Seamen's Walk-Out in Glasgow Marked by Fierce Fighting on Docks.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Glasgow, June 23.—Fierce rioting at the city docks today marked the seamen's strike in Glasgow.

Many persons were hurt and scores arrested.

Liverpool, June 23.—More than 4000 longshoremen employed by the White Star, Cunard, Elder, Dominion and Canadian Pacific lines struck here today in sympathy with the striking seamen. Shipping in this port is at a standstill, but no effort will be made to import strikebreakers, at least for the present, through hope that a settlement of the marine war is soon to come.

The crews of every liner now docked in Liverpool today joined the seamen's strike.

Hull, England, June 23.—A strike of dock laborers here, in sympathy with the striking seamen, today has absolutely tied up all the fish and provision trade of the east coast of England.

Assembling on the docks here this afternoon, striking laborers drove a throng of strikebreakers into the water.

The police charged the mob but was unable to disperse it and troops were called out. Before their onrush the strikers fled.

Union leaders sought a truce pending a conference with the employers, but the men refused and quit work at once.

HENWOOD'S TRIAL ATTRACTS WOMEN

Great Crowd of Murder 'Fans' Jams Into Courtroom to Hear Arguments.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Denver, Colo., June 23.—Before a court packed with women, all eager to hear details of the secret life of Mrs. John S. Springer, the wealthy "woman in the case," Judge Whitford today read instructions to the jury which is trying Frank H. Henwood for killing George Copeland in an affray here in which he also slew Aviator "Tony" Von Phul of St. Louis.

Attorneys for Henwood took exception to some of the court's instructions, but the curiosity of the women for the inside history as to the connection of Von Phul, Henwood and Mrs. Springer was sparingly gratified.

Argument for the state is being made by District Attorney Elliott, who will close, and Assistant District Attorney Chilea, while Attorney Bottom will present Henwood's case. It is not believed the lawyers will conclude in time for the case to go to the jury before night.

The instructions of Judge Whitford entirely eliminated voluntary or involuntary manslaughter. He told the jury they must convict Henwood of first or second degree murder of Copeland or acquit him.

SIGNAL RIDES HARD ON CAMEL'S BACK

Steam Schooner Ashore at Golden Gate—May Soon Be Total Wreck

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Francisco, June 23.—Founding on the rocks of the Camel's Back, near the Cliff House, the $50,000 steam schooner Signal today is in imminent danger of becoming a total wreck. The Signal struck late last night after her high pressure valve stem had blown off while she was close in shore.

Powerful searchlights from Fort Miley and illumination from scores of automobiles aided in the rescue of Captain Herbert Nason after the Signal struck. Nason and his crew of seven men, with S. E. Phillips, a garbage inspector of Oakland, who was aboard, managed to get a line ashore after the ship struck and the Fort Miley troops aided them up the cliffs after they had swung through the air on a breeches buoy.

Whistles from the Signal after she had drifted, stern first, on the rocks, called attention to the vessel's plight. When, before help arrived, Captain Nason and his men tried to launch the life boat, it was instantly smashed by the surf and Chief Engineer Harry Peale, who was in it, would have been drowned but that he was dragged back aboard ship by Captain Nason.

Today the Signal is still grinding on the Cliff House rocks and it is feared she will be a total loss. The vessel, which was used to haul Oakland garbage to sea, is owned by Eben Curtiss of Alameda.
