To Make a Long Story Short. We'll not waste time disputing the point as to whether or not you need a piano or a Talking Machine. You know you do and so do we. A musical instrument is a necessity at this day and age. Your home is not home without one, and your children are denied the privileges others enjoy if you do not have it. Our business is that of selling pianos and Talking Machines. We might follow along the beaten path of trade and sell the ordinary, poorly made pianos that have been sold and are now being sold by others, but that's not the way we do it. We sell only the most reliable and the most prominent makes of pianos. The unrivaled Chickering of Boston, "oldest in America, best in the world," the wonderful Sohmer, finest of all fine pianos made in New York, and the now famous Kimball of Chicago, the most progressive and up-to-date piano of them all. We also make our own piano, the Eilers, nothing finer, or more durable, has ever been built. We also sell the Victrola, the Columbia and Edison talking machines. Ours is the only firm selling all makes. Nearly every make of dependable player piano is here—including the very best, the genuine Autopiano. Such instruments never disappoint, and we know if you come here and get one of our pianos, or talking machines, it will always be a source of satisfaction and pleasure to you, and you will always be a friend of Eilers Music House. You will bring your relatives here and tell your friends about us and about our goods. Of course, we carry also quite an assortment of less expensive instruments. Here are the Decker, the Marshall & Wendell, the Schumann, the Singer, the Hinze, the Schilling, and the Aschenbach. CONCERNING PRICES, we have just a word to say. It is this: Statements and claims often looted different when stood in a row with downright facts. There isn't a store in this country, from the largest down to the "tackiest" little fake branch affair, that will not—and perhaps in good faith, so far as their knowledge goes—claim to sell you cheaper than anyone else can possibly hope to. For years we have sold and are selling twice as many fine pianos as all the rest of the Oregon stores combined. We handle the very largest volume of business at the very lowest possible expense. This would point to Eilers Music House as a place where you can do the best. As to terms of payment, we ask you to make a careful and intelligent study of Eilers Music House's liberal policy, as well as its responsibility and methods before you buy. And in conclusion: Don't expect to hear of the good qualities of Sohmer and Kimball and Chickering and Eilers pianos from people who are trying to compete with us. They have pianos of their own to sell. Send for latest catalogs and prices to Eilers Music House, now at corner Seventh and Alder, in the new music building.
