Weather Conditions.

A storm of decided character is central over the Great Salt Lake basin, and a secondary disturbance is central over the upper Mississippi valley. A large high pressure area overlies the Sanadian northwest, and the barometer is rising in California. Phenomenally heavy rains have occurred in the lower Willamette valley; 2.05 inches fell in Portland during the last 12 hours, and in the last 24 hours the fall amounted to 2.58 inches, which is the heaviest 24 hour rainfall on record so early in the season. Good rains have also fallen in nearly all the other sections of Oregon and in eastern Washington and Idaho, but no precipitation of consequence is reported along the coast and in north; western Washington. Heavy rains fell yesterday in Montana and the Dakotas, and last night in Minnesota and portions of Wisconsin. The temperature has fallen in the northern states from the Pacific ocean to the great lakes, and risen in the lake region and Ohio valley. Elsewhere the changes have been unimportant.

Speaking of real vaudeville, if the new Orpheum bill this week with Edwin Stevens and Laly Lens, heralded as headliners, is not worthy of the S. R. O. sign, few bills are.

Edwin Stevens, assisted by Tina Marshall, who created such a furor in their scenes from Dickens, have arranged a clever hodge podge of sparkling lines, brilliant burlesques and smart parodies, closing the act with a scene from the "Old Curiosity Shop" between Dick wiveler and the Marchioness. the finest thing they do. Mr. Stevens is a brilliant and versatile actor who clever. Her Marchioness is a work of art. Their act is a genuine treat.

Back again comes Lily Lena with the most wonderful and beautiful array of gowns that has ever graced the Orpheum stage. Creations, all of them, they alone would make an act; but in addition there is Lily with her smile and six new songs. The favorite was her late success, "Take It Nice and Easy," which is by far the best one in her repertoire. Another one which pleased especially was "Over the Garden Wall.

Few more beautiful or interesting dancing acts have been at the Orpheum than that presented by the Four Elles. Their four dances are marked with originality, art and skill. Their ice skating and pantomimic dances were the most beautiful but no more clever nor interesting than their Brazilian and acrobatic dance. They have in addition good looks and stunning clothes.

John W. World and Mindel Kingston appear in 27 minutes of rich wariety and cleverness running the entire gauntlet of vaudeville work. Miss Kingston sings unusually well and wears lovely costumes, to say nothing of her coat of sparkles. Mr. World does some good character and comedy character work and the act is a round of surprises. It finally closes with a dance that is a For novelty, the Australian wood

MUSIC LOVERS FIND JOY AT PANTAGES

To the lover of real music a treat is offered by the singing of "The Heart Bowed Down," by Homer Lind, in his charming one act play, with music, "The Opera Singer," at Pantages this week. Lind is endowed with a rare, rich baritone so seldom heard, and his rendition of his several solos is exquisite. Lind was formerly with the Henry W. Savage grand opera forces, and his metropolitan career was studded with successes in various roles, the most successful perhaps being in the leading part in "Parsi-

Second on the program comes "The Watermelon Trust" Just why this act has been adorned with such an application is hard to tell, but the four colored entertainers who appear are "all to the merry," in the parlance of vaudeville. Their songs and dances are appreciated, and the act pleases from the very start.

"Circus Eve in Mexico," as presented by the La Kellios, is a pleasant diversion from the ordinary, as the players are genuine Mexicans.

Vernon, the ventriloquist, is the same likeable entertainer that he was on his former appearance here several seasons ago, and his puppets are well handled. Adair and Henney are clever amusers, and their act makes a hit.

The cost of interments have been greatly reduced by the Holman Undertaking company.

Heretofore it has been the custom of funeral directors to make charges for all incidentals connected with a funeral. The Edward Holman Undertaking company, the leading funeral directors of Portland, have departed from that custom. When casket is furnished by us we make no extra charges for embolming, hearse to cemetery, outside box or any services that may be required of us, except clothing, cemetery and carriages, thus effecting a saving of $25 to $75 on each funeral.
