

YODER EXONERATED, PLIGHT IS BLAMED ON FEMALE FOES

Often, Declares Counsel for Woodburn, Or., Principal, a Good Man's Reputation Is Unsafe.

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.)
Salem, Or., July 22.—To be arrested after he had taught with a good record for 26 years, to be humiliated by the grilling of lawyers and by publicity throughout the press, and to be prevented from attending the national educational meeting, of which he was an active member, because he was under arrest on a charge of improper conduct toward a little girl pupil, from which accusation he was readily acquitted by a jury, is the unpleasant story of Professor A. H. Yoder of Woodburn, who is leaving today for another state.

Yoder has been tried this week for alleged improper conduct toward Lydia Shembeck. The facts presented to the jury were that this conduct consisted of her coming several times to his office to complain of her treatment at the hands of Miss Moon, her teacher, and trying to get him to take her case up with Miss Moon. When he refused to interfere with the teacher's discipline, the girl spread stories that he had coaxed her into the room to fondle her. Miss Moon, with other teachers, was embittered against Yoder because he tried to get them to make out daily programs of their work. These elements joined in what proved to be virtually a conspiracy against Yoder, so it developed at the trial, Judge P. H. D'Arcy, for the defense, declared that it was oftentimes the case that a man's reputation was unsafe because of the suspicions of women.

The women teachers, among other things, accused Yoder of immorality because he allowed a little girl to sit on his knees while 25 others encircled him to look through a microscope.

BALDWIN TO DASH NORTH IN 2 SHIPS

Sister Vessels, Atlantic and Pacific, to Carry Explorer's Party to Arctic.

(Publishers' Press Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, Cal., July 22.—Nothing more ambitious with the plans of Captain Evelyn Briggs Baldwin, the famous Arctic explorer, some time during the summer of 1912, two odd-looking sister ships, the Atlantic and the Pacific, will sail from San Francisco harbor, bound for the North Pole.
It is the present plan that Baldwin's venture shall be under the auspices of the Panama-Pacific Exposition company. Baldwin already has commenced arrangements with the world's fair officials.
It is his plan to sail with 25 men for Point Barrow, Alaska, and from there to drift across the Polar sea, reaching the North Atlantic within four years. He expects to keep in touch with the world through wireless messages flashed from his ship to the government stations in the far north.
Baldwin made his last trip to the polar regions in 1901 as commander of the Baldwin-Zeigler expedition.

KELLEY FORGIVEN BY WIFE

that resulting from the filing of the divorce suit by Henry 15 months ago. Henry charged Kelley with sleeping in San Francisco with the Elfr Mrs. Henry, aged 26, and that Kelley and Mrs. Henry took with them the two Henry children, Albert and Anita.
On the trial of the divorce Henry was granted a decree on a statutory charge. Later Mrs. Henry and Kelley, in San Francisco, kidnaped the Henry children, while deputy sheriffs and detectives, armed with a habeas corpus writ, were trying to get possession of them in behalf of the father.
After 10 days' hiding, Kelley and Mrs. Henry were found by officials and the court took charge of the children, placing them in a detention home. Kelley was forced to spend several days in jail in San Francisco for the part he bore in the alleged abduction.
Mrs. Henry is believed to be still in San Francisco. Her former husband said today he knew nothing of her whereabouts. Henry expects to get possession of his children as soon as the Washington supreme court renders judgment in the Henry's appeal from the divorce decree granted in the superior court here.

Mrs. Ortie E. McManigal, Nervous Wreck, Due to Hounding of Detectives Charged

Wife of Self-Confessed Dynamiter in Serious Condition

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Los Angeles, Cal., July 22.—A bulletin issued late today by Doctors Colburn and Lewis from the Pacific hospital stated that there was no change in the condition of Mrs. Ortie E. McManigal, wife of the self-confessed dynamiter, who suffered a complete nervous breakdown late yesterday. Although the physicians admit that Mrs. McManigal has lost the use of her lower limbs and that the trouble may be permanent, they refused to go into details.
"Uncle George" Behm, of Portage,

Mrs. Ortie E. McManigal and children.

Wis., who raised McManigal from boyhood, was not so reticent.
"That poor woman," said Behm, "is a nervous and physical wreck. Her condition is very alarming and I confess that I am greatly worried. Mrs. McManigal's trouble is due to the persistent hounding of detectives, who have made life miserable for her, both day and night."

Bitter Towards Detectives.

Behm feels bitterly toward the sleuths of the William J. Burns agency and attributes both Mrs. McManigal's and her husband's physical ailments to their activity.

"Ortie," he said, "has been worked upon by the Burns men until he simply don't know what to do or which way to turn. They have told him of things that they wanted him to say until they have almost gotten him to believe he did them."
"Do you believe McManigal blew up the Llewellyn Iron Works, as he said he did?" was asked.
"My God, I don't," Behm replied. "I know that some of the charges of dynamitings attributed to him are not true. I was with him on the occasion he was supposed to have done the Milwaukee job, and I know that charge is false."

Los Angeles, Cal., July 22.—Fearful of the effect of the news might have on the prisoner, Jailer George Gallagher declared at the county jail this afternoon that Ortie E. McManigal, the self-confessed dynamiter, would not be told of his wife's serious illness.
"McManigal," said the jailer, "is also on the verge of a nervous breakdown, and I believe that it would work more harm than good for him to know that his wife is the victim of nervous prostration. He already has lost 17 pounds since he was brought here and is becoming more emaciated every day."
"Ortie is devoted to his wife, despite their differences of opinion on the McManigal case, and it would break him up if he knew that she had been taken to a hospital."
"If I can prevent, he will not be told."

"BIOLOGICAL MATE" ONLY CAUGHT IN SWIRL USHERING IN NEW WOMAN

(By the International News Service.)
New York, July 22.—Mrs. Kate Trimble Woolley, ardent suffragist, a member of 75 women's organizations and author of "Republies vs. Womah," has advanced an amazing philosophy which answers the statement of Dr. Lee De Forest that his marriage was for only a "biological reason." Dr. De Forest is suing for divorce. His wife is Nora Blatch De Forest, daughter of the suffrage leader, Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch. The doctor declares his suffragist wife and mother-in-law ignored him after the birth of a fine suffragist baby girl.
Mrs. Woolley, in an interview at her home today, stated that Dr. De Forest, in rebelling against being only a "biological member of the family," merely reflects man's position in society. He simply represented, she said, the first man to be caught in this whirl of evolution ushering in the new woman, aided by the suffragette movement, who would rule the world.
Many Share Views.
Mrs. Woolley declared that her views were shared by the more progressive suffragists and by the leading writers and scientists of Europe with whom she discussed the question at the great international gathering of scientists in Brussels. She is putting these views in a book entitled "The Superwoman."

LANDING FOR BOATS TO BE CONDEMNED

Hood River is determined to make room for river traffic.
(Special to The Journal.)
Hood River, Or., July 22.—An every effort to secure a strip of land from the owners of the waterfront at Hood River has proven futile, proceedings will probably be instituted by the city at once to condemn a right of way for the river so as to afford a boat landing for the river steamers and the Underwood and White Salmon ferries. The Hood River merchants figure that many thousands of dollars have been lost this year as the result of conditions that prevented the boats from landing at the high water landing at Hood River.
350 Raw Acres Bring $35,000.
(Special to The Journal.)
Hood River, July 22.—The largest raw land sale this season at Hood River was consummated yesterday when the Oregon Lumber company transferred to C. L. Rogers of Hood River and his associates at Portland, a tract of 350 acres that was sold for $35,000. Mr. Rogers has lived in Hood River for many years. The land will be cleared and planted to apple and pear trees. The entire tract is under the irrigating system of the Dee Irrigation and Power company's canal and is located only a few miles from Dee, Or.
Boy Scouts End 60 Mile Hike.
(Special to The Journal.)
Hood River, July 22.—The Boy Scouts of America, who have been on a two weeks' trip to Lost Lake, returned to Hood River today. The boys walked the entire distance of 60 miles.

"Suffrage is only one of the powerful agencies which are hurrying in the advent of the superwoman," she declared.
Feelings Can't Alter Fact.
"Neither the personal feelings of Dr. De Forest nor of any other creature can alter this tremendous fact.
"Our institutions are built wholly upon woman's economic dependence on man and when woman is economically free—a condition which science and invention will secure to her—it is inevitable that our present forms of marriage, religion and laws will topple to their ruin.
"Our women are not only growing larger physically, but in every field of mental activity they are catching up with the men. If they can gain so much with a partial liberty and independence what may we not expect when suffrage gives them absolute freedom from man-made laws?
"Woman Coming Into Rights.
"Woman is rapidly coming into her rights and I firmly believe that she will eventually rule the world.
"Man is rapidly eliminating himself. It is nature's laws—the survival of the fittest. The male was an afterthought of nature. He was at first, and is still, throughout many orders of being, solely useful in the propagation of the race.
"Throughout the animal world, below man, the female is supreme. The males are unable to corral the food supplies and the females, therefore, being economically free, select males that have the highest value for the race.
"Women," continued Mrs. Woolley, "are the species, men are on-y incidents. While women were caring for the child men were fighting. Women, to begin with, owned all the property and land. They cultivated the soil and invented manufacturing and the arts.
"First Rule Woman Rule.
"The first government was the Matriarchate, or woman rule, and the child inherited through the mother and took her name.
"Finally, through force," said Mrs. Woolley, quoting from excerpts of her book, "man everywhere ruled supreme. He made God a male creature, a replica of himself. He assumed all the places of profit, honor, glory in every field of life, in church, state and society. Centuries of repression, acting through the laws of heredity have lessened woman's physical size, depressed her mental action, subjugated her spirits and crushed her belief in the right to the sanctity of her own body and that of her unborn child.
"And what has resulted from this 40 society? Humanity has scarcely advanced a step in brain development, physical perfection or moral excellence beyond where it stood thousands of years ago, when men wrested the rulership of society from the mothers."

Reasons for Conditions.
Giving her reasons for the changed conditions of society, Mrs. Woolley said:
"Women cultivated graciousness of manner and of appearance because there are only weapons against the brutality and sheer force of man. Now she is giving herself to training her brain and scientists are constantly proclaiming her increasing physical strength. Man is detouring in physical strength and stature and his power is waning.
"In Great Britain alone today there are more than a million more women than men, and other nations show equally surprising records of the decay of man's usefulness to the race.
"Man is fast becoming the appendage to women, just as woman today is his appendage. The future belongs to the feminine sex; there will be a superwoman, but not a superman."

ELGIN ROBBING PARTY MAKES SALOON ROUNDUP

(Special to The Journal.)
Elgin, Or., July 22.—Two saloons had their cash registers robbed Thursday night and the robbers had started on a third when they were discovered by L. Parks, a jeweler, from whose back yard they were trying to gain admittance to the Brick saloon by cutting a screen on a window about 10 feet from the ground. The robbers made their escape before a policeman could be summoned. They gained admittance to the Eagle saloon, owned by Mike Nelson, through a side door, by breaking a panel, then reaching through and releasing the bolt. About $11 was secured from this register. A. O. Young's saloon was broken into through a rear door, the lock being forced. They secured about $13 from this register.

DETECTIVES IN STOKES CASE FREED OF CHARGE

(United Press Leased Wire.)
New York, July 22.—Four city detectives alleged to have seized W. E. D. Stokes' letters to Lillian Graham, following the shooting of Stokes by the Graham girl and Ethel Conrad, were today exonerated by Police Commissioner Waldo. He held that the charge that the officers had taken the letters, and then sold them to Stokes' lawyer was not proved.

Mrs. Carey Settles Claim.

Frances Carey, widow of Clyde B. Carey, was appointed administrator of his estate yesterday in the circuit court. He died July 9, following an accident by falling from a street car at Fifth and Mill streets. An order was also allowed Mrs. Carey to settle the claim against the Portland Railway, Light & Power company for the death. The claim was compromised for $1000.

CANNERIES' PACK GOOD AT ASTORIA

Fish Average Less in Weight, However, Which Hurts Cold Storage Showing.

(Special to The Journal.)
Astoria, Or., July 22.—The results of the fishing season on the lower river so far this season, as far as the gill netters and seiners on Sand Island and Desdemona, Sands are concerned, have been the best in many years. The pack at the canneries is far in excess of that of several previous seasons at the corresponding period, and in two or three instances the pack is equal to what it was at the close of the season last year.

The cold storage plants, however, are behind last year in their output, as the fish caught have averaged smaller than usual, and nothing under 30 pound fish is taken for cold storage. Until within the last week very little fish has been caught above Tongue Point, but during the past few days fair catches have been taken there. On the lower river during the past few days the tides have been unfavorable, and smaller catches have been the rule, but with warmer weather and favorable tides it is expected that the remainder of the season from now on will show an improvement.

RIGHT OF WAY CLAIMED TO BE FOR MOUNT HOOD

(Special to The Journal.)
Orencia, Or., July 22.—It is rumored that another electric railroad is to be built through to the coast, this town being one of the objective points along the route. Two men, claiming to represent the Mount Hood Railway company, were through here during the past week making inquiries of property owners along a proposed route. Elmer Horick, a local merchant, met the men. It is believed it is the plan to tunnel the range of hills west of Portland and thus give a direct route from this section into the city. It is believed that from here the route will be to Reedyville, Hillsboro and stations down the Southern Pacific to McMinnville, the village of Bethany, between here and Portland, being also on the proposed route.

Outlet Will Filed.

The will of W. E. Cutler, who died July 1, was filed yesterday in the county court. This estate is valued at $21,000, and is left to the widow. She is also named executrix.
