LABOR UNIONS ARE OPPOSED TO WAR

Workingmen in France Organize Campaign of Education Against Killing.

(By the International News Service.) Paris, August 5 .- That a mischlevous spirit is abroad in the French army. which might become a serious danger to the country in case of a war, is daily becoming more evident and is causing the government considerable anxiety-especially at a time when the morococy question has not been finally settled.

While there is probably no more patriotic nation in the world than the French, compulsory military service in lings, $3.90@7.50.

Organize to Oppose War. A recent trial of three labor leaders brought out a number of startling facts about the anti-militarist propaganda which has caused a great feeling of alarm among patriotic citizens.

The men were arrested in connection with the society that sends pocket money to soldiers who are trade unionists. Accompanying the money is a circular urging the soldiers to fire their rifles in the air should they be called Grain upon to take part in war.

Questioned as to the working of the society Victor Viau, one of the men under arrest, declared that the society was affiliated with the bricklayers' union, which had about 14,500 members. Every member paid a franc a month. A portion of this contribution went to per acre.

C. D. Stout, of the Oregon Mill & Grain company, estimates that the total yield this year will be 600,000 bushels and the quality will be of the best. He returned from a trip over the valley and declares that he never saw better looking fields of grain anywhere. There is no poor wheat in the valley, he declares, and some of the fields will run as high as 60 bushels per acre.

Asked who drew up the circulars inciting the soldiers to disobedience Viau confessed that he himself wrote the anti-militarist letter sent out in May.

**Xilling Should Be Stopped.**

"We appeal to the conscience of men." said Viau, "for we cannot admit that a comrade should be ordered to fire on his brother."

In answer to this circular many letters were received at the headquarters of the society. One of these epistles ran:

"I have advised my comrades not to march on any occasion, and to disobey the orders of their, officers if they are asked to shoot."

The first machine was started yesterday afternoon and was run by Willard Heaton on the farm of William Heaton, at Spangle, Wash. The yield was between 25 and 35 bushels to the acre, and the quality excellent.

While harvesting in the Weston district has barely begun, enough reports have been received from the fields to indicate a yield at some places above the normal. From 70 acres of wheat a mile north of town James J. Turner filled 1610 sacks or about 52 bushels per acre. In the same locality, two "settings" have

In the same locality two "settings" have just been finished at A. J. McIntyre's place, and his crop so far is estimated at 50 bushels an acre. The same figure is reported from the field of Joseph now being threshed, while of the J. N. York crew say that he has threshed some wheat which averaged above 55 bushels.

Already more than a dozen baling outfits, steam, gasoline or horsepower, are operating in the valley and from 25 to 36 will be needed to complete the big job. Each outfit requires the services of a large number of men and teams, more if the hay is baled from the shock, less if it is taken from the stack. One ranch, that of Tom Wilson, has now seven balers compressing the immense crop, which is being stored in the largest barns in the valley.

There is a good crop of hay around Farmington Wash. Timothy, alfalfa and clover have done well, and wheat and oat hay is of exceleint quality. The price is much lower than last year, when a hay famine was feared and early prices were higher than at any time

All of last year's apple crop was sold on July 1 and the business of last season is now cleaned up and the union 3.00 is ready for the crop that will be harvested this fall. The apple business done by the organization last year amounted to approximately $600,000.

Many new fruit districts in north central Washington are making their first showing this season, and already this season the fruit lands on the east side of the Columbia river, known as 5.35 East Wenafchee, have produced 10 carloads of apricots and it is estimated that there will be at least five carloads of peaches.

The estimate of the crop from Brewster to Oroville, in the Okanogan country, will be 50 carloads, 30 being of apples, five of pears, five of peaches and four of prunes.

The demand for fruit land near Garfield is increasing and a number of sales have been made recently. George F. Stivers, one of the pioneers in fruit culture here, has sold $23,000 worth of fruit lands adjoining town within the last 60 days. D. M. Clark is running his packing shed at Union with a full crew at present, packing from 400 to 500 crates of Bing cherries per day, which will be shipped to St. Paul. The cherries are very good this year, as a great many were injured by the late frost.

The huckleberry crop in the mountain regions along the Colville valley is said to be one worth harvesting this year.

That 30 cents a pound is too low an estimate for the price of hops this fall is the belief of Richard Strobach, who has grown hops in the Yakima valley for more than 25 years. Strobach says that in case dry weather should prevail in Oregon, or the English crop should fall, 50 to 80 cents a pound would not be too high a figure to expect for the crop from the Yakima district.

According to Harry Frazier, who is an expert on hops, the California crop will not equal that of last year, while the foreign demand will be greater. There are very few old hops in storage, and the market will be filled with nothing but new hops this year. In the hops fields near Wheatland, Tehama and Nord growers are already preparing for the harvest, and camps are being prepared for the pickers.
