

HOMESTEAD FILING MADE ON 29 ACRES INSIDE DALLES CITY

Real Estate Man, Claiming Title Has Never Passed From Government, Makes Entry That Is Accepted.

(Special to The Journal.)
The Dalles, Or., July 21.—The ownership of 29 acres within the corporate limits of The Dalles, on which some prominent buildings are erected, is suddenly made a vital issue by a homestead filing here. The tract takes in the Umattila house, Columbia hotel, O. W. R. & N. repair shops and several dwellings. N. M. Eastwood, a local real estate man, who has been searching the records and who claims that title to this tract has never passed from the United States government, has made the homestead filing, which has been accepted by the local land office. Mr. Eastwood says that within the specified time he will establish a residence on his homestead, and will consider all other occupants of the tract trespassers and treat them accordingly, while those interested in the land, some of whom have had peaceable possession of it for many years, say Eastwood's intentions are groundless and that he cannot disturb present owners. Some of the ground in controversy is within the bounds of the original filing of Dalles City and the remainder in Trevitt addition. All of it has been claimed and transferred from one owner to another for the past 56 years. If Mr. Eastwood is sustained by the department of the interior and is allowed to maintain his homestead rights, he will acquire title to land valued at about $100,000.

Wild Driver Barred From Streets.

(Special to The Journal.)
The Dalles, Or., July 21.—Eugene L. Smith, who has been running a hack in this city for the past nine months and has a police court record on account of drunkenness, has been barred, the police judge having forbidden him to drive his hack any more within the city limits. Smith during his residence here has been arrested a number of times for drunkenness, reckless driving and cruelty to his animals, but the act that brought him into final disgrace was running into Edward Carter on a bicycle in front of the postoffice, rendering the boy unconscious.

BRIDGE AT WOODLAND IS FINALLY FINANCED

(Special to The Journal.)
Woodland, Wash., July 21.—The last obstacle to the building of the bridge across Lewis river at this point was removed when the Kelso State bank, Woodland State bank, Capital National bank of Kelso and the First National bank of Kalama agreed to take up the $15,000 necessary as a deposit from Cowlitz county. This was necessary inasmuch as the road and bridge fund of Cowlitz county had been drawn on so heavily for internal improvements that there was not sufficient cash on hand to make the deposit with the state treasurer. The provisions of the state appropriation covering the state fund of the amount was that the appropriation from Clarke and Cowlitz counties was to be on deposit with the state treasurer before work could be begun on the bridge, but now that this obstacle has been removed as far as Cowlitz county is concerned, and as Clarke has the cash, it is expected work will be commenced in a short time.

Sundale and Goodnoe Hills News.

(Special to The Journal.)
Sundale, Wash., July 21.—No great damage was done here by the long hot spell, although the temperature reached 107 on July 15, and was above 100 on four days. It ranged in the 90's on six days. Harvesting was not interfered with. Orchard trees came through in fine shape, but corn "rolled" badly while the east wind lasted.

The Hayes place, consisting of 1000 acres, has been sold to a Portland syndicate, represented by Charles E. Warrens. It is the intention of the new company to summerfallow most of the tract, and plant to corn the remainder, with the view of planting several hundred acres to orchards in the fall of 1912.

The Pacific Light & Power company, whose power plant on the lower Deschutes will probably be finished this fall, intends sending an engineer to Sundale valley, and the Goodnoe Hills, with the view of investigating the feasibility of a power station on the Columbia river near the mouth of Rock creek, from which point a pipe line can reach both sections. Water would have to be raised 700 or 800 feet, and would cover about 18,000 acres of fine land.

M'MANIGAL FEARS RELEASE FROM JAIL

Tells Uncle He Is Afraid to Leave Prison; "Something Queer," Says Relative.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Los Angeles, July 21.—When George Behm of Portage, Wis., uncle of Ortle E. McManigal, came to the grand jury room yesterday, as ordered by the district attorney, he was told that he would not be questioned now concerning the McNamara case but that he must appear on July 31. Behm is staying with Mrs. McManigal at the Bunner apartments.
"What in the world can they want with me?" asked Behm. "I know nothing about this case. The man over there in the county jail who is said to have confessed to scores of dynamitings isn't like my nephew at all. I was paralyzed when I read of his confession."
"Why, I brought Ortle up. He came to live with me when he was 4 years old and stayed until he was 16. Just before his marriage he seemed the same as ever, but now he acts and talks queerly. Something certainly is wrong with that boy. I told him that I did not believe what had been said about him and advised him to tell the truth and get out of jail. He said he was afraid to get out of jail."
"I am not going to visit Ortle any more. Everything I told him he told the Burma detectives and he told them things I did not say. He was what they call a floater in the steel business. There is something queer about all this thing. I do not understand."

"ME A PAPA?" ASKS NAT; "NEVER! NEVER! NEVER!"

Los Angeles, Cal., July 21.—Nat Goodwin, the actor, was a mighty angry man today when shown a dispatch from New York, which stated that John E. Goodwin, 23, of New York, was strong in the belief that the actor is his father.
"The idea is nothing short of idiotic," exploded Goodwin. "If I had the young man here now, believe me, I would certainly do a bit of fatherly work, and it would be some work, too. The man is an impostor. How could such a thing be possible? I have only been the father of one child, a girl, who died at birth. That was when I was 29 years old. Her mother was Eliza Weatherby."

SUIT TO COLLECT 2 YEARS' RENT IS BEGUN

Following the issuance of warrants charging embezzlement against T. J. Uhlman, former manager of the Hoyt hotel, a civil suit was started yesterday in the circuit court against him to recover $8612. The three executors of the estate of Henry Weinhart, deceased, are the persons complaining in this action. The amount is alleged to be due for rent.
As the financial affairs of Uhlman are being investigated, the discrepancies are made known. Uhlman disappeared some time last Saturday evening. He has been in the custom of cashing checks for workmen, and was advanced money by Paul Wassinger. Last Saturday evening Wassinger advanced $3000 with which to pay the men, and Uhlman disappeared soon after receiving the money. He has been paying $400 a month for the Hoyt hotel to the Weinhart estate, and has not paid this for almost two years.

STONE BLOCKS URGED FOR KEARNEY STREET

The street committee of the city executive board yesterday afternoon recommended that Kearney and other streets be paved with stone blocks, the cost to be $108,000. The committee ordered that the Consolidated Contract Co. be required to furnish a bond to insure the city against a possible damage suit in case the company is sued for infringing on the patent of the Oregon Hassam Paving company.
The value of a franchise now under way for the O. W. R. & N. Co. for the privilege of crossing 12 streets on the Peninsula was fixed at $100. The streets are crossed by the Troutdale-St. Johns extension of the railroad.

New Engine, Exploding, Kills Two.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Springfield, Ill., July 21.—Charles Baker and John Buck are dead and two other men are critically injured through the explosion of the engine of a power plant of the Illinois traction system at Riverton, a suburb, last night. The engine had just been inspected and its power turned on for the first time. The cause of the explosion is not known.

SUIT OVER HIS LOVE BRINGS ON HIS END

"Jimmy" Dunn Kills Himself to Escape Notoriety Caused by Wife's Action.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Atlantic City, N. J., July 21.—The suicide of James T. Dunn, former manager of the St. Francis hotel, San Francisco, who shot himself in the heart in a hotel here, is attributed today to despondency caused by the notoriety which followed his wife's suit against Mrs. Leicester Holme, wife of former Judge Holme of New York, for $250,000 for alleged alienation of her husband's affections.
Dunn went to San Francisco from New York 12 years ago. While in San Francisco he met Mrs. Sarah S. Rosenbaum, widow of "Duckie" Rosenbaum, and the two were married in Los Angeles in 1907.
Dunn later met Mrs. Holme, heiress of a $2,000,000 estate, who had separated from her husband. Mrs. Dunn accused her husband of being too friendly with the wealthy divorcee, and following a quarrel Dunn disappeared from San Francisco. His wife encountered Dunn and Mrs. Holme on the board walk here. A hair pulling scene ensued and the suit for alienation of affections followed shortly afterward.

Gets $20,000 for Lower Berth.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Atlanta, Ga., July 21.—Because he surrendered his lower berth to J. T. Young, Oakland, Cal., four years ago while en route to Florida, William R. O'Neal, of Bainbridge, Ga., has been remembered in Young's will to the extent of $20,000.

Jumps From Plane to Haystack.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Chicago, July 21.—Harry Cowling, an amateur aviator, saved his life when his aeroplane overturned at a height of 60 feet from the ground by leaping out and alighting on top of a haystack.

A GREAT many of our customers have marveled at the values we have offered during the past seasons in these worthy makes — but we have a surprise in store for you now. We were exceptionally particular, in selecting these new styles, to procure suits possessing high quality and attractive appearance. We propose to make these the most talked-of clothes in Portland.

TO PRAISE these nationally famous clothes seems superfluous—almost everyone is familiar with their merits. We wish more to direct your attention to the unusual character of this gathering of superbly tailored suits. It is impossible to convey to you on paper the richness of colors and attractiveness of weaves and patterns. Fabrics are tweeds, cheviots, worsteds and cassimeres.

The popular striped, check and plaid effects in the new shades of tan, brown, grays and fancy dark mixtures are included in this matchless showing. Single or double-breasted coats, with plain or fancy pockets, sleeves and lapels, cuff or plain trousers. These suits priced at $15.00 and $20.00

Although these clothes are distinctive in style, they lack any semblance of foppishness. Some are ultra in style, but strictly in keeping with the new ideas sanctioned by the delineators of fashion. We carry models designed for college chaps as well as splendid range of conservative styles for business men.
