WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write to Dr. Pierce and receive free the advice of a physician of over 40 years' experience. -a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter of this sort has the most careful consideration and is regarded as sacredly confidential. Many sensitively modest women write fully to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do snything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce holds that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them.

Dr. Pierce's treatment will onre you right in the privacy of your own home. His "Favorite Prescription" has cured hundreds of thousands, some of them the worst of cases.

It is the only medicine of its kind that is the product of a regularly graduated physician. The only one good enough that its makers dure to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper. There's no secreey. It will bear examination. No second and no habit-forming drugs are found in it. Some unscrupulous medicine dealers may offer you a substitute. Don't take it. Don't trifle with your health. Write to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, President, Buffalo, N. Y.,—take the advice received and be well.

Nearly two score and 10 years ago the feelings of the citizens of Portland were set aflame by an incident that seems trivial now, but which appeared of serious importance to the minds of the people then. This was the placing of a keystone over the entrance of the Multnomah county courthouse which bore a chiseled likeness of Abraham Lincoln."

The old courthouse, which is now passing away to make room for a larger, modern building, was constructed dur-ing the time of the tragic struggle between the defenders of the south and the loyalists of the north and feeling was running high.

When the news spread that the Republican county officials intended to thus honor the man who was carrying the troubles of the nation on his shoul-ders in its darkest hour, but who was passionately hated by the sympathizers with the southland, it was the match that set ablaze the antagonism of the two constituents.

Shelby Heads Protestants.

It was A. D. Shelby, a Democrat and a prominent citizen of that time, who led the protest against the Abe Lin-coln keystone. While his followers were things.

The Republican officials of the county, were firm and did not hesitate to thus honor and show confidence in the man who now stands out in history as a great statesman beloved by all whose hearts respond to the love of liberty, But while this important epoch of the country's history was in the making men's hearts were stirred with hatred and brother was arrayed against brother. Thus it was that when President Lingoln fell before the assassin's bullet that Shelby shouted, "Hurray, three cheers for Jeff Davis." He defiantly speated his shout several times and in a short while he was in the hands of an angry crowd which muzzled him and warned him if he repeated the words again he would be strung up to the nearest pole. He averted a lynching by obeying. The stone was chiseled by a man named Shade, and is a very creditable piece of work. The building was erected while Phillip A. Marquam was county judge. He served eight years, from 1862 to 1870. Judge Marquam still lives in Portland and has reached the ripe old age of almost 89 years. Up until about 10 days ago he was quite hale and hearty. At that time he fell and in-jured his back and has been practically confined to his chair and bed since. Historic Belic.

As first constructed the building stood the center of the block bounded by Fourth, Fifth, Salmon and Main, and was without the wings and other additions that were built later to accommodate the growth of the county.

It is uncertain what will be the fate of the keystone with the chiseled likeness of the martyred president, which for nearly 50 years greeted those who entered the house of courts and judgments, where licenses were obtained for marriages that did not endure as long as the building, where divorces were common, and where no one could dodge the tax collector. But there is no doubt it will be preserved.

It is now stored away with great stacks of old papers and documents in one of the basement rooms of the new ourthouse, from which hiding place it The Journal's photographer. add the stone to the society's collection of relies. When he petitioned the commissioners during a former administration, he was told that the stone would be incorporated in the new building, but thus far it has not been, so Mr. Himes again, only a few days ago, asked for the possession of the relic.
