

GOOD SPEAKERS; EXCELLENT MUSIC AT CHAUTAUQUA

Day of Rest Will Be Enjoyable One at Gladstone Park—Each Day Adds More to Success of Affair.

Today's Program.
 Morning—10:00, Sunday School; 11:00, Scripture Recital, Rev. Edith Hill Booker, Emporia, Kansas.
 Afternoon—1:15, Band concert, Naval Reserve band; 2:00, music, W. H. Dyer, tenor; sermon, R. P. Shepherd; 4:00 concert, Monday Musical club, Mrs. Rose Reed Hancock, director, chorus of 125 voices, selected, Mrs. Rose Reed Hancock, soprano; trio, Romanza, Marschner; Frank G. Eichenlaub, violin; C. Dugan Raft, cello; solo, "O Divine Redeemer," Gounod, Mrs. Raymond Sullivan, soprano, Miss Carmel Sullivan, accompanist; piano solo, (a) Caprice, Stavenhagen, (b) Erl King, Schubert-Liszt, Mrs. Ella Connell Jesse, vocal solo, (a) "The Pilgrim's Song," Tchaikowski, (b) "The Pipes of Pan," Edward Edgar, Hartridge, G. Whipp, basso, Miss Leonora Fisher, accompanist; solo, "The Workers," Gounod, Miss Evelyn Hurley, contralto.
 Evening—7:15, Band concert, Naval Reserve band; 8:00, concert, Apollo Concert Company of Chicago.

A day of rest from the pleasurable tax of a week of intellectual feasting will be experienced at Chautauqua, and hundreds, no doubt will find their way to Gladstone Park to enjoy the cool and quiet of the grove, and listen to the music that has been provided for the day's entertainment. The musical Sunday school promises much interest, and has always been well attended. There is no question about the number that will hear Mrs. Booker's scriptural reading at 11 a. m. It will be limited by just the number of people on the grounds, and every one there, who has heard her, and will be able to get there by that hour this morning.

Array of Talent.
 The array of talent for the afternoon is noteworthy from the fact that every one on it is a professional of enviable reputation and acknowledged merit. In the evening the very popular Apollo Concert company of Chicago will make its last appearance much to the regret of the thousands who have heard them. This company has been the main success of the season and in departing carries sincere wishes for their return next year.

De Witt Miller, who was to have preached Sunday and lectured Monday evening, is detained at Boise by illness, and will not be able to fill his engagement. Fortunately Dr. R. P. Shepherd, who has been one of the great speakers at the American Christian Missionary society, which has been holding its convention in Portland the past week, will substitute for Mr. Miller.

Classes.
 The record attendance in classes, which closed their first week yesterday, has been phenomenal. Never has there been so many, and never so much interest manifested. The unusual feature is that they have been running a neck and neck race in popular favor, with the odds never remaining in favor of one or the other twice in succession. The average attendance has been between 80 and 100, seldom falling below the former and often going over the latter.

Mrs. Fox, in her parliamentary drills, is exciting the admiration of every one. She is clear, definite and forceful, and has little patience with the slipshod methods employed in conducting many organizations, and she does not except men's organizations in her criticism either.

Does Excellent Work.
 Professor Boyer is doing excellent work in his large classes, and is pronounced one of the best leaders and chorus trainers the Chautauqua has ever had.
 No better feature was ever introduced on the grounds than the kindergarten, under the auspices of the Congress of Mothers. What to do with the children while the parents attended the classes and lectures was a puzzle to every one, including the management, for many years. Chautauqua is an ideal place for children, and it wouldn't be worth going to if there were not children, but it is quite as true that, while they may be seen at the lectures, they should not be heard—and certainly should not be allowed to pass around and constantly pass between the speaker's platform and the audience. The kindergarten relieves the necessity for children to make nuisances of themselves, and there is no excuse for the parents who now permit it.

Mrs. Tate to Speak.
 Mrs. R. H. Tate, president of the Oregon Congress of Mothers, will speak next Friday morning, July 14, on "Our Nation's Activity in Child Welfare." She will be followed by Mrs. Clara Waldo, who will discuss the importance of home economics. The 3:30 a. m. car will reach the Chautauqua grounds in time for these addresses.

The W. C. T. U.
 The most comfortable spot on the grounds these chilly nights and mornings is around the campfire. The great stone chimney running up the outside of the house has such a "homey" feeling it is the admiration of everyone; but when you get inside and hear the fire roaring up its capacious throat, while the fire taps the roof as they bend to the breeze, you can close your eyes and dream you are luxuriating at the coast.
 Mrs. Booker, Mrs. Urub and the many consecrated women who occupy it, have the word of welcome to every one who comes in, and it has been a veritable haven of rest for many weary women during the session. Mrs. Booker's Bible lessons continue to draw large crowds, and her power and eloquence remain the marvel of every one that has heard her.

A pleasant surprise was given many of her friends when it was learned that Mrs. Booker has determined to become a resident of Oregon. Her husband has bought a fine little property near Dundee, in Yamhill county, where he and their 14-year-old son now are. Mrs. Booker says they bought it for the beautiful trees, and she will certainly advocate the preservation of the forests, at least on her home place. The Bookers are certainly the kind of people Oregon needs.

Saturday, which was designated "Boys' day," filled the park with "Young America" of every age, from the baby in arms to the arms-carrying age of the American boy scout.

The Marathon race started off with a vim, and will be watched with intense interest, not only by the boys, but by many a fond mother who saw the young sprigs of the family start on their first tryout. They will run for 15 minutes for seven days. The winners will receive handsome medals in gold, silver and bronze. President Holman of Willamette university presided at the program in the large auditorium, and was complimentary to the speaker's record when he introduced ex-Governor Hanley of Indiana. Governor Hanley had spoken the evening before and a large audience greeted his second appearance. In physique the Indianan is large and powerfully built and in his address throws all the force of his strong personality into his voice and expression. He has a great message to give and he knows how best to reach the hearts and consciences of his audience in giving it. Miss Beatrice Honey's reading, "An Abandoned Elopement," was excellent and the audience was insistent in its demands again and again for the re-appearance of the reader, to which she gracefully responded.

Tomorrow the assembly will reach the middle of its session, and from that time will be on the home stretch. To all Chautauqua habitués this session, so far, has made good.

Monday's Program.

Much interest centers about the entertainment tomorrow evening to be given by William Sterling Battis on "Life Portrayals From Dickens." It is featured as one of the big attractions, and will be on Monday in:

8 to 11—Classes.
 11—Piano solo (Polksinelle-Rachmaninoff), Harry E. Van Dyke, Portland; solo, vocal, "Spring Is Come" (Neidlinger); Miss Nancy Beals, Portland; address, "The Scientific Selection of Foods," Dr. Newton James Baxter.

AFTERNOON.
 1:15—Band concert, Naval Reserve band.
 2:00—Lecture, R. P. Shepherd.
 2:30—Marathon race; baseball, Aurora vs. Gladstone.
 7:15—Band concert, Naval Reserve band.
 8:00—"Life Portrayals From Dickens," William Sterling Battis. (A presentation of Dickens' characters in costume.)

France boasts of a 2000-year-old oak tree that still is flourishing and that will shelter 300 persons beneath its branches.

Fire Sale of Pianos

As well as a closing out sale to quit business, which means you can now secure a strictly first class piano far below its original cost and on easy terms if desired. This sale includes our entire stock of uprights, grands and player pianos. Nothing reserved—not even the great APOLLO PLAYER, which can now be had at $200 reduction. Also a nice $600 player for $385. You can secure a nice new piano for $176, $218, $236 and $248 that would cost you nearly double that amount any other place. You can afford to travel a great distance in order to make a selection at this sale, but if you can not call, write us for particulars. The stock MUST be closed out soon. The insurance company's loss, and the fact we are quitting business, is your gain. Do not overlook this, but call at once. It will pay you to do it. Phonographs, records, player music, furniture and fixtures at a great sacrifice. See us or write first thing Monday.

YODER, WOODBURN TEACHER, INDICTED

Affair With Girl Pupil of 14 Alleged; Jury Brings in Seven True Bills.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
 Salem, Or., July 8.—The week's work of the Marion county grand jury resulted in the report of seven true bills and six not true bills at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

H. Hunter was indicted for forgery in obtaining $9.50 from the United States National Bank on a bogus check. W. M. Meehan was indicted for obtaining money under false pretenses by representing himself as agent for an automobile company, obtaining payments and failing to deliver.

Echoes from an alleged school entanglement are seen in the indictment returned against A. H. Yoder, school principal, for assault and battery, the complaining witness being Liddie Shambek. The affair has stirred up much strife in the already faction split town. The girl was one of Yoder's pupils and 14 years old. Many maintain the teacher was blameless while others condemn him.

A hop yard fight over a Japanese woman resulted in the indictment of E. Sato on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. He is accused of shooting and wounding a fellow countryman, J. O. Kabra, in a quarrel. Harry Jensen is indicted on a larceny charge for stealing some carpenter tools. A statutory charge is lodged against Will Cussins. He is said to have eloped from California with Mrs. George J. Curlliss and to have come to Marion county. One other indictment was not given out as the person accused is unaware of the charge and may escape. He is in a neighboring state and will probably have to be extradited.

BUYS WINE BY BARREL, RETAILS IT, PAYS FINE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
 Oregon City, Or., July 8.—Frank Sajovich was today arrested and fined $50 by City Recorder Stipp on a charge of selling wine on a government license without a city license. The warrant was sworn to by Chief of Police E. L. Shaw, who also made the arrest. Sajovich lives at Eighteenth street and attention was first attracted to him on September 15, 1910, when he received a shipment of four barrels of wine from California. Since that date he has received several such consignments. After considerable work Shaw obtained enough evidence that the man was selling wine to warrant his arrest. Sajovich pleaded guilty and paid the fine as soon as it was imposed. He was ordered to close up at once. According to the city ordinance no more saloon licenses can be issued.

2 ITALIAN FUGITIVES CAPTURED AFTER FIGHT

Rhineland, Wis., July 8.—The two Italian fugitives, Joe Imperio and Phillip Roberti, who on Thursday shot and killed Sheriff Radcliffe and fatally wounded Deputy John Hanson while the latter were attempting to arrest them on charges of "white slavery," were captured this afternoon between Star Lake and Bostwell, Vilas county, after a desperate fight with an armed posse. Both Italians and one of the posse were wounded, although it is said their wounds will not prove fatal. The fight took place in an abandoned mill in which the fugitives had barricaded themselves and lasted until their ammunition was exhausted. The men have been taken to Wausau for safekeeping, as the authorities believe feeling here is so strong against the men that the citizens will take matters into their own hands and mete out punishment accordingly.

 wines warranted to harm no one. They also had the profits of numerous raids on the orange groves. Pyramids and boxes filled with what an ecstatic delegate termed, "Golden Plenty." Another lodge tooted into town and was escorted up Atlantic avenue to the tune of "There'll be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight." It was the Bronx lodge from that one-time goat paradise, the hills above New York.

ANGRY AND HUNGRY MARINES DESERT

40 Slip Away From New York Navy Yard; Jackies Were Better Fed.

(Publishers' Free Laced Wire.)
 New York, July 8.—About one tenth of all the marines stationed at the navy yard, 40 to be exact, have deserted. They are part of a batch of 250 that came back from Guantanamo two weeks ago. Dissatisfaction with the treatment they received while there and the fact that the navy yard paymaster held up their pay until after July 4, are supposed to be the chief causes of their desertions. For dinner on July 4 they had only mutton, potatoes, ice water and a piece of pie, which they did not think was much of a holiday dinner. Over on the receiving ship Hancock the Jackies had turkey, ice cream, fruit lemonade and cigars, and when the marines heard about that they got pretty angry. Moreover, they don't like the way they have been drilled during the hot weather. They say there have been four drills a day. When they were paid off on July 6 four noncommissioned officers and 26 privates took French leave and have not been heard of since. The average age at which factory employees begin work in Hungary and Spain is 10 years.
