'"

"The two men had us covered with their revolvers and resistance was impossible. We held up our hands. The men ordered us to cut open the registered pouches and put the packages in one pouch. We did so and as the train neared Rice station, we were compelled at the point of the robbers' revolvers to pull the emergency signal. They threatened to kill us if we did not do this. When the train began to slow down the robbers jumped off and disappeared in the darkness. They did not have masks on but tried in every way to hide their features. The people at Rice station were notified and the train proceeded.

"The men did not impress us as being old hands at the hold up business and were extremely nervous. They were both young men.

The men in charge of the mail car report that the robbers took all registered matter except one Los Angeles pouch which was overlooked. The clerks can give no explanation of how the men entered the car. The doors are supposed to be kept locked, nor can anyone be found who remembers seeing any suspicious characters before the men entered the mail car. It is supposed that they boarded the train platform of the car at Drain, where the train stops for water, and began operations immediately after the train pulled out.

GIRL PRIESTESS SPURNS ALL FOR SEE, "LIFE'S REVEALER"

"Public May Crucify Me Upon Cross of Contempt But I'll Never Testify Against Him," She Says.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Chicago, June 17.—"The public may crucify me upon the cross of its contempt, but I will never testify against Evelyn Arthur See, the great revealer. I am a pure girl. I know See is the best of men, and no word of mine shall ever be used to send him to prison."

Mildred Bridges, the 17-year-old high priestess of the cult of the absolute life, toward whose delinquency See is charged with contributing, today made this final reply to Assistant State Attorney Burnham. In doing so the girl spurned the offer of her father to make her his sole heir, with an income of $10,000 a year. No inducement could force her to agree to testify against See.

Mothers Remain Firm. Examples of splendid, if misplaced, devotion, will be shown by Mildred Bridges, by her mother, Mrs. Stephen Bridges, by Mrs. Moore and by her mother, Mrs. Felicia Rees. The two women whom the state charges with turning their daughters over to See for immoral purposes will be his firmest adherents in his actual trial, which opens Monday.

The women believe See to have been what he professed—the revealer of an absolute life, disciple of a race of perfect mothers, and a living reincarnation of God.

One Girl Will Tell. But the state has found one woman who will not stand so blindly by the revealer. It was announced this afternoon that Bertha Kleinhaus, now 16, formerly a neophyte in See's junior commonwealth, has agreed to take the witness stand and tell all the things she saw and heard in the commonwealth during her three years' life there. She is expected to testify that See took only young girls into the inner temple of the cult. It is said the girl's statement will be a sensational exposition of the actions in this strange cult.

Stephen Bridges, father of Mildred and for a time a follower of See, will be another important state witness. He is a very wealthy wholesale jeweler, and his wife gave thousands of dollars to See for the carrying on of the work of the cult.

There is every probability that See will make the closing address to the jury for the defense, though such a move will be bitterly opposed by the state's attorney. See claims this to be his constitutional right, and attorneys believe Judge Honore will grant his request.

WHITE GIRL MARRIES JAPANESE; TRIALS MANY

(United Press Leased Wire.) Kansas City, Mo., June 17.—Miss Carlotta Conklin, 20, of Topeka, Kan., was married tonight at Omaha, to Elynick Oda, a Japanese, after unsuccessful attempts to wed at Kansas City, St. Joe and Council Bluffs, where they were refused marriage licenses.
