

NO PARDON SOUGHT FOR BANDIT TODD

Report Not True That Douglas County Stage Holdup of '83 is to Go Free.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Roseburg, Or., June 28.—No application for pardon has been made to the board of pardons of the United States penitentiary of Leavenworth, Kan., in the case of James R. Todd, the old-time bandit who held up a stage in Douglas county in 1883 and was sent up for life. Todd was convicted of robbing the United States mail and was transferred to Leavenworth from McNeil's island October 10, 1906. R. W. McClaughry, warden at Leavenworth, in response to a query regarding the rumor that Todd was to be released, writes in a letter received yesterday:

Good Prisoner, Writes Warden.
"Todd's record as a prisoner has thus far been clear. He is considered one of the best behaved men in the prison. His health is about normal. I have heard nothing from any quarter, however, to the effect that he is about to receive a pardon or commutation of sentence, nor indeed, have I heard that he was making application for the same. If he is working in that direction, it will be through his friends on the outside."

Marked Coins Convict Him.
Todd used a shotgun and the regulation methods in his holdup of the stage. Among the passengers on the stage was a Chinaman, who afterward swore that he was deprived of marked coins, and it was the possession of these coins which the Chinese passenger said he had which was practically the sole evidence against Todd.

The holdup occurred in Cow creek canyon, Todd performing the job single handed. A few days after the crime, Todd was arrested in a settler's cabin in the canyon by Frank P. Hogan, then sheriff of Douglas county. He had all of the stolen money on his person. A chapter in the case was written over after Todd had served several years of his sentence at McNeil's island, when Hogan went to the penitentiary to visit him. As Hogan appeared at the open window of Todd's cell the embittered convict struck him a terrible blow over the head with a bottle filled with water, felling him to the floor. This blow was declared by acquaintances of the dooped man to be the revengeful stroke of outraged innocence, and created much comment. But as Todd was already in for life, it could not further lengthen his term.

2 TOWNSHIPS CONTAIN 2-2 BILLION TIMBER

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Marshfield, Or., June 28.—Dennis McCarty, official cruiser for Coos county, who with his assistants is making a cruise of all of the timber in the county for the purpose of facilitating a more equitable assessment, has filed a report on two townships. They are townships 24 and 25, in range 16. The figures show that in the two townships there is a total of 2,554,585,000 feet of timber. The average per acre is $2,755. It is believed that these two townships are the most heavily timbered of any in the county.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Port Orford, Or., June 28.—The new planing and shingle mill at Port Orford is about ready to operate. Some of the machinery recently arrived at Bandon and is being installed in the mill. The plant is owned by the Port Orford Land & Development company and is built to replace the mill burned some months ago. The same company owns a sawmill on Elk river, where 30,000 feet of lumber a day is being turned out.

OLD CREMATORY TO BE EMPLOYED

New Plant to Be Closed, But It Will Probably Not Be Razed — Is Up to New Mayor.

"We are not stuck, but still have the old crematory plant," said City Health Officer C. H. Wheeler yesterday afternoon. "The Public Works Engineering company wanted the city to tear down the old plant after the new one had been constructed, but I foresaw that we might yet need the old burner and would not consent to its being razed."

The city health board yesterday, having refused to accept the new incinerating plant at Guild's lake on account of numerous defects in the burner, the Public Works Engineering company announced in a letter that the new plant would be closed down today and would remain so indefinitely unless the city should agree to permit the crematory to be operated hereafter under the supervision of the contractor.

Barley Knocked Around Weston.
(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Weston, Or., June 28.—Tuesday night's heavy rain, unusual for this season, did considerable damage to Weston grain fields. Barley suffered more than wheat. Barley is very tall, thick and rank, and in some instances whole fields were laid as flat as though gone over with a roller. A. Barnes, who has 45 acres of his 100 acre field has fallen and 40 acres on the farm of J. P. L'Heuallen went down. Barley at the Joe Hodgson place was also badly damaged. The barley heads will continue to fill, it is thought, but will be very difficult to cut. Wheat has fallen only in spots, amounting to a few acres in each field. Dale Glory sustained the storm better than red chaff or little club, having stronger straw. Wheat never looked better at this season, and good judges say several fields in this district will go 60 bushels to the acre should the weather continue favorable. Except for last night's storm weather has been ideal. A few years ago J. M. Bandler sowed 23 bushels of wheat to the acre from 208 acres, constituting a record crop for this locality, but he has a good chance to beat his own record this harvest.

Spring Grain Will Fill Fairly.
(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Sundale, Wash., June 28.—Copious rains have fallen, though too late to help out the fall grain. Spring grain is now in the milk and will fill out fairly well. Gardens will feel the good effects and orchards be benefited. Within a week .47 of an inch has fallen.

Oakland Outlook Made Good.
(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Oakland, Or., June 28.—The fine rains of Monday and Tuesday insure bumper crops of fall grain and the spring sown fields have been materially benefited by the added moisture. Orchard and garden crops never looked better, and farmers and produce raisers anticipate big harvests.

Party of 40 to Climb Mt. Adams on July 3
(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
White Salmon, Wash., June 28.—J. A. Wheeler, of Hood River, will head a party of 40 of his fellow townsmen on a trip to Glenwood next Sunday for the purpose of ascending Mount Adams on Monday. After firing off some crackers at the summit they will descend in time to spend the Fourth at Glenwood. Mount Adams, though higher than Mount Hood, is easier of ascent, a wagon trail leading up to the snow line and the climbing from there being up an easy grade. Albert Kuhnhausen of Glenwood will guide the party, among whom may be Tom Lawson, of Boston, who has seen Adams from the Trout lake side and will not be satisfied till he has made the ascent. A party of over 60 from Seattle will make the climb from Glenwood later in the month.

10,000 Tons of Freight Promised.
(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
White Salmon, Wash., June 28.—As an incentive to build their contemplated electric line from the Columbia river through White Salmon toward Trout lake, a representative of the Northwestern Electric company has promised the Mount Adams Electric line, a local corporation, the freighting of at least 10,000 tons of material. The vessel's profit on the White Salmon river where a 100 foot high dam is to be built. The Northwestern intends to develop great power on the river, and while it has talked of a railway, desires some other operation to build it.

OLYMPIC IS OFF AGAIN WITH $5000 IN DRINKS FOR POPULACE OF 1205
(United Press Leased Wire.)
New York, June 28.—When the White Star liner Olympiad, the largest vessel afloat, sailed for England this afternoon at 3 o'clock, she carried 1205 cabin passengers, 730 of whom were first class. The vessel's profit for the round trip will be $175,000. Food and drink valued at $80,000 were loaded aboard the new ocean leviathan before she departed on her first eastward trip. About the same sum will be spent to fill the larder and the ice box each time the Olympic lands here.

WHEAT IN GILLAM IS TWICE SOAKED

Crop Will Exceed That of Last Year and May Beat the County Average.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Condon, Or., June 28.—Gilliam county has received its second rain storm within the past week. In the first rain .47 of an inch of water fell and in the rain received Monday night and yesterday morning .78 of an inch fell. This rainfall at this time has saved such crops of this county as were planted late in the spring. Fall grain is looking excellent and after the rain in the latter part of next week early spring wheat advanced to a stage where it looks as fine as the fall wheat.

Farmers and merchants who carried long faces for a week prior to the rains of last week and yesterday are today predicting more than an average crop at any rate. It is stated by conservative individuals that the yield will exceed last year's, when Condon alone received 750,000 bushels of wheat.

AVIATOR SKIMS OVER FALLS OF NIAGARA
(United Press Leased Wire.)
Niagara Falls, N. Y., June 28.—Lincoln Beachey, the motor aviator who is giving exhibitions here today, holds the record of being the first birdman to dare Niagara. In a biplane Beachey circled the falls, swooped down beneath the arches of the upper steel bridge and skimmed down the gorge almost to the whirlpool rapids before rising to the Canadian shore where he made a successful landing. Beachey's flight was the first attempt of any aviator to cut through the treacherous air currents and mists of the cataract. He will attempt to repeat the feat late today.

Friends of the boy say he had been drinking heavily the last few days, struggling against the habit for some time and despairing of breaking it, acquaintances believe he sought relief in death.

The young man dined with his family at noon and appeared in normal spirits although he had not worked at all Monday morning and had talked with one or two merchants in town regarding bills he owed. He went for the mail as usual after dinner. Returning he gave his mother a letter. To the inquiry whether he had received any mail, the boy gave no answer but started at once for his room upstairs.

No one heard the shot. It is believed the youth held the revolver so close to his body that the report was muffled.
