

ADMIRERS RAVE OVER MISS BURKE

Actress Retains Her Cute
Ways and Clever Tricks
—Kerr Makes Hit.

By J. F. S.
Miss Billie Burke need not worry lest she lose her vogue yet a while. All her old friends—one could tell them by their exclamations—and many new ones—one could also tell them by their exclamations—were at the Hellig to greet and rave over her. W. Somerset Maugham, who "did" the play—likewise "Smith" seen at the same house last week—was quite buried in the ruffiness of Miss Burke's hair and the caressing tones of Miss Burke's voice. But that, of course, is Mr. Maugham's own fault.

"Mrs. Dot" is an entertaining comedy, bright in spots, dull in others, but serves as a very good accompaniment for the music of Miss Burke herself.

Kerr Scores Hit.
It also serves to bring out Fred Kerr, whose acting in the part of the good natured cynic—aside from the fact that such roles always are popular—was the best of the evening. Throughout the second and third acts especially Mr. Kerr really held the center of the stage without appearing to make any effort to do so.

By this time Miss Burke is pretty well known to theatre goers—so much so as to make any attempt at analysis of the young lady's acting not only unnecessary but unpopular. She's growing up from the child who used to attract attention from John Drew and she has become as attractive a woman as she was a girl. Her funny little tricks of wrinkling up her forehead and dabbing at her nose are still cute.

Chance for Oryles.
So is her voice and her manner. Her singing voice is quite undesirable, however, and she doesn't attempt to do much with it—just one little song that she trills as she enters the room—and stops before it becomes serious.

The characters in "Mrs. Dot" don't amount to much. They escape without being objectionable, though. Annie Edmond is good and so is G. Harrison Carter.

Tomorrow afternoon's matinee will be a sight for real life cynics. Women dote on Miss Burke. There will be two hours and a half of pure rapture on tap, from the minute she comes on with her first gown, which she admits, makes her respectability look questionable, until the last, when she throws herself into the arms of the handsome Mr. L'Estrange, having won her husband through an admirable display of feminine sagacity.

The light lands of the western part of Unadilla and eastern Morrow, on which wheat is produced during good years, shared in the downpour equally with more favored localities and while the rain is late, will now produce a fair yield.

Drain Has 3 1/2 Inch in Seven Hours.
(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Drain, Or., June 27.—Between seven o'clock yesterday morning and two o'clock in the afternoon three quarters of an inch of rain fell here, preceding which a period of several weeks had elapsed with practically no rain. While crops were not suffering greatly the thorough soaking of the ground has resulted in the most beneficial benefit to all grain and garden crops. Little damage will result to the early hay crop as first cuttings have been taken care of; in any event the little damage that may have been sustained will be made up for several times over by the increased yield resulting from this splendid downpour.

Eastern Cowlitz Cut Hay Hurt.
(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Woodland, Wash., June 27.—A splendid warm rain commenced falling Sunday afternoon and continued at intervals all night and part of yesterday and will do incalculable good to the growing crops, although it will cause considerable loss to hay that was down in the fields unless the sun comes out quickly. This loss, however, will be more than offset by the increase in the growing crops, as they had begun to suffer somewhat seriously from the cold nights and lack of rain. The nights are much warmer than they have been and this with the present rain will do much.

Wasco Rain Late But Helpful.
(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
The Dalles, Or., June 27.—Rain which was general throughout Wasco county began falling yesterday morning and continued during the day. The rain will be quite beneficial to crops as it will cause wheat to fill heavier, but had it fallen two weeks ago it would have made the crops 25 per cent better. Hay harvest in this locality is well advanced, and heading will begin the middle of July. The crop throughout the county is light, and will likely not be more than two-thirds of average.

Dufur Orchards and Fields Soaked.
(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Dufur, Or., June 27.—Southern Wasco was visited by a heavy rain yesterday afternoon and evening, the fall being unusually heavy for this time of year. The dry spell had been very prolonged, but the soil tributary to Dufur in most instances is such as to retain moisture well, so that wheat will respond even.

Any Complexion Can Be Made Beautiful
(From Styles of Today.)

Mme. Merou, of Paris, perhaps the world's greatest authority on beauty and dress, says that now no woman need despair of possessing a clear complexion and a satiny skin.
"Even a plain woman," says the famous Merou, "attains a complexion which is the envy of her friends when she dissolves a small original package of mayotone in eight ounces of witch hazel, and massages her face, arms and neck with this solution daily. You soon notice a lovely clearness which is sweetly enchanting."
"Mayotone leaves no trace of grease or stickiness. It purifies, beautifies and preserves the complexion as nothing else can, and prevents the growth of superfluous hairs."
"You never use powder or cosmetic when you use mayotone. Make the solution yourself. Your druggist can easily supply the ingredients, or he can easily send you a wholesale druggist for you, if he desires to be accommodating."

Utah Covers Trial Course

Contract.

Rockland, Maine, June 27.—At top speed the latest giant of the United States navy, the battleship Utah, covered her trial course at an average of 21.255 knots yesterday. She was required to make a speed of 20.75 knots.

By this time Miss Burke is pretty well known to theatre goers—so much so as to make any attempt at analysis of the young lady's acting not only unnecessary but unpopular. By Courtesy of the Scientific American.

Twenty runs were made and the vessel's highest speed mark was 21.637. On three trials she made 20.556 knots. It is expected that the Utah will be ready to go into commission about August 15, as the vessel is nearly 99 per cent completed.

The largest warship so far completed for the United States navy has a displacement of 21,875 tons, while the battleship Delaware, the biggest Dreadnought in the fleet assembled off Portsmouth, England, for the coronation review of King George, has a displacement of 20,000 tons.

uniform, and no water would be either used or wasted unless it was paid for. Smaller Users Complain.
Another fact that has multiplied dissatisfaction among small home owners is that meters have been supplied to the larger water users, thus decreasing their expenses and throwing the great burden of cost upon smaller water users.

Those who do not get meters are told that they are installed only where there is danger of waste. Meters, of course, stop the waste and cut the water rents. The family that has used water as sparingly as though measured by a meter then proceeds to pay as much as though it were wasting large quantities. The department's charge by meter is 10 cents a thousand gallons. That few families legitimately use more than 7500 gallons, is shown by the fact that their rents usually do not run above the 75-cent minimum. The meter shows that many do not use more than 3000 gallons a month; thus their charge would be 30 cents upon a basis of actual consumption.

Under Mayor Lane an effort was made to meter the entire city, as a matter of justice to consumers and economy in water use. Making of Contracts.
At the close of Mayor Lane's administration there were 12,517 meters in use, representing a little more than one-third of the homes. Mayor Simon's policy was persistently against investment.

Health and Beauty Answers

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN.

C. S. S.: The secret of good health is really very simple. For that listless, exhausted feeling and to clear up your sallow, pimply skin, you should take a good tonic to rid your system of the impurities in the blood. You will find nothing better than the old-fashioned tonic: Get an ounce of karoene and one half pint alcohol at any drug store; mix together, then add one half cup water and hot water to make a full quart. A tablespoonful taken before each meal will soon clear your skin of pimples, sallowness and bring back the glow of health to your cheeks. You will recover your lost appetite and enjoy the feeling of perfect health. As a body builder and health preserver, it has never been seen anything to equal this simple home-made remedy.

Mrs. H. T.: (a) To give your hair that soft, glossy skininess so much admired, use twice a week the following hair tonic: Mix one ounce quinquina in one half pint alcohol, and one ounce pint cold water. This tonic promotes the health of the hair and scalp and keeps the hair soft and from getting dry and matted. It stops the hair falling out and destroys dandruff almost instantly. For an itching scalp you will find it very effective. (b) Yes, your husband will find spurious lotion very fine to use after shaving.

Clara S.: If you want a smooth, rosy complexion that possesses the charms of youthfulness, you must not use powder on your face. It clogs up the skin pores, enlarges them and often causes wrinkles. The following recipe is much better than powder as it does not show on the skin or rub off so easily: Dissolve four ounces of spumax in one half pint hot water; when cool add two teaspoonfuls glycerine. Apply to the skin, rubbing gently until dry. A skin whitener and complexion beautifier you will find it simply grand. I find it excellent for removing and preventing freckles, skin pimples, roughness, sunburn and chapping in the wind. This lotion will take off the shine to your skin and remove that sallow, greasy look.

T. A. V.: Never shampoo with soap. The alkali in soap is too strong for the hair and will make it coarse, faded and streaky. It is also dangerous to use so-called "dry shampoos" as the powder simply clogs up the pores in the scalp, causing dandruff and falling, split hairs. To make a good, beneficial shampoo that will be absolutely satisfactory, simply dissolve a teaspoonful of canthox in a cup of hot water. This makes a fine latter that

ORPHEUM BILL UNUSUALLY GOOD

Emma Dunn, Ben Welch, Willa Holt Wakefield and Others
Score Big Hits.

By A. L.
If last week's bill at the Orpheum was worth 75 cents the one this week is worth $1.50. Emma Dunn alone would make it that but, when added to her is Ben Welch, Willa Holt Wakefield and the other exceptionally good acts, the Orpheum is nothing if not a mighty entertaining place to go.

In her playlet, "The Baby," brimming with heart interest where tears and laughter mingle, Emma Dunn comes to make a deeper place for herself in the affection of Portland audiences. The scene of the sketch is laid in a New York foundling asylum and deals with a little immigrant mother who is forced to leave her baby there. Miss Dunn's characterization has all of the pathos with the haunting smile of so many foreigners and through it all glows the wonderful light of mother love. Miss Dunn is cleverly assisted by Helen Lindroth, Charles Hepler and John Stokes, the author, who is particularly fine and manly in his part.

Striking another note but striking as truly in Willa Holt Wakefield, who gives "song readings" that are delights from beginning to end. Sparkle and originality marked all of her songs and in "Lil' Black Coon" she soared to the heights. Miss Wakefield gownned her act handsomely.

The only Ben Welch returned to receive the plaudits of scores of friends. He always has a new line of chatter funnier than it was last year and as usual burlesques all of the acts that have gone before. Miss Dunn's act coming in for the largest share. The Hebrew and Italian of Ben Welch are characters to be anticipated with joy and greeted with enthusiasm as often as he comes this way.

The Charles Ahrens Cynical Comedy presents a rip roaring act that is full of new features and surprises. It is brought to a brilliant finish with a race for world championship honors. Another excellent ventriloquist act comes to hand with McCormick and Wallace, who carry their own act and some of the best dummies that have been seen here. Their patter is good and Mr. McCormick does some exceptional voice placing.

The bill is given a winning start by Anderson, McNeil and Saavedra, a musical trio which won instant favor. Al Carleton, monologist, got a good start but lost the pace. His act should be a scream.

TRAIN CRUSHES AUTO; PHYSICIAN IS KILLED

Oakland, Cal., June 27.—Struck by a Berkeley local train at Fortieth and San Pablo avenues, at 1 o'clock this morning, an automobile containing Dr. W. H. Rice and F. C. Passing of Historic Edifice.
Boston, Mass., June 27.—The old courthouse of Boston, whose walls often echoed with the eloquence of men like Rufus Choate and Benjamin F. Butler, was disposed of at public auction today, preparatory to being torn down to make room for a new structure. The structure was erected in 1837 on the site of an older courthouse, in which Captain Kidd was confined while awaiting trial. In the newer courthouse many celebrated trials took place, including that of Professor John White Webster for the murder of Dr. George Parkman, and many years later of Jesse Pomeroy, convicted of the murder of little children.
