SAYS DRUG CLERK WAS WITHOUT LICENSE

Evidence was given yesterday in the case of Orton Goodwin against the drug firm of Rowe & Martin, which case is on trial before Judge Gatens of the circuit court, that G. H. Hall, clerk in charge of the drug store the night Goodwin's arm was badly burned by a drug, had been refused four times a license to practice pharmacy.

Hall testified early in the trial that he was working on a permit from the state board of pharmacy, but Frank Pozzi, secretary of the board, said there was no record of the permit. Several physicians in his morning testimony testified that Goodwin suffered considerable pain.

Goodwin went to the drug store to have a mosquito bite attended. The drug clerk is charged with using a strong solution of trichlorol, instead of a one per cent solution as prescribed by Dr. M. J. Denny.

WILLAPA COMPANY IS SUED FOR ACCOUNTING

Suit for an accounting of the affairs of the Willapa Development company was started this morning in the circuit court by Farris & Bagley, attorneys for the company. They charge that other members of the development company are in collusion to defraud them. The company was capitalized at $750,000.

HORSE DEALER IS PLACED ON TRIAL

T. H. Murphy, proprietor of the New York Club stables, Sixteenth and Alder streets, is on trial in Justice Bell's court, charged with disposing of horses that develop from high spirited, handsome animals into lame, sick and sometimes dead horses. Witnesses testified this morning to purchasing horses from one Ghormley, which afterward either died or grew ill and worthless. It is alleged that Murphy and Ghormley are partners.

WILLIAM MCCARTHY IS PLACED ON TRIAL

The case of William McCarthy, charged with trying to induce six young women to go to Alaska for immoral purposes, is on trial today in the circuit court. Three girls in the county jail have admitted to Sheriff Stevens and Deputy District Attorney Fitzgerald that McCarthy had all arrangements made for them to go to the Alaskan gold fields last spring to enter houses of questionable reputation.

Graduate Summa Cum Laude in Three Years

Miss Hattie Hyde of Portland (at the left) and Miss Laura Kennan of Baker City, who received degrees at the University of Oregon this morning, having done four years' work in three and received highest honors as well.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) University of Oregon, Eugene, Or., June 21.—To Miss Hattie Hyde of Portland and Miss Laura Kennan of Baker have fallen the greatest scholastic honors of any members of the class of 1911, of the University of Oregon. It is an honor which few attain to cover the prescribed four years' course in three years. However, these young women have not only accomplished this, but they have graduated "summa cum laude," or with the greatest honors in scholarship. This means they have received over 95 per cent in at least one half of their work, and that they have been allowed to fall below 80 per cent in only three subjects. Miss Hyde majors in mathematics, a subject which is considered one of the hardest in the university. Miss Kennan is an education major. Both young women also received special mention for their thesis work. Both are members of the Delta Delta Delta sorority.

Officers of the Alumnae. The woman graduates of the university have decided to award a scholarship of $150, to be known as the Mary Spiller scholarship, to some one needy woman student who shows scholastic ability. The funds will be raised from the membership fee of $1 charged club members. Officers for the coming year were elected as follows Monday: Mrs. G. M. Collier, Eugene, president; Miss Mary Watson, Eugene, vice president; Miss Ruth Hanson, Portland, second vice president; Miss Gretta Bristow, Eugene, recording treasurer.

Professor Hawthorne Is 74. Professor B. J. Hawthorne, for a number of years head of the department of psychology at the University of Oregon, but retired on a Carnegie pension in 1910, yesterday celebrated his seventy-fourth birthday. Professor Hawthorne entered the service of the university in 1884, and taught continuously until 1910, 26 years. He then retired on the Carnegie pension awarded to college professors, who have served 25 years. However, he did not consider his life work ended here. He took up the study of law after leaving the university, and was admitted to the bar after the recent state examinations.

COUNTY GIVES $2000 TOWARD STOCK FAIR

After going over the finances of the county, the county court yesterday afternoon decided to appropriate $2000 to the Portland Livestock fair to be used in awards on livestock. This is the first appropriation ever made to the exhibition, but in order to encourage stockmen in entering exhibits, the court has intimated that next year a much larger donation will be made. So intimated was the fair association waited upon the three members of the county court and presented their requests for financial assistance. The committees asked for a larger amount, but on account of extensive road work and other important county officials were unable to give more than the $2000.

POLICE WANT BOYSEN'S LICENSE TAKEN AWAY

A petition is being circulating among members of the police department asking for revocation of F. T. Boyesen's liquor license. This action is taken because Boyesen has been arrested seven times for violation of the liquor ordinances. On the occasion of his last arrest Patrolman Myers was beaten over the head with his own handcuffs that had been wrested from him by Boyesen's wife. Boyesen was fined $15 and the woman was given a suspended sentence. A petition to the county court to this action that the petition was immediately brought to life.

4 STRIKERS VIOLATE ORDINANCE, CHARGED

Sam B. Breeding, Harry L. Nye, Don O'Connell and Henry Peters, arrested last night by Patrolman J. J. White for violating the bill posting ordinance, will be tried on the charge before Judge Taxwell tomorrow. All the defendants are members of the striking electricians recently employed by the Mount Hood railway, and the Power company, and were found sticking up "unfair" posters on telegraph poles and billboards.

SALOON IS ROBBED OF MONEY AND JEWELRY

A burglar entered the Arton saloon, 223 Yamhill, early this morning and took about $9 in small change and some jewelry. Entrance was gained through the air shaft with the aid of a rope. A ladder was pressed into service to make the escape, as the rope was beyond reach of the floor.

Union Motor Club Formed

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) La Grande, Or., June 21.—Selection of directors who will meet within a few days to elect permanent officers has been the purpose of the Union Motor club a rally and within the week every organization detail will have been attended to. The directors were chosen at Hot Lake last Friday night, when 180 auto owners, all of this valley, were assembled for the purpose. Better roads and the promotion of social features are the purposes of the club. Long runs will be outlined before the season is over.

WHEELS FOR THE COULWITS PLANT

Rushing Work on Mt. Hood Line's Project—First Installation in 1912.

Immense power will be developed by the Mount Hood Railway & Power company when the huge dam is completed at Sulphur Springs on the Couwits river. General Manager Smith returned last evening from the scene of operations and states that the excavation work is going rapidly ahead. More men will soon be added. It is expected the first installation will be made in the fall of 1912.

A double circuit will be carried from the plant to the vicinity of Winlock, Wash., where branch lines will be extended to the sound, to the southwest Washington section and to Portland. The point farthest north to be supplied with power will be Tacoma, and south to Portland.

The first installation will consist of 25,000 horsepower. Later 25,000 horsepower more will be carried out, and if necessary 25,000 more may be developed, making in all 75,000 horsepower. The work is not progressing as fast as the company desires owing to the lack of transportation facilities.

The nearest railroad point is Morton, Wash., which is 70 miles distant. Although the road is excellent, the delay in transporting freight is a serious problem and will become more serious as heavy machinery is needed. Just now there is little demand for heavy freight as the work consists mainly of excavating and canal digging. However, this will soon be completed.

The site on the Couwits is held by the Valley Development company, which is allied with the Mount Hood company and not until the new railroad entered the site in 1907. The power plant begun. Now it will be completed as rapidly as possible.

DECLARES GOOD ROADS ARE BOON

Fine Homes and Up-to-Date Highways Go Hand-in-Hand, Says Bates.

Good roads building was told in pictures by Philip S. Bates, special representative of the Federal highway department and director of the Oregon Association for Highway Improvement, before the monthly meeting of the Rotary club in Richards' grill last night.

Colored views reproduced from photographs and furnished by the department, showed the benefits of good roads to a community. An empty wagon was stuck in the mud of an unimproved road. Over the same road improved, a load of nearly three tons was easily and smoothly drawn by the same team.

By the side of a rough and rocky thoroughfare stood a log cabin. The road was unimproved. A modern home soon took the place of the cabin. The benefits of the simple replacing of a rotten wooden culvert with one of concrete near Medford was shown by the views.

Whenever a country was "down at the heels," its highways were shown to be unimproved. When ever schools and churches and modern homes dotted the landscape and all available land was tilled, the roads were uniformly shown to have been systematically and permanently made.

The club endorsed the highway movement in Oregon and pledged help to it. President Carlos T. Prall of the Oregon Association for Highway Improvement outlined the policy of the new organization. He stated that the highway legislation will be obtained only through the initiative and that laws should be submitted for popular approval at the very next election.

A musical program was furnished by a musical program in which the members participated. "A Rotary Booster Song," by C. C. Chapman, was sung with enthusiasm and encored with vigor.

WHITE SALMON RIVER WOMAN BADLY BURNED

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) White Salmon, Wash., June 21.—While tar was being boiled for the roof of the White Salmon, a tent caught fire and in attempting to recover some articles Mrs. McCready's clothes were fired and her back and limbs were burned to the heels, leaving her in a critical condition. The burning clothes were put out by rushing her into a nearby creek.

VERDICT OF $5000 DAMAGES RENDERED

Peter Planas, formerly an employe of the Union Meat company, received a verdict for $5000 damages from the Spokane, Portland and Seattle railway today in the United States circuit court. Planas was unloading a car of meat, he claimed, when a switch engine belonging to the defendant bumped into the car without warning, crushing his foot between the car and the post. The railway company contended the Union Meat company should be blamed for the accident and also said Planas, being but 20 years old, had no right to bring the suit for himself.

Bids Opened.

Bids for the nurses' home at the Multnomah county hospital were opened this morning in the county court. The bids were as follows: Thomas Muir, $16,371; E. B. White, $14,157; Roy O. Powers, $13,575; J. K. Flynn, $13,937; Anton Toller, $14,640; W. C. Arthur & Son, $13,592; and C. W. Green, $17,484. The bids were referred to the county architect, and he will report the successful bidder Friday morning.

Clifford Returns Home.

J. O. Clifford, auditor of freight accounts of the Chicago & Northwestern railway, who has been visiting his daughter, Mrs. J. K. Eaton, left this morning for his home in Chicago. Mr. Clifford's visit was a pleasure trip and had no connection with railroad business. He was completely captivated with Portland's climate and roses.

MUST PAY WIFE $40 PER MONTH

W. J. Walters, Manager of Mining Company, Charged With Non-Support.

W. J. Walters, manager of the Goodhope Gold & Mining company, was ordered this morning by County Judge Cleaton to pay his wife $40 a month for support. The judge severely rebuked Walters for the treatment of his young wife, and said if her story were proven true, sufficient cause existed for an investigation by the authorities.

Mrs. Walters said her husband had attempted to induce her to lead an immoral life for his benefit. Walters denies this. They were married in November at Vancouver, B. C., and came to Portland soon afterward. The wife said Walters has refused to support her since June 1. She testified he has been earning a large salary.

Judge Cleaton told Mrs. Walters that she should not expect to live in idleness, but should go to work. He said that she was partly to blame for her domestic troubles, but the husband should not take advantage of this and attempt to escape supporting her. Deputy District Attorney Dennison insisted that Walters put up a bond of $500 to insure payments.

SUNDAY SCHOOL DELEGATES BUSY

Five Meetings Held Today, Preliminary to Tomorrow's Convention.

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Francisco, June 21.—With five meetings in four churches and the M. C. A. assembly hall, preliminary conferences of the various branches of the International Sunday School association today prepared for the formal opening of the triennial convention at the Coliseum tonight. During the morning the elementary department met at the First Congregational church, Mrs. Mary Foster Bryner presiding.

FEAR OF WHITE PLAGUE MAKES CURE DIFFICULT

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Denver, Colo., June 21.—Several speakers of note addressed the annual meeting of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis today.

Dr. George R. Pogue of Greeley, Colo., showed how in the small cities and towns the present anti-tuberculosis movement had tended to produce a certain fear and dread of tuberculosis, because of the lack of adequate official information, made the control of this disease very difficult.

He showed how common latent tuberculosis is, particularly among children, and held that the reason why the disease was so deadly in the years immediately following adolescence was because there was an over indulgence in food at the class room and boarding house, together with the many other things that go to lower the resisting power of the already infected individual.

If the facts about this condition of disease, which were utilized as a basis for anti-tuberculosis work, the local control of consumption would be much more easy of accomplishment. "A department of health," he said, "with a cabinet officer at its head, could do a better job, with many trained subordinates, do more to control and prevent tuberculosis in man than can ever be done by trying to educate the people along the lines now laid down. I do not attempt to criticize the work that has been or is now being done by so many well meaning people all over the civilized world, but I do see a great necessity for more light on the subject and a necessity for having facts to deal with."

ALBANY COMMERCIAL CLUB HAS BUSY YEAR

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Albany, Or., June 21.—The report of the secretary of the Albany Commercial club shows that $6000 was expended last year in the activities of the club. A working balance remains in the treasury and pledges subscriptions for the current year's work are being solicited to carry on an effective campaign of publicity.

New officers have been elected as follows: President, W. A. Eastburn; vice president, C. W. Tabata; secretary, C. F. Stewart; treasurer, William B. Egan. For the selection of directors there was a spirited contest, the following board of 16 being chosen: C. E. Sox, C. B. Winn, W. H. Marvin, J. M. Hawkins, F. M. French, Dr. W. R. Shinn, J. E. Collins, George E. Crowell, P. E. Gilbert, Charles Stewart, Alfred C. Shmitt, William Fortmiller, J. S. Van Winkle, A. M. Hammer, Fred P. Nutting.

The Albany club has inaugurated plans for a comprehensive Willamette valley display of products to be exhibited at the Omaha fair in connection with similar displays at Chicago and St. Paul, Minn. This fall, it is proposed to enlist the commercial bodies of all the valley towns in obtaining the exhibits to the end that it will be thoroughly representative of all sections. It will be designated as "Willamette Valley, Oregon," exhibit. An endeavor will be made to enlist the several county courts to cooperate in defraying the expense.

MRS. STINSON IS GRAND CHIEF OF PYTHIAN SISTERS

Knights Take Up Legislative Matters Today; Parade of Knights of Khorassan Is a Novel Feature at Astoria.

Portland has been chosen as the next place of meeting by the Grand lodge of Knights of Pythias and Pythian Sisters. The time of meeting will probably be changed to October instead of June.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Astoria, Or., June 21.—This morning's session of the grand lodge was taken up with legislative matters, and this afternoon the question of greatest importance to be decided is the next place of meeting.

The meeting of the grand temple of the Pythian Sisters yesterday afternoon was taken up with reading and referring the reports of the officers and committee work. The election of officers was postponed to the morning's session and resulted as follows:

Yesterday afternoon's session of the Knights of Pythias grand lodge consisted in reading the reports of the officers and the election of officers for the coming year. A pleasant feature of the afternoon session was the presence of Union B. Hunt of Indianapolis, Ind., who is the head of the insurance department of the order and a past grand chancellor of the Indiana grand lodge. The following grand officers were elected:

Supreme representative, Marion F. Deas, of Paris, grand chancellor, Frank T. Wrightman, Salem; grand vice chancellor, J. H. Gwinn, Pendleton; grand prelate, J. H. Westcott, Gaston; grand keeper of records and seal, L. R. Stinson, Salem; grand master of exchequer, J. W. Maloney, Pendleton; grand secretary, George Rose, Marshfield; grand inner guard, Roy Williams, Brownsville; grand outer guard, Nathaniel Jones, Astoria.

This was the sixteenth consecutive election of Mr. Stinson as grand keeper of records and seal and the eighth consecutive election of Mr. Maloney as grand master of exchequer.

Last night was given over entirely to the D. O. K. K., who began their evening's entertainment with a grand parade through the streets of the city. The parade possessed many unique and amusing features. It was headed by the Centennial drum corps under the leadership of "Red" Brown and the military band from Port Stevens. The officers of the order rode in automobiles and the parade was escorted by many armed guards escorting the tyros, who were to be initiated during the evening. Other wild animals followed, caged in wagons, notable among which was a cage full of monkeys. Another represented the Astoria sea wall in 1911 and was loaded with four sacks filled with sawdust, bearing the words, "Product of Astoria Hills." Then followed members of the grand lodge and local lodges at foot.

Upon arrival at the oasis (Logan's hall) the Knights of Khorassan proceeded to divert themselves after their arduous pilgrimage by turning the tiger loose upon the unfortunate tyros, nearly 100 of whom passed through the ordeal and thus became members of the D. O. K. K. The tyros who coupled the greater portion of the night.

The Portland Esperantists are making extensive preparations for the reception and entertainment of the delegates to the Northern Esperanto association which will convene in this city July 19, 20 and 21.
