DEMURRERS IN 4 IMPORTANT CASES ARE READY TO FILE Vina Mascot, Once Vaudeville

Jackson County Bond Issue of $1,500,000 for Roads Raises Same Point as Single Tax Initiative Law.

(Salem Bureau of The Journal )

Salens, Or., Oct. I .- Peur important Industrers were prepared for filting to day by Attorney General Crawford. One was a demurrer to the complaint in the case of G. A. Schuebel vs. secretary of state, demanding a writ of manto place the single tax law for Clarksmas county on the ballot. This demurrer was filed in the supreme court and raises the question of the right of any county to legislate independent of the state, and will require a con-struction of the constitution relative to the passing of local laws affecting assessment and collection of taxes, and relative to the initiative powers of loeal districts.

Two of the demurrers are to be filed federal court in Portland. One to in the case of the Southern Pacife va. railroad commission, involving the hours of labor of train dispatchers, and raises the question whether train dispatchers engaged in interstate commerce and subject to state laws. The jurisdiction of the state over dispatchers is also involved in the demurrer in the case of the Corvallis & Eastern vs. railroad emmission in federal court, and in the fourth demurrer, which is filed in the circuit court of Marion county, in an answer in the case of the state vs. Oregon Electric.

The Jackson county bond issue of $1,500,000 for good roads, passed Saturday, is also involved in a decision of the Clackamas county single tax issue. The matter of no provision for a mode of procedure for voting on local tax measures is involved in both cases.

RUNAWAY SCHOOLBOYS UNCAUGHT AFTER 4 DAYS

Salem, Or., Oct. 1 .- Unwilling to re main in school and be put back one grade from the room in which he was placed at the opening of the term, 11 years old, enlisted the sympathy of his 14-year-old brother Morris and his 14-year-old chum, Allen Cole, and the trio ran away from school near Clackamas, Friday, and have not been heard from since. Salem police received word from the boys parents today that the lads were supsed to be headed this way. Mr. Dutton feels that the success of the lads keeping hidden is due to the everindulgence of the public with truants. as seems to have been manifested in numerous other successful escapes of young boys recently.

Through the strong of Mrs. George Searless, Union venue and East Danis street, and Mrs. fieryle flay, 216 Montgomery street, the local performers and stage people conributed in giving the actress a service hat otherwise would have been by chary of the county. Vina Mascot was well known as a tember of the trio of Behan, Mascot nd Bohan. James Behan, senfor member of the team, was the husband of Vins Mascot. He died, and she later married Clarence Wainwright, with whom she lived until 18 months ago. when she became ill at Laramic, Wyo. The illness was caused by a nervous reakdown due to her work behind the ootlights.

Coming to Portland, her health did not prove and she was taken to St. Vinent's hospital. A few weeks ago she eft the hospital and took a room at the Villa, First and Columbia streets. By some unfortunate circumstances, room rent was not paid and the little actress found herself without a home. It was then that Mrs. Bearless and Mrs. Ray interested themselves in the girl, and kept her for a while. Three weeks ago, the girl was taken to the county institution, where she died some time Saturday night.

The husband is a vaudeville performer, but has been unable to leave Portland. He has worked at whatever he could in order to be near the once popular dancer and singer. The funeral arrangements have been made by the two women who have so kindly taken to the little dancer and interment will be made in Multnomah cemetery. Vina Mascot was born in Waterbury onn., 29 years ago. Her relatives are thought to be living there, but little is known of them. This morning Mrs. Searles and Deputy Sheriff Jones went pefore the county court and completed final arrangements for the funeral and paid the bills incurred by the girl's ill-

PRESS CLUB MEMBERS

The members of the Portland Press lub were given an idea of life beyond the grave last night when, as special guests of Melvin G. Winstock, general nanager of the People's Amusement company, they witnessed a private ex-hibition of Dante's "Inferno," one of the greatest photo plays ever seen in Portland. The exhibition was given at the Star theatre.

In addition to the club members and their friends, the members of the women's advisory board, who pass on all films shown at the Star, were present. and gave their approval. The mem-bers of the board are: Mrs. E. B. Caldwell, Mrs. M. R. Trumbull, Mrs. A. C.

There are five reels, containing a total of 5000 feet of pictures. The per-formance lasted an hour and a half. During the performance cigars were passed and after its completion light refreshments were served. The accom-paniment played on the pipe organ by Harry Thorne added to the beauty of the production.

MONKEY STILL AT LARGE IN NORTH LINN COUNTY

(Special to The Journal.)
Sclo, Or., Oct. 3.—A monkey which escaped from one of the shows here during the fair some weeks ago has been keeping the country stirred up by appearing in various places, often where it has been entirely unexpected. A few evenings ago on a farm a few miles been to town and had left the evening's chores to be done by their children. When the latter went to the barn to do the work they were badly frightened at finding a new specimen of animal life perched on a ladder, and the youngsters where they remained until the parents' return. The children at once informed their father that there was a little old man out in the barn, and that they were afraid to do the work. An investigation revealed the monkey, which fled when eral days before it will an effort was made to capture it. It is still at large.

SEEKS RESCUE OF FATHER FROM EXILE

Mabel Parker.

If any man or woman in Portland has the slightest influence with the caar of Russia, that one should call upon Mabel Parker, who is a member of the cast of "The House Next Door," which is to play at the Baker all next week, and say so and offer to aid her in a cause that cannot help but appeal direct to the hearts of every liberty loving people in the world.

Miss Parker's right name is Tharmara Kalmoutsky, which, for a Russhia name, would be as simple as Mary Smith would be in English. She was born in Moscow. Her father was the editor of a paper there, until one day he deunced the Jewish massacres and then the gendarmes took him away to Siberts, where he is now languishing in a dungeon.

All of the Kalmoutsky property was confiscated, and so the little girl, who was at the same time thrust out of Russia and told never to return, came America and went on the stage Aside from her art, her one idea in life is to secure her father's freedom, and she is getting all the help she can from

OFF. ARE GIVEN PAY

Thirty hungry appearing laborers gathered in the corridor outside the mayor's office this morning to wait for Mayor's Secretary George McCord to sign their September salary warrants. The men are numbered in a list of more than 200 laid off by the city water department last week. They had been employed temporarily in the laying of water mains and when a pipe shipment ecame delayed there was no further work for them

That was the fastest piece of work have done since my appointment," remarked the mayor's secretary, as he anded out the freshly signed warrants to a clerk from the water office to be distributed by that official to the eager crowd of foreigners. "I caught just one glimpse of that row of anxious faces," continued the secretary, "and that was enough to make me hurry."

NORTH YAKIMA MAYOR WILL BE POLICE CHIEF. SAVING THE CITY $3000

(Special to The Journal.) North Yakima, Wash., Oct. 3. Following the economic example of the commissioner of public works, W. H. Redman, who yesterday abolished the office of street commissioner and announced that he would perform that official's duties, Mayor Jack Splawn, head of the new commission government, declares that he will himself act as chief of police. The saving to the city will be $3000 yearly. Both commissioners will do the without extra pay.

CHARTER FRAMERS UNITE FOR REFORMS

Nominating Petitions Must Be Signed by One Hundred Electors.

Several reforms were agreed upon by the mambers of the people's charter commission of the east side at its meeting last night which, it is said, will do away with a great deal of the trouble which attends the elections of the present. If the new commission charter as drawn up by this commission is adopted self-nomination will be practically done away with and in its place nominating petitions must be filed with the city auditor. These petitions must be filed between 40 and 20 days before the election and must be accompanied by a statement of the candidate accept-ing the nomination, agreeing not to withdraw and agreeing to qualify if elected. Unless these conditions are adhered to the nominating petition will not be accepted by the auditor. 100 Electors Must Sign.

The petitions must be signed by 100 lectors and no elector may sign petitions for more candidates than there are offices to be filled. Should this be done the petitions will be thrown out in the order in which they are filed after the first five. When thrown out, five days are allowed in which to make the necessary corrections, providing they are again filed before the 20 days prior to the election are up. No petition will be received after that date. Another provision of note is that an election will not be invalidated by any rregularity or defect in any nominatng petition. Heretofore when slightest irregularity occurred the years, whole election would be endangered, fun This provision will do away with many ontested elections.
