

HETTY GREEN GIVES UP HER CHEAP FLAT. SON SEEKS A BRIDE

"Richest Woman in World" Moves into Brown Stone House; Her "Boy" Tells the Kind of Wife He Wants.

(Special to The Journal.) New York, Aug. 12.—Mrs. Hetty Green, who is worth between $75,000,000 and $125,000,000, today is living in a brownstone house at Central Park West and 84th street. She declared that she would never return to her $19 flat where she lived many years.

Colonel Edward H. B. Green, her only son, who announced that he will get married within 12 months, surrendered his suite at the Waldorf-Astoria and will make his home with his mother until he finds the woman who is willing to accept him because she loves him and not because she loves his money.

Wants Beautiful Wife. "What kind of a wife do you desire?" he was asked. "Well," answered the colonel slowly, "if she would take me I'd like to marry the most beautiful girl in the world."

A story said the 42 year old son of the richest woman in the world had entered into a compact with his mother that he would not marry until he had reached his present age. This the colonel denied.

"I have been willing all these 20 years," he said, "but I couldn't find the girl."

"What was the difficulty?" was asked. "Well," he answered, "I, like Barkis was willing, but the girls wouldn't propose to me. But I've reached a different conclusion now. I find I must propose."

"Have you any one in mind to whom you may soon put the question?" "Well—no," was the response.

"Have you got your eye on any one of the scores of girls who wrote to you a few months ago proposing marriage?"

Some Under Consideration. "I still have some of them under consideration," he said.

"What kind of a girl do you want?" "Merely the right one."

"Young or old?" "Preferably young."

"Between 20 and 27?" "I might stretch a point either way."

"Blonde or brunette?" "If beautiful, a blonde; if beautiful, a brunette," answered the impartial colonel. "One or the other; of course not both. I have no inclination toward polygamy."

Colonel Green laughed. He is a big man and when he laughs, he laughs.

In discussing New York women Green said: "Women should marry with the idea of having children and caring for a home. How many of the women here do so?"

"The majority of wealthy New York wives, even though they have a child or two, do not know any more about their parents' life than the youngster is expected to cut his first tooth than they do about an ichthyosaurus."

SHOWMAN AND TRAMP BATTLE ON TRAIN TOP

(Publishers' Press Leased Wire.) Chicago, Aug. 12.—In a desperate hand to hand battle on top of a flying train with flashes of lightning the only illumination, Charles Tetzel, of Chicago, was probably fatally wounded early today. The battle occurred in the southern outskirts of Chicago and Tetzel's assailant, a tramp, escaped.

Tetzel, employed by the "101 Ranch West Show," discovered the tramp riding on the roof of one of the cars of the train. The early morning storm was at its height but Tetzel, at the risk of his life, climbed to the top of the car to inquire as to the intruder's business.

"Get off of her or I'll throw you off," screamed the tramp above the roar of the storm. The man seized Tetzel and attempted to make good his threat. Fighting for his life, Tetzel grappled with the stranger. Nearer and nearer the edge of the car roof the tramp forced his antagonist. In a desperate effort to save himself Tetzel missed his footing and slipped from the roof.

Later he was found crushed, bruised and delirious lying beside the main Central tracks. He was taken to the Pullman hospital where he recovered long enough to tell his story and then became unconscious.

BIRDMEN'S CAPERS SPECTACULAR; FROLICS IN AIR AND WATER

Martin Hits Fence. The third accident occurred to Professor James V. Martin, the Harvard pundit, who skinned the ground a little close of the south end while approaching a turn, and ran into the fence hard enough to put his machine out of commission.

After completing his low flights, Lincoln Beachey went after altitude and when at the height or about 4000 feet started the spectators by letting go his hold on the clouds and dropping like a swallow that has folded its wings and started home. He dropped like a plummet for 1000 feet and then checked himself, doing the wonderful aerial act for the rest of the distance. The civilized much of the attention of the million people who saw the events until the more sensational monoplane began their flights.

Louis Mitchell and the rest of the Wright flyers had everything their own way in the duration contest, which will be totaled for the greatest length of time any flyer has been in the air, at the conclusion of the meet.

Jordan Goes to Japan. (United Press Leased Wire.) San Francisco, Aug. 12.—An advocate of International Arbitration, President David Starr Jordan of Stanford university is speeding toward Japan on the liner Chiyu Maru. Dr. Jordan is optimistic regarding an arbitration treaty between Spain and the United States and will use his influence while in the former country toward making the treaty possible.

OREGON HOTEL NOW HAS NEW MANAGER

M. K. MacRae Promoted From Chief Clerk, and F. Block Succeeds Him.

Top picture—W. K. MacRae, now resident manager of Oregon hotel; Fred T. Block, new chief clerk at Oregon hotel.

Change in the management of the Oregon hotel occurred yesterday when Messrs Wright and Dickinson, owners of the hotel, relinquished active supervision of the hostelry and promoted M. K. MacRae from chief clerk to resident manager. Fred Block, assistant clerk clerk, was made chief clerk.

Mr. MacRae, who has held important positions with the leading hotels of the northwest since 1884, began his labors in the Hotel Oregon in January, 1906, in the capacity of chief clerk.

"MacRae is undoubtedly the best man who ever officiated in the capacity of chief clerk," said Mr. Dickinson. "Long years ago he filled the position of manager of another prominent hotel. MacRae is famed throughout the United States for his wonderful memory, his gentleness, his veracity and faithfulness. The promotion given him has been justly earned, and is occasioned by the fact that the owners of the hotel are very busy men."

Besides operating the Hotel Oregon they also operate the Hotel Seattle, in Seattle, and it is rumored that they have aspirations for still larger fields and are about to erect hotels in other cities. This does not mean that Messrs. Wright and Dickinson are in any way going to relinquish the supervision of their present property. It merely means that MacRae has won their confidence and esteem and is worthy of dealing with the details of the Hotel Oregon as they may arise. Mr. Wright or Mr. Dickinson will be at the Oregon the greater portion of the time.

Fred Block, when a boy, entered the employ of Messrs. Wright and Dickinson.

ACCUSING SOLONS SURE STEPHENSON CHARGES ARE TRUE

Members of Wisconsin Legislature Who Demanded Investigation of Election, See Big Scandal.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Madison, Wis., Aug. 12.—Members of the state legislature, who demanded that the United States senate investigate the election of United States Senator Isaac Stephenson, declared today they were sure the senate committee, provided for today, would be able to uncover evidence that would bear out charges against the multi-millionaire "lumber king."

The charge that Senator Stephenson's $107,000, which he admits he spent in securing his primary nomination in 1908, was used for corrupting voters, led to the legislative investigation, in which the friends of Senator La Follette took a leading part. Following the investigation new and drastic legislation was enacted by the legislature, making the corrupt practices act one of the most rigid in the United States.

Political lieutenants of "Uncle Ike" declare they do not fear the investigation. They declare it will show that, although he may have spent $107,000 to secure his own nomination, Senator Stephenson also spent nearly $500,000 of his own money supporting Senator La Follette when the latter was engaged in perfecting the political organization by means of which he now controls the state.

BIG NEGRO CONGRESS PLANNED FOR 1915

(United Press Leased Wire.) Denver, Colo., Aug. 12.—The National Negro Educational congress plans to hold a national emancipation exposition in 1915, probably in connection with the Panama Pacific exposition in San Francisco. It is proposed that the National Business league and the National Association of Colored teachers be asked to cooperate. The congress of the United States will be asked for an appropriation to carry on the celebration. If San Francisco does not want the negroes it is likely some other city will be selected. Governor Shafroth today welcomed the delegates. The difficulty of providing accommodations for the guests was partially overcome by offering entertainment in private homes. The attendance was much smaller than had been expected.

ALBANY SEES FINISHED PAVING OF 21 BLOCKS

(Special to The Journal.) Albany, Or., Aug. 12.—This year's paving work in Albany, amounting to $60,000, was completed this afternoon by the Warren Construction company. In all, 21 blocks of bitulithic were laid on Ellsworth, Washington, Third and Ferry streets. The work was commenced in June. Journal Want Ads bring results.

FLEET OF SPY TUGS TAGS OPIUM LINER

Customs Officials Send Out Flotilla to Escort Suspected Steamer to Port.

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Francisco, Aug. 12.—Acting under special instructions from the secretary of the treasury at Washington, local customs officials tonight sent out a flotilla of sea-going tugs with inspectors aboard to search for contraband opium on board the big Pacific mail liner Mongolia, which is due at this port early tomorrow. Customs officials say they have received advance information that there is a large amount of opium aboard the steamer.

The local officials say they have every reason to believe that much of the contraband drug which has been reaching San Francisco has been lowered from the big China steamers in floats well out at sea and later has been picked up by unsuspected fishing boats.

The tugs will follow in the wake of the vessel from the time she is ten miles out until she drops anchor here. The espionage on the Mongolia probably will be extended to the America Maru, which is due here August 17. This liner is known as the champion opium smuggling vessel in the Trans-Pacific trade, more than $40,000 worth of the drug having been found aboard when she arrived here June 1. At that time Captain Stevens of the America Maru was fined $27,800 by Collector Stratton for having the contraband aboard his vessel.

DALLES WOMAN HURT AT YAQUINA

Hurrying Crowd Shoves Her Off Edge of Gangplank to Rocks 12 Feet Below.

(Special to The Journal.) The Dalles, Or., Aug. 12.—Mrs. Yunker of The Dalles, member of a pioneer family, and aged 67, was seriously injured at Yaquina this evening. She was about to board the launch Beaver for Newport, when the jostling crowd shoved her over the unguarded edge. She fell 12 feet onto the rocks and was fearfully cut about the head and shoulders. On account of her age, the result may be fatal. She refused at first to give her name or any information. She is accompanied by her daughter.

Building Active at Nehalem.

(Special to The Journal.) Nehalem, Or., Aug. 12.—J. J. Walter has completed the first house to be built at Nehalem Bay park. The city of Nehalem, although almost burned up last spring, is rebuilding rapidly. Larger hotels and business houses are being built than before the fire. The steamer Vosberg makes regular trips here and is doing a good business. Nehalem people think the town is destined to be one of the greatest summer resorts on the coast when the railroad is completed.

Of the more than 7,500,000 telephones in the United States more than 500,000,000 are in hotel bedrooms.
