

PEACHES LOWER ON HOCHAMPTON MARKET

Top Stuff Sells at 75c While Others Range Down to 50c Along the Street.

- Portland Wholesale Markets. Dressed meats firm. Egg market mixed. Chickens very firm. Peaches are lower. Grapes plentiful. Fresh salmon scarce.

This being a holiday there was a slightly lower price for fruits generally in the front street trade. Peaches were offered from 50 to 75c a box, the latter being the extreme top with average sales of quality around 70c.

Some small lots of Mulra are now coming forward, and are showing very good quality. By some parties these are considered the ideal fruit for canning purposes, therefore future shipments are eagerly awaited.

Some dry rot has developed in the peaches from southern Oregon, and for that reason little of this fruit is available for anything except fresh use.

Front street exports quite liberal shipments to market tomorrow, although the size of the arrivals is likely to show a decrease owing to the general rain throughout the Pacific northwest during the past 60 hours.

RAZOR CLAMS PLENTIFUL. Better supplies of razor clams are offering in the local market today and for that reason prices are fractionally off. Most sales are reported at $2 per box.

DRESSED MEATS ARE FIRM. All lines of dressed meats are showing strength in the front street market. Veals are quoted as high as 14c for tops and few of this class—or in fact any other, are now coming forward.

A slightly better tone is apparent in the dressed hog market with tops at 11c and ordinary lots of quality around 10 1/2c.

POULTRY MARKET EXCELLENT. An excellent demand continues in the poultry market and the trade is of the opinion that business will be good all through the week. The demand for springers is 18c, shown for 15c, and hens and both are quoted from 15 1/2 to 16 1/2c a pound. Ducks are firm at the prices quoted during the latter part of the week.

FRESH SALMON SCARCE. Considerable scarcity is showing in supplies of fresh salmon in the front street trade. The catch at coast streams shows no improvement and as most of the supplies come from there, wholesalers have experienced considerable difficulty in filling their orders at 10 to 11c a pound.

SWEET POTATOES LOWER. A further decline is showing here in the price of sweet potatoes. Receipts have increased considerably of late and this has led the price down to 3c a pound. Quality is the best of the present season's offerings.

HOP BUSINESS IS PASSING. Quite a liberal amount of hop business has been passing in the hop market, but has been kept quiet by dealers. Trade in both this state and in Washington has been reported at 35c to 37c a pound.

HUCKLEBERRIES AT HIGHER LEVEL

Price Drops Down to 7@8c a Pound Today; Trade Not Yet Taking Hold.

Huckleberries are showing extreme weakness in the front street trade, and sales are being made down to 7c and 8c a pound with retailers slow buyers. Receipts of huckleberries are much heavier and for that reason there has been a steady decline in the quotation during the past week. The price started at 15c a pound and by swift stages dropped to the present low level. On account of the lower markets for other fruits it is believed that huckleberries will also drop to a lower level than usual. Generally the bottom of the market is reached at 6c a pound for good quality, although sales of "leaky" goods are sometimes made down to 5c or even lower.

As the public has scarcely started to take hold of huckleberries in this season, the outlook seems favorable for the low level of recent years. Quality of present offerings is very good.

LAKE COUNTY CROPS ARE BEST IN YEARS

Lakeview, Or., Sept. 4.—The harvest of the grain and hay crops for Lake county are almost completed and in Goose lake valley are the best for several years, though there never is a total crop failure in the county.

This season's crops demonstrate the desirability of farming without irrigation, even though "Dry Farming" methods are not followed absolutely. The rainfall is sufficient to grow abundant crops without the thorough soil tillage that sections with less rainfall are obliged to contend with.

A fine crop of 300 tons of "Blue joint" grain was produced on the William Bodkins ranch in Chewaucan valley, some of which is four feet in height, and without irrigation. Thousands of bushels of fine unirrigated potatoes, the best as regards quality grown in the state, will be marketed this year from the valley here.

Christman lake valley, where the people that sowed their grain late last spring thought they would be a total crop failure, is looming up in fine shape and their hay will reach two or three tons to the acre, while oats yield 40 bushels, wheat 20 to 25 bushels to the acre.

The settlers that remained there and harvested their grain will be in good shape financially this year.

Salem, Or., Sept. 4.—That it would take several weeks of raining to seriously injure hops in this section was the declaration of several prominent growers and dealers today.

"There is no danger of mold because there are no lice," said T. A. Livesly, 3639 N. Vermont street, who has been practically eliminated from any consideration, and aside from some few red spiders that have been found at the big yard of the Herman Kluber Hop company at Kluber, no pests are feared.

The vines and the buds are in good shape and the yield will be good. Picking will begin the 6th of the month in some yards, but most growers will not begin until the 10th.

Pickers are reported numerous. Many Indians have already arrived to pick in the yard here. Most of these come from Grays and Willapa harbor points. Local pickers are also numerous, and growers hope that one exception report of their quota full. One dollar per box will be paid for picking in this vicinity. In one yard near Toledo a grower will pay $1.25. There have been no sales

CATTLE AND SHEEP MARKET IS HIGHER

Former 10c Up While Latter Is 15 to 25c Better Than on Saturday.

Today's Livestock Market. Hogs—Valley stuff sells at $8.35, which means $8.50 for eastern Oregon tops. Cattle—Sales are made about 10c higher than last week. Sheep and lambs—Market better at an advance of 15 to 25c over Saturday.

PORTLAND LIVESTOCK RUN. Hogs Cattle Calves Sheep Monday 429 473 82 227 Saturday 156 237 156 237 Friday 156 237 156 237 Thursday 156 237 156 237 Wednesday 156 237 156 237 Tuesday 156 237 156 237 Week ago 70 248 101 1019

There was a better tone all through the local livestock market today, hogs accepted. This confirmed the exclusive forecasts made by this paper during the past few days. Lambs sold as high as $4.90 this morning or 16c above previous quotations and the sheep trade in general was about 15 to 25c better than last week.

While there was quite a fair run in the mutton division over Sunday, buyers at North Portland took hold somewhat more eagerly. This was probably due to the cooler weather. Listed at North Portland this morning were 2727 head, compared with 337 on Saturday, four lots.

At South Omaha the sheep and lamb trade was steady for killers while feeders were lower. Following quotations were available there during the day: Lambs, $5.40 to $6.00; yearlings, $4.00 to $4.40; wethers, $3.30 to $3.50; ewes, $2.90 to $3.15.

Shippers of sheep today: L. Short & Son, Cliffs, Wash., 1 load; C. P. Ketchum & Son, The Dalles, Or., 3 loads; Clough & Patterson, Mitchell, Or., 2 loads; Albert Morgan, Enterprise, Or., 3 loads; Thomas Morgan, 1 load; S. H. Howard, Baker, Or., 2 loads.

Portland sheep and lamb ranges: Select lambs 4.75; Ordinary lambs 4.25 to 4.50; Best wethers 3.30 to 3.50; Common lambs 2.75 to 3.00; Best ewes 2.00 to 2.50; Ordinary ewes 2.00 to 2.50.

Cattle Doing Better. From the action of the cattle market at North Portland this morning the price was about a dime higher than last week. Selected stuff would sell at $5.75 on the basis of recent sales.

Quite a fair bunch of cattle came forward from Montana this morning, which consisted of almost everything in that line, and therefore prices were not at all uniform. The market was a steady one, with top steers at $7.30 and best cows and heifers at $5.75.

Cattle shippers in the yards today: H. A. Cowell, Conrad, Mont., 10 loads cattle and calves; C. F. Walker, Pendleton, Or., 3 loads; H. B. Kooper, Shaniko, Or., 1 load.

North Portland range: Best steers 5.65; Choice steers 5.00; Ordinary 4.50 to 5.00; Common steers 4.00 to 4.25; Best heifers 4.80 to 4.90; Fancy cows 4.60; Ordinary cows 3.00 to 4.40; Fancy bull calves 2.50 to 2.75; Good ordinary bulls 2.50; Common bulls 2.00 to 2.75; Fancy light calves 5.50 to 6.00; Ordinary calves 4.00 to 5.00.

Hog Market Is Lower. It would take a week of damp weather and rain to develop such conditions. Rain is cleaning the vines and dampening the ground, which will make conditions better for the hop crop. Rain is clearing up in the near future. Temporarily there is confusion and wrath being stirred up among the hoppers, who are in the yards by the hundreds, pitching camps and preparing for the work which was to have started the middle of the week.

CHEHALIS HOPS ARE GOOD. Chehalis, Wash., Sept. 4.—The hop situation at Chehalis is one of the best from the viewpoint of growers that has existed for years. Lice have been practically eliminated from any consideration, and aside from some few red spiders that have been found at the big yard of the Herman Kluber Hop company at Kluber, no pests are feared.

COOLER WEATHER AWAITED FOR EGGS

Market Not Quite So Good During Latter Part of the Week; Small Sizes Hurt.

An improvement in the egg market is anticipated by the local trade as soon as weather conditions are cooler. While the main run of Oregon eggs recently has been of good quality, quite a few shipments were received in bad shape owing to the warm weather. Naturally this had an effect upon the trade. Poor eggs always help to demoralize prices, and this is said to be the cause of the condition which forced leading local egg handlers to fractionally lower their prices during the latter part of last week.

The weakness was caused, too, by the fact that so much very poor eastern eggs are being offered, and as these had to be moved at any price available, the cheaper trade took them in preference to the better quality Oregon stock.

Front street dealers have had many complaints recently regarding small eggs. According to one prominent handler, a large per cent of his arrivals recently have been of small size, and for that reason he has been forced to accept a slightly lower price in order to unload more promptly than would have been the case had he held for the full limit.

The export wheat market is firmer all around and the demand for European shipment is the best known for several seasons. The very firm tone at Berlin recently was due entirely to the protracted dry weather which cut down the size of the wheat yield all over continental Europe. The recent advances in the wheat and hop markets were due to the same cause. California millers are bidding for Turkey red and for bluestem, but sales at this time are mostly for export. The barley market has reached another high record and as high as $12 has been paid in the interior for No. 1 brewing, making the local landing price better than $8 a ton track. Oats market is firm and $17.50 to $18 is being freely offered in the Willamette valley for supplies. A meeting of Washington millers is expected within a day or so to name the price of new crop patent flour.

OMAHA HOGS HIGHER.

South Omaha—Cattle, $600; market steady to weak. Steers, $7.40 to $7.90; cows and heifers, $4.40 to $5.75. Hogs, $400; market 5c higher. Sales, $1150 to $1250. Sheep, $40.00; killers steady; feeders lower. Yearlings, $4.00 to $4.40; wethers, $3.30 to $3.60; lambs, $5.40 to $6.00; ewes, $3.00 to $4.15.
