

LAW LIBRARY IS INVALUABLE NEED OF THE ATTORNEY

William K. Lowery of Chicago Addresses Multnomah Bar Association — Says Canal Will Be Aid to Portland.

Attorney William K. Lowery.

Portland is a village today compared with what it will be within a few years. It was only a few years ago that Chicago was a swamp, but today it is the third city in size in the world. I see no reason why Portland should not make a proportionate growth. We are only a few years from the opening of the Panama canal, and this city is bound to move. By reason of its geographical and climatic conditions, it is bound to be a great port of entry. This was one of the main points emphasized last evening by Attorney William K. Lowery of Chicago, in his talk to the Multnomah Bar association at the courthouse. He was scheduled to speak to the lawyers upon the subject of "Law Libraries," and the talk was introduced by showing the need of the lawyer in his business.

"What does all this growth mean to the lawyer?" continued the speaker. "It means the proportionate growth of his business. With this growth the city's interests will spread to all parts of the orient and foreign ports. The lawyer goes wherever business goes. The two go hand in hand."

Good Library Needed. "One successfully exists by reason of the other. It means that the Portland lawyer must necessarily be prepared to advise his client on legal form and matters in all these foreign ports, and countries." It means that you must have a library that will furnish the necessary information.

"I have been called upon to handle legal matters for clients in Porto Rico, Mexico, the Philippines, Argentina, and many other foreign places. I would have been swamped, should I not have had a good law library. With the development of this state, the lawyers will be called upon more each day to go to a competent law library in order to properly transact your growing business."

Attorney Lowery then spoke of the way the law library question of Cook county, Illinois, was handled. He said that several years ago the Chicago Law Institute was formed, stock was issued, and each attorney is assessed a small fee for the development of it. The stock is transferable. No dividends are paid, as the proposition is not a money making scheme. An entire

MY DAUGHTER WAS CURED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Baltimore, Md.—"I send you here with the picture of my fifteen year old daughter Alice, who was restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She was pale, with dark circles under her eyes, weak and irritable. Two different doctors treated her and called it Green Sickness, but she grew worse all the time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended, and after taking three bottles she has regained her health, thanks to your medicine. I can recommend it for all female troubles."—Mrs. L. A. CORKMAN, 1108 Rutland Street, Baltimore, Md.

Hundreds of such letters from mothers expressing their gratitude for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished for them have been received by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

Young Girls, Heed This Advice. Girls who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, headache, dragging-down sensations, fainting spells or indigestion, should take immediate action and be restored to health by Lydia E. floor in the new county courthouse is given by the county to housing the library.

By in Arms. The lawyers are up in arms over the feeling in the county court that no place should be given the law library. The chief reason is that the court is to be housed in the new building for lack of room. More than a dozen leading attorneys spoke last evening favoring the library to remain in the building, saying that some of the other county officers should have a spirit of fairness and divide room. It was the general expression that the library is used as much by the judges as the lawyers, and should it be moved out of the courthouse the county would have to provide the five judges with the necessary books. The association finally adopted a resolution authorizing a committee to wait upon the county court and ask for room in the east wing of the new building. The committee consists of Attorneys Thomas O'Leary, A. E. Clark, John Hall, Samuel White, Charles J. Fairman, and John Logan and J. L. Vesilic. Attorney A. E. Clark made a short talk on the new commission authorized to reorganize the judiciary of this state. The commission has not met, but each member is informing himself on codes in other states and what should be adopted in Oregon. Mr. Clark said that he was considering a plan of having the probate court work handled by the circuit court, and that suits be first filed with the defendant and afterward in the court.

OAKLAND NOW HAS MUNICIPAL POWER

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Oakland, Or., June 28.—Engineers are establishing permanent grades for Locust street from Second to Sixth street, and as soon as the survey is complete, Locust street will be graded and macadamized, thus giving a solid madamized street from the S. P. station to the new high school. The machinery for the new power plant has been installed and the buildings practically completed, and the city officials expect to be in position to furnish the town with current and lights tomorrow or next day. Oakland has without electric lights for nine months, and the people have been very anxious for the completion and operation of the municipal owned plant, which will be able to furnish current for continued growth of the city for years to come, also furnish power for the municipal water works pumps.

Knights Templar of Montana. Great Falls, Mont., June 28.—Knights Templar from all parts of Montana are in possession of Great Falls today and the business section of the city is a sea of bunting and Masonic emblems. The occasion of the gathering is the annual meeting of the grand commandery, the first that the six knights have ever held in this state, separate from the meetings of the other Masonic grand bodies. The convales opened this morning with a secret session for the reception of reports and the election of officers. Commanderies from Helena, Missoula, Billings, Anaconda, Butte, Kallispell and other leading cities of Montana participated in the parade this afternoon.

Summer White House. Beverly, Mass., June 28.—Parramatta, the new summer White House, is in readiness for the arrival of the presidential family at the end of this week. For several months a small army of workmen of various trades has been engaged in fitting up the house and grounds for the use of the Taft family. The house has been decorated throughout and has been fitted with telegraph, telephone and private signal systems. The spacious barn also has undergone a complete remodeling and is awaiting the arrival from Washington tomorrow of 12 automobiles, including all types of motor vehicles from the natty runabouts to the president's favorite touring car.

Texas Cotton Seed Crushers. Galveston, Texas, June 28.—The Texas Cotton Seed Crushers' association, the membership of which embraces the foremost representatives of the industry in Oklahoma as well as Texas, met in annual convention here today with a large attendance. The session will last three days and will be devoted to the consideration of numerous questions of importance to the membership. The officers in charge of the convention are President F. A. Blain of Fort Worth, Vice President W. A. Sherman of Houston and Secretary Robert Gibson of Dallas.

Discuss Smoke Prevention. Newark, N. J., June 28.—Many of the leading cities of the United States and Canada are represented by delegates at the sixth annual convention of the International Association for the Prevention of Smoke, which met in this city today for a three days' session. At the opening session this morning the visitors were welcomed by Mayor Hausling. This afternoon Professor R. H. Fernald, chief engineer of the United States Geological Survey, delivered an illustrated lecture on "Gas Producers, the Burning of Fuels Smokelessly and the Value of Briquets."

Festivities Continue. London, June 28.—Though today witnessed the departure of all of the representatives of foreign royalty and the special envoys from abroad, the post-coronation festivities and functions continue without abatement. Today the king and queen visited the Royal Agricultural show at the Crown Point estate in Norwich. Tomorrow the populace of the metropolis and tens of thousands of visitors will turn out in force to witness the royal procession attending the reception of the king and queen by the lord mayor at the Guildhall, which will follow the attendance of their majesties earlier in the day on the special thanksgiving service at St. Paul's cathedral.

Sociological Conference. Boston, Mass., June 28.—The fifth annual Sagamore sociological conference opened today at Sagamore Beach, on Cape Cod bay and will continue until Saturday. The program this year provides for the discussion of a wide range of subjects of live public interest. The scheduled speakers include Mayor Emil Seidel of Milwaukee, President G. Stanley Hall of Clark university, Professor Lucy M. Salmon of Vassar college and Dr. S. H. Matthews, dean of the divinity school of the University of Chicago.

Governor to Speak. Oklaheola, Iowa, June 28.—Arrangements completed for the annual meeting of the Iowa State Bar association, which will open here tomorrow for a session of two days, give promise of the most notable gathering in the history of the association. The principal feature of the program will be an address by Governor John Burke of North Dakota on the subject of employers' liability and workmen's compensation acts.

1 STINGY KISS FOR KISS-HUNGRY BRIDE

"Why," Says Villain of Kissless Honeymoon, "I Always Kissed Her Good-night."

New York, June 28.—Declaring that his wife, on their honeymoon, said she "felt like hell," Edward Gambler, cashier and director of the Merchants Exchange National bank, today gave evidence in their divorce suit by which he attempted to explain her charge that he had treated her "as if she were made of stone."

James Gambler said that during their honeymoon abroad his wife spent all her time in their stateroom. "She was always cold to me," declared the disgruntled husband. "When we retired to the cabin she had nothing to say. She had nothing to complain of. Why, I always kissed her good night before going to my own bed. "Once when I asked her to embrace me she put her arms about my neck in barrel hoop fashion. At no time after our marriage did she ever use a single word of endearment to me. "On returning from our honeymoon I asked her why she treated me coldly and she said she did not care for me. I asked how I had lost her love, and she said I never had it." To explain his relations with the "unkissed bride" of Edward Gambler, Harvard Siskler, a millionaire, was subpoenaed today. Gambler declares that, though his wife was always cold to him, she and Siskler frequently kissed and caressed each other. Today Attorney Van Wyck, who represents Mrs. Gambler, insistently questioned the husband to show that although the couple occupied the same apartments in hotels and on steamers, Gambler had never really tried to cultivate his wife's affections.

MOUNTAIN BERRY DAY IS POSSIBLE ON JULY 1

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Weston, Or., June 28.—At a big meeting yesterday additional funds were subscribed for the Strawberry Day and Horse Show at Weston Saturday, July 1, which will be carried through as announced. Free mountain berries will be served, together with cream and home made cake. There will be a free ball game, a broncho busting contest, and other free attractions, while the exhibit committee is preparing an attractive display of mountain products. Short speeches will be made by C. W. Avery, manager of the Blue Mountain sawmill, and E. F. Wilson, Athens attorney. For the horse show, premiums will be awarded in 24 classes, and the finest stock in the Weston and Athens districts will be exhibited.

Church Excursion to Eugene. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Eugene, Or., June 28.—The two Christian churches and the promotion department of the Eugene Commercial club are working together to conduct a special excursion train from Portland to Eugene on July 12, one day after the national convention of the Christian church ends in Portland, expecting to bring several hundred of the delegates from all over the country to this city on that day. As Eugene is one of the greatest strongholds of that denomination in the west and as the Eugene Bible university, one of the big theological colleges of the denomination, is located here, it is believed that a large number of delegates will be attracted to this city by the low rate that will probably prevail on the excursion train.
