IN SOCIETY

About 1000 guests celebrated a sane Fourth at the Irvington Tennis club last evening. The new cement tennis court was waxed for dancing and over 1000 red, white and blue electric lights strung over the court and in the grove made the grounds wonderfully attractive. Bunting was used in the club house where 15 tables were arranged for five hundred. Ice cream cones were served for refreshments. About half past 10 several hundred of the guests gathered about the band and sang patriotic airs.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Riley and Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Riley left today in their touring car for a trip through the Puget Sound country and part of British Columbia. They will visit Victoria and the resorts of Vancouver Island, and before returning will spend a week in the Rainier National park, at Longmire Springs and in Paradise valley. The scenery in the park is said to be unsurpassed by that of Switzerland and the roads, built under the supervision of United States engineers, are pronounced ideal for motoring.

Miss Edith Evans of Philadelphia, and Miss Christine Tate, of Memphis, arrived yesterday to be the guests of Miss Lillian O'Brien for a month or more. Mr. O'Brien joined the two visitors in Chicago and made the trip west in company with the Misses O'Brien, assisted at the debut of Miss Evans last winter.

Hugh Hume was a visitor in Medford last week.

Miss Emma Klosterman has planned at home for Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Kerr, Stuart Kerr and Frances Kerr, who have spent the months on the Hood ranch at Hood River, were guests of Mrs. Dell Stuart for a short time on their way to Seaside, where they will be domiciled in the Dr. Andrew C. Smith cottage until October.

Mrs. A. D. Charlton and Miss LaVelle Young have returned from their stay at the Hotel Virginia, Long Beach, Cal.

Mrs. Frank Abram Powell, of Helena, Mont. is the guest of Portland relatives for a few days.

An interesting engagement announcement made recently in Los Angeles is that of Miss Hazel Sobey, of San Francisco, and Ben C. Day, of Portland. Miss Sobey is a sister of Mrs. R. A. Letter and a frequent visitor in Portland, where she has many friends. The wedding will take place the first of November.

Miss Irene Daly has invited guests for an at home on Thursday.

Mrs. Oliver King Jeffery will compliment her sister, Mrs. Charles C. Carpenter, with an afternoon at cards Friday. Mrs. Gerald Anthony was a recent hostess for Mrs. Carpenter, when three tables were arranged for bridge and the prize captured by Mrs. Jeffery.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Daly are receiving the congratulations of their friends on the birth of a daughter, June 23.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Warriner have taken houseboat at Rock Island for the summer.

Mrs. George Beach is leaving this week for Los Angeles, where she will join her father, S. Benson, and enjoy a motor trip of a fortnight or more through the southern portion of the state with him.

Mrs. Cloyd B. Baker is entertaining Miss Hazel Sholl and Miss Jane Pedrick, of Peoria, Ill. Miss Pedrick returns to her home tomorrow, but Miss Sholl will probably remain until September. Mrs. Baker entertained with several tables of bridge last Thursday for her guests.

Miss Isabelle Beckwith and her brother, J. Allen Beckwith, were week-end guests in Hood River with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Allen Reed (Miss Gladys Donohoe) at the Reed ranch. They returned home this morning.

Mrs. Herman Theune, of New York, was the guest of honor at a crawfish dinner given Saturday evening by Mrs. Costello at her Irvington home. Twenty-five guests were invited to enjoy the evening with Mrs. Theune, who leaves for the east the middle of next week. On Saturday afternoon Mrs. J. O. Tremblay will entertain with an afternoon of five hundred for Mrs. Theune.

Mrs. May Arkwright, the prominent woman suffragist of Spokane, is a guest at the Bowers.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Wourms, of Wallace, Idaho, have removed to Portland to make their permanent home here.

GLENWOOD, WASH., GOAT ADOPTS FAWN, STOUTLY WARDING OFF DANGERS

(Special Dispatch to the Journal.)
White Salmon, Wash., July 5.—A goat mothering and suckling a fawn is what W. A. Taggart, a Glenwood farmer, found in his flock of goats near the reserve a few days ago. A fond attachment has sprung up between the two, the goat dutifully defending its timid adoption against the curious flock.

BEGIN WORK ON SITE FOR LIPMAN & WOLFE

Workers commenced tearing down the frame building at Fifth and Alder this morning to make way for the new 10 story home for Lipman, Wolfe & Co.'s department store. The brick building at Fifth and Washington—the former home of Olds, Wortman & King—will come down next, as the proposed Lipman & Wolfe building is to cover the entire half block.

Wins Bet But Loses Money.
San Francisco, July 5.—After giving two strangers whom he met on a San Rafael car $300 to wager on the Moran-Wolfgang fight, J. C. Brown, a recent arrival in the city, is today urging the police to get back his money. Brown was on his way to San Rafael and met two strangers who were discussing the fight. Brown said he would like to make a little bet on Wolfgang and parted with the money, with the understanding that it would be taken to a pool room.

James Adolph Cody of Mount Airy, Ga., although but 27 months old, is nearly 4 feet tall and still growing. He weighs 122 pounds, is 15 inches across the shoulders and has 12 inch biceps. He sleeps well, eats well, and has a normal baby's temper, except that when he gets out of sorts he is rather hard to handle.

With the first indication of the abnormal growth his parents consulted a physician, and James Adolph was put under his care. All efforts to keep the baby on a diet suitable for one of his age proved unsuccessful to keep him normal.

The baby's measurements are:
Height—39 inches, barefoot.
Around head—24 1/2 inches.
Neck—14 inches.
Bust—33 inches.
Waist—36 inches.
Around arm, above elbow—13 inches.
Wrist—8 inches.

Around first finger, near hand—3 1/2 inches.
Around thigh—25 inches.
Ankle—9 inches.
Around foot—8 1/2 inches.
Length of foot—5 1/4 inches.
Across shoulders—15 inches.
His appetite is like that of a grown person. For breakfast he will eat three and four large biscuits, with bacon gravy, butter and syrup; two glasses of buttermilk, and two cups of coffee.

Between breakfast and dinner he will eat two more biscuits with butter and syrup.

For dinner he can eat a large plate of greens or any kind of vegetables, with boiled bacon, corn bread, biscuit, and a whole pie if he can get it, with two glasses of buttermilk.

Baby eats again between dinner and supper, and his supper is in keeping with breakfast and dinner.

THE WOMAN BEAUTIFUL

Written for The Journal by Darra More.
IT LOOKS as if the woman of today is rushing either to one extreme or the other. She is either the concentrated essence of patient, unorganized self-sacrifice and servility to man and household, or she is a rampant, blatant suffragette. In either case, she disregards the cardinal principle of successful womanhood, beauty.

When a woman sacrifices her beauty in any manner whatsoever, she is discarding her biggest asset toward doing good. Beauty wins everywhere, and, in the home it is needed, perhaps more than anywhere else. A beautiful woman has ten times the influence of her homely sister. We are all beauty lovers, and it is right that we should be.

golden streets and have nice little talks with Peter and John and Paul.

Our women should consider themselves first—maybe it is selfish, but if it is, 'tis an angel-hued, heaven-faced selfishness. In caring for themselves, they become of the highest efficiency to others. They become the women who count, the women who are respected, the women who are happy themselves, and the women who bring the greatest happiness into the family circle.

The woman who pays her first tribute to the little god of beauty is the woman with brains—the woman who is the highest type of wife and mother.

But you reply, a woman cannot be beautiful and be a good housekeeper, a good mother and a good wife. That is the nigger in the wood pile. Woman is progressing in every way, except in her home-keeping. She clings to the same old ways and means that Grandma and Aunt Susan used. What we need in the home is brains, not muscle. We need the elimination of drudgery modes and the introduction of twentieth century methods. We need trained cooks, vacuum cleaners, mechanical devices for dish washing. We need the same principles applied to housekeeping that are used in the tremendous business concerns, where everything works like clockwork, where success is measured largely by the latest labor-saving devices, and the keenest minds. We need a system that guarantees a certain amount of leisure for the houseworker—the leisure that gives peace and poise, the leisure that makes the best mothers and the best wives.

There is a picture in the Louvre disclosing the interior of a large kitchen with angels doing the work. One angel is washing dishes, another cooking, another sweeping, and so on. Housekeepers should invest their work with the spirit of the angels. Then, when they have finished their tasks, they should change their robes, smooth down their wings, play their harps, stroll about the

Questions and Answers

Dear Miss More: At a summer theatre party must the men wear evening clothes? May they wear hats?
B. P.

Summer theatricals are most often of a light nature and formal theatre parties are seldom considered. In consequence evening clothes are seldom seen at the theatres in summer. Women usually wear light airy summer gowns and light summer suits are appropriate for the men. Straw hats may be worn with dinner coats, but never with evening clothes.

Dear Miss More: My abdomen is out of all proportion to other parts of my figure, and is a source of worry to myself and my friends. Can you advise a treatment that will reduce it without injury?
ANXIOUS.

Have you ever tried deep breathing exercises? If practiced faithfully they are said to reduce naturally and easily. Wear a loose garment and stand before an open window or better, in the open air. Inhale deeply and slowly, contracting the muscles of the abdomen at the same time. Hold the breath while counting six and exhale slowly. After repeating a half dozen times, practice the following: Lie on your back on the floor or on any flat surface, place your hands clasped under your neck and lift one leg until it is perpendicular to the floor, bend the body forward as far as possible a number of times, then to one side, then to the other and to the back. Finish with another deep breathing exercise of a minute and a half or two minutes. Practice these exercises for about 10 minutes daily.

Dear Miss More—Can you tell me a good remedy for dark colored elbows? Mine are very dark and rough. I have tried lemon juice, but it does not help them any. And tell me, is it proper for young girls of 14 and 15 to go with boys of the same age?
PERPLEXED.

Try benzoin for removing the discoloration and the roughness will disappear after several applications of camphor ice or glycerine.

To "go" with boys has many meanings. To "go" conspicuously with boys at 14 and 15 is objectionable. Under proper chaperonage, children's parties are profitable, and to accompany a boy is and from such a place is permissible. Such associations are what they are made. A good boy is made better by proper association with good girls. Good girls do not learn bad habits from good boys. The whole question is one for the guidance of wise parents, who should always be consulted.

To Reduce Weight.
As a change from the strenuous exercises usually advised for obesity, why not embody these gymnastics in the every day tasks, thereby adding interest to the tasks and grace to the body? If your waist is inclined to thickness you can incline it to suppleness by always washing your hands in the bottom of the bath tub. Do this, if possible, without bending the knees. If faithfully pursued this little practice will accomplish as much as 10 minutes of bending exercises.

Have you a desire to improve your carriage and add weight to your wardrobe almost beyond your reach, so that every time you go for your hat or a garment you will have to stretch your arms upward and stand on tiptoe.

Do not sit down to put on your shoes and stockings. You may have to perform all sorts of queer antics to accomplish your purpose, but the bending exercise you go through in doing so is worth more than those of the gymnasium, because you will work harder with a tangible object in view.

Hair brushing is a wearisome task, but if the desire to move with grace is put into every stroke and if the wrist is held firm, the action is certain to be an excellent hand and wrist exercise. If you do your own marketing walk to and from the market briskly, taking low, even strides and swinging the limb from the hip without bending the knee. All the bending and reaching exercise of your household work may be transformed into benefits, if they only will be considered in that light and if the mind will work with the body in tabulating them as beneficial exercises instead of physical exertions.

A Comforting Thought.
By Francis E. Leupp in July Atlanta.
If all your efforts to straighten out your crooked stick of a child prove unavailing, console yourself with the reflection that humanity owes a heavy debt to its eccentricities. Every outward swing of the pendulum of progress takes its impulse from the hand of some one who is not afraid of being adjudged a lunatic. When he succeeds, we cannot speak too well of him; but, long before that, he will probably have been marked as peculiar, and with an unfaltering characterization. Linnaeus wore out his father's patience by his contempt for the conventional studies of his day. At Audubon, as a lad, friends wagged their heads to think what a fool he was. Young Darwin was an absent-minded that on one of his lonely tramps he walked off an embankment and narrowly escaped being crippled. Watts was scolded for his indifference to the books and sports which interested other boys, and the "fascination" he found in his aunt's steaming kettle. Trollope, who gave to literature its best portraits of English social life in his era, was at school so destitute of the social gift that he was everybody's butt and no-body's companion. Moses and Deane-these were stammerers, Caesar and Napoleon epileptics. Goldsmith was a sloven, Thoreau a crank, Emerson a mystic dreamer. These men overcame their handicaps of physique or temperament as Lincoln, Burritt, Dickens and Carnegie surmounted the barriers with which poverty had threatened to hem them in.

The woman who affects black will be charmed by the gauze fan in strawberry design. Leaves and berries are of thin black silk, applied on the gauze and outlined by black jewels. The fan is translucent and is charming with a thin black evening dress.
