

DOCTOR CHARGED WITH GIRL'S DEATH EXPLAINED

Dr. C. F. Candiani, accused by a coroner's jury of being responsible for the death of Lillian Kruger, declares the operation he performed upon the girl was necessary as a means to save her life. This is a statement made yesterday to Deputy District Attorney Page, who called at the doctor's sick-bed in response to a request that he be allowed to make a statement. The law justifies an operation of the kind performed in this case if the operation is shown necessary to preserve the life of the woman. Dr. Candiani said the Kruger girl came to him crying and threatening to throw herself in the river. He made an examination, he stated, and found her in a serious condition as the result of an attempted self-operation. He attempted to save her life, he said, by performing the operation. Mr. Page says Dr. Candiani is seriously ill, afflicted with Bright's disease and rheumatism. Portions of his body are badly swollen and his recovery is a matter of doubt.

PORTLAND INDORSED AS CONVENTION CITY

Word was received late yesterday afternoon from Pitsburg, Pa., that the executive committee of the National Reform association has ratified the selection of Portland for the meeting of the second World's Christian Citizen conference which will be held in 1913. The selection was made by Client H. Congdon of Philadelphia, after he had personally visited each city on the coast. In order to get the conference it was necessary for Portland to promise the sum of $15,000. At a luncheon at the Commercial club July 4 of prominent ministers and business men this amount was assured. The executive committee appropriated $5,000 which will be used by the committee to complete preliminary arrangements. The session will begin June 23, lasting one week, and a feature will be the Children's day parade of 25,000 children if it can be arranged. Twenty thousand people are expected to attend from other places. Journal Want Ads bring results.

PRESS CLUB MEMBERS TO SEE COUNCIL CREST

The welders and near-welders of the journalistic pen in Portland are going up into the air. In other words, the Portland Press club is going to leave the worries and cares for one night and is going to Council Crest, 1200 feet above the city, Friday evening July 14 for a frolic at the Council Crest Amusement Park, guests of A. Duchamp, the lessee. The members and guests will leave in a special car Friday, 8:30 p. m., at First and Washington streets and go to Council Crest in a body. There an elaborate program has been arranged, including fireworks, refreshments and the "glad hand" of A. Duchamp to all members of the club and their guests. It is expected that over 100 members and their guests will take part in the frolic and the entertainment committee, which has the matter in hand, has issued veiled threats of some unexpected doings after arrival at the park. The entertainment committee says that the park being so high up no low comedy will be allowed. Everything will be of a high order and not a dull minute will creep in. The club has sent out invitations to all its members and their home folks and this frolic Friday promises to be one of the most enjoyable the club has had. This frolic is only the advance guard of others to come in the hot summer months. A great excursion has been arranged for Sunday, August 6, for which a special steamer will be chartered and it is expected that two or more other excursions in the open air will follow.
