

COOS BAY GREET'S RAILWAY BUILDERS

J. P. O'Brien Tells Residents Money Is Appropriated for Railway.

(Special to The Journal.)
Marshfield, Or., Sept. 21.—Officials of the Southern Pacific railway are being entertained on Coos Bay. The party is composed of Vice President O'Brien, H. W. Lounsbury, assistant general freight agent, and G. X. Wendling, the San Francisco lumberman. Today the visitors are being taken to the C. A. Smith mill and to North Bend. Tonight there will be a smoker in the Millicoma club and tomorrow night a banquet will be given by the business men of this city at the Chandler hotel.

GROSSCUP, ANGRY, MAY NOT RESIGN; DOGGED BY SLEUTH

ly magazine, the name of which he withheld.

Works for Magazine.

The detective denies that federal authorities employed him to watch Grosscup, yet it is persistently reported that he discovered unmarked by Richie were turned over to President Taft and Attorney General Wickersham. Richie says that he examined the property owned by Judge Grosscup and the time each piece was purchased, the amount paid and the circumstances surrounding the deal. It is known that the jurist is comfortably situated financially. His court decisions were thoroughly scrutinized from the standpoint of a lawyer and layman and his private life was watched. Richie does not state what the magazine hoped to prove.

Judge Grosscup said today he was not surprised at the statement of Richie. "I have known of this espionage for two years," he said. "I was informed that the federal government was doing it. I do not believe this. If a magazine ordered the espionage let it print the result."

Bar May Ignore Him.

A movement to ignore Judge Grosscup in case he steps from the bench was started in the Chicago Bar association here today with a published letter by Attorney Charles Aldrich, addressed to the members of the Chicago bar. This letter says in part: "It is known to many men that Judge Grosscup's resignation is the result of far more compelling causes than a desire to transfer himself from the United States court of appeals to the great court of public opinion. His actions have been investigated for the past two years and the results are not calculated to increase the respect of the people for the judiciary and its administration of the law. I venture the hope that if President Taft accepts the resignation of the state and the Chicago Bar associations will not through banquets and eulogistic speeches, commit members to approval of a career which has been a reproach to the judiciary and the bar."

Painless Method For Removing Hairs

(Beauty Adviser.)
In response to many inquiries for a hairless remover of the face or from the skin's surface, there is here published a simple formula now frequently used with great success in many of the leading beauty shops. To a little powdered delatone add enough water to make a thick paste, then spread on hairy surface; after two or three minutes rub off and wash the skin and the hairs will have vanished. Delatone can be supplied by any druggist, and while an original ounce package costs a dollar, the price is trifling because delatone does its work quickly and well and leaves the skin firm, soft and white. Usually only one application is necessary, excepting where the growth is thick or stubborn.

FOR SICK, SOUR-BILIOUS STOMACH, INDIGESTION AND GAS TAKE CASCARETS.

That awful sourness, belching of acid and foul gases; that pain in the pit of the stomach, the heartburn, nervousness, nausea, bloating; that feeling of fullness, dizziness and sick headache, means indigestion; a disordered stomach which cannot be regulated until you remove the cause. It isn't your stomach's fault, or your stomach is out of order. Try Cascarets; they cure indigestion, because they immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and get rid of the waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels. Then your stomach trouble is ended forever. Cascarets tonight will straighten you out by morning—a box will keep your entire family feeling good for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

at an end they would end, his suffering even at the risk of death. And the doctors kept their word, according to one of them, who was later the editor of a famous medical journal. He always defended his action."

A few years ago a woman, Miss Hall, tried to have a bill passed by the Ohio legislature to make legal the killing of hopeless sufferers. Miss Hall said that her mother was slowly dying of cancer in unspeakable agony. The bill was respectfully considered by the lower house but was rejected by an overwhelming vote.

Said She Killed Her Mother.

The most sensational case in the history of euthanasia in New York is that of Mrs. Lotta Wallau, who was arrested on charges of poisoning her mother, Mrs. Ida Binge, who was dying of cancer. This was in 1907. The imprudent Mrs. Binge was arrested and later her subsequent arrest and the failure of the grand jury to indict and her final discharge from custody added fuel to the discussion of the question, which was further fanned by the more dramatic Baudin case in Paris two years later.

Mrs. Wallau, who was a woman of refinement and education, lived at 68 East Eightieth street. Her mother, slowly dying, lived with her. The devotion of the young woman to her mother was pathetic. Nurses, doctors, friends—all who knew them—testified to the love of the daughter for her mother.

Mrs. Binge was rich, and her will left all of the fortune to her daughter. But that failed to establish a motive for the young woman did not have to ask for anything. Her mother lavishly showed money and gifts upon her. She could have had her mother's whole fortune for the asking. Besides, had she desired it, she would have had to wait only a month or two at the outside and it would have been hers by will.

MILITARY GUARDS PREVENT SOLDIERS FROM VENGEANCE

will be arraigned September 28 at 10 o'clock.

Unjustified, Says McGunagle.

Colonel McGunagle said this morning: "From what I have seen and heard, I do not believe the police officer was justified in his act. I hope to see justice meted out. Further than this, I haven't anything to say, but I may have later."

Whether Burkhardt was justified in shooting Lewellyn was apparently the question on the coroner's jury, which met at greater length than any other in its deliberations after an array of witnesses had been examined yesterday afternoon at the post hospital. Lewellyn was handcuffed and in the minds of some, it was apparent from questions asked, that a doubt lingered as to Burkhardt's inability to catch him without using a revolver. One jurist believed it a case of justifiable homicide, but finally yielded and a verdict that Harry L. Lewellyn came to his death from wounds inflicted by a revolver held in the hand of Roy Burkhardt was returned.

Six Feet Away, Woman Says.

The evidence in the case was conflicting in many instances. Especially was this true relative to the number of shots fired, and the distance Burkhardt was from Lewellyn when the fatal shot was fired. Officer Wynn Gasaway, who was with Burkhardt and assisted in making the arrest, testified that he himself fired one shot into the air, and that Burkhardt was fully 50 feet from Lewellyn when he shot. Bertha Wells, who was arrested with Lewellyn and was the only other eye-witness of the shooting, came to the stand. She said she did not shoot; that he did not call Lewellyn to halt, when questioned closely by Jurymen M. L. Covert as to distance, said that Burkhardt was only five or six feet from Lewellyn when he shot.

On Watch for Bertha Wells.

Police Officer Gasaway was the first witness called and stated in substance: "Bertha Wells was out under suspended sentence and had been ordered to leave town. She remained, however, and we were watching for her. We heard that she occupied room 8 at the Brunswick hotel and about 2:30 o'clock in the morning went to the room and knocked. She came to the door and opened it a little and entering the room, we found Lewellyn there. We placed both under arrest and at the police station, while I was fitting my key in the lock, Lewellyn broke and ran. I called to him to halt and fired my revolver in the air. Burkhardt took after Lewellyn and just as we stepped from the curb at Seventh and Washington to take up Seventh street into the barracks, Burkhardt shot. We took Lewellyn to the police station and called Dr. Black. Later we called the post hospital and he was taken there."

Lewellyn Took Her to Theatre.

Bertha Wells was the next witness and stated in substance: "I room at the Brunswick rooming house and have no occupation. Lewellyn was a lover of mine and came to the room about 6:30 o'clock. We went to the theatre and later had supper, returning to the room about 11 o'clock. When the officers came Lewellyn was lying on top of the covers on the bed asleep. I am sure he was asleep. He was completely clothed except for his blouse. All went well till we got to the police station and Gasaway was fitting his key, when Lewellyn attempted to make his getaway. After Burkhardt shot him, I wanted to go to him but Gasaway would not let me. It was light and I could see. Burkhardt was five or six feet from Lewellyn when he shot. The distance was stated after considerable questioning by the jurymen."

Lewellyn Makes Statement.

Captain Mathew A. Reasoner, medical corps, Vancouver barracks, was the next witness. He said: "I was called about 4 o'clock and told that a soldier had been shot. I hastened to the police station and there found Lewellyn. His pulse was 120. I had him removed at once to the post hospital. I saw that his condition was critical and asked him whether, in view of the fact chances were against him, he wanted to make a statement. He said: "I was at the Brunswick rooming house when the officers arrested me. When I started to run, the policeman did not say halt; if he did I did not hear him."

Soldier's Post Conduct Good.

Lieutenant Stanley A. Campbell said that Lewellyn was a member of his company and he had known him about three months. This his conduct was exemplary except on one occasion when he was absent without leave for eight hours August 25, 1911.

Dr. R. D. Wiswall, who with Dr. C. C. McCowan held a post-mortem, said that the bullet had entered about 3 inches from the spine on the left side and took almost a direct course through the body, coming out. A large and small intestine had been punctured.

Major Jere B. Clayton of the medical corps, Vancouver barracks, stated that he and Lieutenant Condon C. McCowan, of the medical corps, stated in substance the same as Dr. Wiswall, whose testimony was corroborated by Dr. McCowan.

The Jurymen were E. E. Bennett, A. J. Proebtel, J. H. Coffin, A. Collings, M. L. Covert and George B. Thomas.

This morning Bertha Wells was sentenced to 30 days in jail or 10 days in jail and $50 fine for vagrancy. She is trying to raise the $50.

WORKMEN QUARREL AS STRIKE PROGRESSES

As the result of a strike at the Portland Concrete Pipe company's plant, two men have been injured and two arrests have been made. Henry Dixon, an employe at the works reports that while going to his home at 8 o'clock last night, he was struck over the head with a heavy blunt instrument, at Grand avenue and East Couch street. He states that he suspects one of the strikers who had threatened him.

Yesterday William A. Quilint, an employe, and Roy Garlick, a striker, came to blows over the merits of the strike and a result of this encounter, both were arrested by Patrolman Pechin for fighting. The case will be tried next Saturday.

REVOLUTIONIST IS LURED TO DEATH

M. Monterey, Captain Under General Pryce, Shot and Killed in Mexico.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Los Angeles, Sept. 21.—Lured across the boundary line to the Mexican side with the promise that he would be given employment, Monarcus Monterey, a captain under General Cap Rhye Pryce during the Lower California insurrection, was bound, gagged and shot to death in sight of persons on the American side. When General Pryce was apprised of the deed he covered his face with his hands, a tear trickled down his cheek and then he clenched his fists and bit his lips in helpless rage. "A better man than Monterey never lived," said the former rebel leader today. "We promoted him from the ranks for bravery. He was educated in an eastern college and was just 25 years old. They have murdered in cold blood for participating in a revolt to bring about better conditions."

Monterey, who was an American citizen, was executed, according to today's reports, early on Monday.

How to Use Corn Meal For Dry Shampooing

(Mrs. Rohrer in Style and Fashion.)
"Nearly every woman knows that there is nothing better for cleaning furs than corn meal. Simply sprinkle it over the garment you wish to clean, brush it out thoroughly and the task is accomplished. Every tiny particle of dirt and dust adheres to the corn meal and comes away with it, leaving the fur rich and glossy. The same principle cleans the scalp and hair. Put a half pound of corn meal in a fruit jar and mix with it four ounces of amonite. This will give you a shampoo powder that not only removes dirt, oil and dandruff from the head, but the amonite also refreshes the scalp and hair roots for it is an excellent hair grower. "This mixture has a delicate perfume and leaves the hair beautifully soft and fluffy. Of course, the corn meal and amonite should be thoroughly mixed."
