

BUILDING OF TWO NEW TOW BOATS TO BE DECIDED SOON

Port of Portland at Regular Monthly Meeting to Hold Adjourned Session; Reports for July Submitted.

That the matter of building a new steel sternwheel towboat and a new dredge for the port of Portland will be definitely settled one way or the other soon is probable, as the commission at its regular monthly meeting yesterday decided to hold an adjourned meeting in a few days at which former Commissioners F. C. Swigert and C. F. Adams will be invited, as the matter of having additional equipment built was taken up extensively by the old commission, and their views and ideas in the matter will be asked for. Another matter that will be taken up in connection with a new dredge will be that of future harbor plans, and President S. M. Mears of the board was delegated to confer with F. W. Mulkey, chairman of the dock commission, in regard to the drawing up of joint plans for future harbor improvement, the object being to outline a detailed plan for present and distant future development. The plans, according to President Mears' memorandum, are to be drawn up by engineers of the two boards and to be approved by both boards acting separately. President Mears was also authorized by the board, all of the members of which were present except Captain Archie Pease, who was out of the city, to compile a booklet or circular for distribution, especially among foreign shipowners, giving statistical information and maps of the physical condition of the river and bar, as well as information concerning dry dock rates here. In his report to the board for July Captain Hugh T. Groves, superintendent of dredgers, stated that the dredge Columbus, after finishing the cut at the west of Swan Island for the government engineers which was done on July 18, was moved to Postoffice bar and started work there on July 24 digging a channel 2000 feet long by 300 feet wide, and taking out approximately 66,000 cubic yards of sand. The dredge Portland, which worked at Postoffice bar during the entire month, dug 1200 feet of channel, removing approximately 60,000 cubic yards.

Free Service for Boston.

Superintendent H. F. Campion, of towage and pilotage, stated in his report for the month of July that there were 26 harbor moves, 16 bar tows, 15 river tows and 4 special river services. The port also furnished pilots on the bar six times. On Superintendent Campion's recommendation, the board allowed services to the cruiser Boston free.

Bids for Supplies Opened by Board Yesterday.

Bids for supplies opened by the board yesterday were referred to Commissioner Goodman, with authority to award the contracts to the lowest bidder. He awarded the meat contract to the Boston Packing company, whose bid was $1451, and the fruit and vegetable contract he awarded to T. O'Malley on a bid of $309.75, both contracts being for the period of three months. The grocery contract will be awarded when the bids have been balanced.

SAN JACINTO TO BE DRYDOCKED

Vessel to Be Towed From Astoria; Laid Up for Repairs.

is at Astoria today awaiting the arrival of the steamer San Jacinto, which left Aberdeen yesterday in tow of the tug Cudahy, bound for Portland. As soon as the steamer reaches the river the Onsetta will tow the San Jacinto up to the Port of Portland drydock, at St. Johns, where she will be docked to undergo repairs as a result of going on the rocks at Grays Harbor about a week ago. It is said that the planking of her bottom on one side is badly crushed. Her lumber cargo, which was destined for San Francisco, is still in the hold although her deckload is gone, having been washed away when the steamer struck.

JOHAN POULSEN CRIPPLED

Steamer Towed Back to Golden Gate With Machinery Disabled.

Reports to the Merchants' exchange state that the steamer Johan Poulsen, Captain Lancaster, which sailed from San Francisco for this port last night, was towed back to the Golden Gate by the steamer Redondo with her machinery disabled. The report said that either her tail shaft or her propeller had been broken. The Poulsen was coming with a general cargo inward while she was to take her usual lumber cargo back to San Francisco.

BOATS MUST NOT RACE

Harbormaster Gives Orders to Make Craft Obey Law.

When Harbormaster J. Speler left this morning on his annual vacation he left orders with Acting Harbormaster C. R. Grism to prosecute violators of the speed laws within the local harbor. Several steamers have apparently taken advantage of the leniency of the harbor police and have exceeded the speed limit on various occasions lately. As a result of the order the acting harbormaster is issuing a warning to the steamboat companies today to the effect that their boats must not exceed eight miles an hour in the harbor. All boats are timed between the steel bridge and the beacon light at the turn beyond the Portland flouring mills, 13 1/2 minutes being allowed to make the run, and while a matter of a minute less time has always been overlooked by the harbormaster, more than that will not be allowed. Acting Harbormaster Grism says that now while the Broadway bridge is being built, the necessity of holding the speed down is greater than ever as there are a large number of men working in the caissons below the water and swells from speeding boats endanger their lives. Warrants will be issued for any steamers that break the speed laws during the present warning. Among the greatest offenders, says Grism, are the steamers Monarch, Dallas City and J. N. Teal.

ALONG THE WATERFRONT.

After being granted a special license by United States Inspectors Edwards and Fuller to carry 400 passengers on a daylight run out over the Columbia river bar and 600 inside the bar, the Olson & Mahoney steamer Carlos, Captain H. Peterson, left down for Astoria last night. To complete her lumber cargo for San Francisco the steamer Casco, Captain Jacobson, will drop down the river from St. Helens to Oak Point this afternoon or this evening. The steamer P. H. Leggett, Captain Hall, will leave down from the Irving dock, where she has been discharging cement and asphalt, for Tongue Point to load lumber for San Pedro. R. J. Cornell, ticket agent on the Alsworth dock, left for Astoria in the steamer Beaver this morning to join the cruiser Boston for her ten days' cruise, as he is paymaster's yeoman.

An unusually heavy steering list for this time of the year was taken out on the steamer Beaver, Captain Nelson, this morning which brought her total list up to 400 passengers. She had 279 in the cabin and 130 steerage. There was 1700 tons of freight. The Samson-Henderson case will be resumed before United States Inspectors Edwards and Fuller tomorrow morning. The testimony of witnesses on Standard Oil barge No. 93 is being taken by the inspectors at San Francisco and will be forwarded here. Carrying 330 passengers and 1800 tons of freight the steamer Bear, Captain Nopander, is scheduled to arrive at 2 o'clock this afternoon from Los Angeles and San Francisco. To make an inspection at Crater lake, Major Morrow, corps of engineers, U. S. A., left last night for the reserve and will be gone until next Wednesday. The party now there engaged in surveying roads will be expected to complete their work about the middle of this month. Because of an unexpected delay the gas steamer Anvil will not sail on her schedule at 7 o'clock tonight but will leave for southern ports at 8 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Laden with a large consignment of oak timbers for the Pacific Lumber & Manufacturing company, the Japanese steamer Kuan Maru, 2145 tons net, Captain Murayama, arrived at Astoria at 9:15 this morning. After discharging here she will load a cargo of Oregon fire north China, being under charter to the China Import & Export Lumber company.

Notice to Mariners.

Captain L. Curtis of the steamer Santa Maria reports to this office having seen a large quantity of logs, apparently not long in the water, July 30, in latitude N. 35 degrees 01 minute, longitude W. 121 degrees 37 minutes. Captain R. Dabel of the tug Crona reports to this office that the channel between Middle and Snake points, Susan bay, is shoaling very rapidly, there being now but 11 feet of low water for a distance of about three-quarters of a mile. The channel off Pacheco flat is narrowing. The channel spar buoy No. 3, Edith Point, has about 14 feet of water.
