

Topics of Interest in the Realm Feminine

IN SOCIETY

Tea for Visitors.

Mrs. Russell E. Sewall asked a few friends in on Tuesday to enjoy an informal tea and renew their friendship with her mother, Mrs. A. M. Williams, of Seattle, and her sister, Mrs. H. W. French, of Clatskanie. Mrs. George W. Marshall and Mrs. Williams returned to her home yesterday after a visit of a week. Mrs. French has been here a week and will probably remain a week or so longer.

Retrospect Made Known.

Miss Germaine Samuels is telling her friends today of her engagement to Milton Kahn, the wedding to take place later in the winter. Miss Samuels is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Samuels. Mr. Kahn is the son of Mrs. A. Kahn and a brother of Mrs. A. Blumauer. Mr. and Mrs. Samuels will be at home for their daughter on Thursday of next week.

Bridge Affairs.

Mrs. Herbert Holman entertained with nine tables of bridge yesterday when card honors fell to Mrs. Henry B. Gile and Mrs. F. A. Holtkemper. Mrs. Holman was assisted by Mrs. John Raymond Holman and Mrs. Lawrence Holman.

Miss Grace Gearty gave a farewell bridge party yesterday afternoon for Mrs. C. Lewis Mead who is going to the Orient. Four tables were played and prizes went to Mrs. Lewis and Miss Irene Flynn.

Council of Jewish Women Meets.

The first meeting of the Council of Jewish Women for this year, which was held yesterday in the Bellinger-Hirsch building, proved one of unusual interest. The new by-laws of the neighborhood house were read and accepted and it was declared with great delight that through the generosity of the men's benevolent Hebrew society, a resident worker has been secured for the neighborhood house. Another marked step in advance in connection with the neighborhood house is the installation of paid teachers this year. Mrs. Solomon Hirsch and Mrs. S. M. Blumauer were elected delegates to the Triennial to be held in Philadelphia early in December. Miss Lola Price won high favor with the beautiful rendition of her vocal numbers, accompanied by her teacher, Mrs. Rose Bloch-Bauer.

Affair Cancelled.

Miss Clarice Biles cancelled the invitations which she had extended for a theatre party to have been given yesterday for Miss Helen Driver of Tacoma. Miss Driver was unexpectedly called home the first of the week.

Home Wedding.

A simple little home wedding solemnized last evening in the presence of a few intimate friends was that of Miss Gertrude Melton, Mrs. M. H. Houser's sister, and Henry Frederick Bendix, an eastern man, now of Walla Walla, where they will make their home. Dr. Luther Dyott read the serv-

HIS WIFE'S PRISONER

Written for The Journal by DARRA MORE.
A SITUATION has come out of love, and it has nothing to do with the craft skill or the following steps of any other fiction. It is a story of a woman's life. But it is of vital import to that mighty part of the Realm Feminine who have troublesome husbands. And when I say troublesome husbands, I mean the kind that just will not stay out of the kind that are forever turning up in strange and undesirable scrapes and scrapes, the kind, you know, that make nervous wrecks of their wives and an awful murky place of society in general.

One Frenchwoman, Miss d'Arrest, has solved her troubles with distinction. She is a clever woman, an ingenious woman. I commend her methods to all my friends, who have annoyances in the shape of disappearing husbands.

Last May, it was reported that Albedia d'Arrest had slipped to Canada with Miss Heloise, Spectator, the governess of his children, but was deported by order of the Canadian minister of the interior. And now, he is back in his own chains at Eyre's—a guest invisible to all, except his wife, fed by her, and talking only to her. He is living, it is said, in a small room, practically a prisoner, shielded from the gaze even of servants, and waiting in secrecy and patience until the world forgets his folly. It is further rumored that Miss d'Arrest has forgiven her erring husband.

At 5 o'clock. The bride and groom were attended by Miss Lila Sutherland and Clarence Jones, both of Walla Walla. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will be at home in Walla Walla after October 11.

Random Notes of Interest.

Society enjoyed the first of the series of lectures to be given by Dr. Alfred Brown of Boston, at the home of Mrs. Lee Hoffman, this morning. The subject was "The Joy of Living," by Suderman. The next lecture will be given Tuesday morning at the home of Mrs. George W. Collins.

Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Fletschner are home from a delightful fortnight spent in San Francisco at the St. Francis. During their stay they were entertained by many of their friends.

Mrs. Arthur Brasfield is entertaining at bridge this afternoon.

Mrs. K. L. Miller of Roseburg is the guest of Mrs. Shiller B. Hermann.

Mrs. M. Harry Lamond, who has spent the past six weeks in Boston and Washington, D. C., is expected home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Max H. Clark have returned and will be at home to their friends at 414 Grand-Oak apartments, corner of Grand avenue and East Oak, after October 15.

band, but that she thinks it wise to subject him to a period of penitential reflection, in order to provide against further indiscretions on his part.

Someway, I feel that Miss d'Arrest made a mistake in making her husband's imprisonment solitary. It seems to me that the punishment would have been so much more purposeful, had she confined the "affinity" governess in the same small room. It is by such process only that husband could be made thoroughly proof against the "affinity" business. Just think of being imprisoned in one small room with an affinity under your own wife's roof, and that same wife holding your future in her hand, also, the key to that one small room.

There is nothing so galling to the modern man as "too much affinity." It is like being on an island entirely surrounded by fudge. It is like reaching out for a crust of bread and finding nothing but molasses. It is like having prisms of hydrogen in the place of water, and chocolate creams in place of beefsteak. It is like being fried in fondant. It is the one thing that will make of husband a good boy.

But, I merely mention the matter in passing. Possibly such interesting methods of husband discipline never occurred to Portland women. And, I know there are any number of them on a still hunt for methods because my pigeon holes are stuffed with their letters.

CLARKE COUNTY FAIR WILL BE OPEN SUNDAY

Vancouver, Wash., Oct. 2.—At a late hour last night it was decided that the Clarke county fair should not close Saturday night, but should run over Sunday. This was caused by the failure to get the exhibits in the first day, weather interfering, and also to give thousands of people of Portland a chance to see the greatest harvest festival in southwestern Washington. There are many working men and women who will not have a chance to visit the fair on a week day, so they will have ample opportunity to do so Sunday.

Ample cars have been provided, several long trailers from the O. W. P. of Portland having been brought over and placed in use. These immense cars are hauled by big freight motor cars, and make frequent trips to the grounds. The fare to the grounds from any part of the city is but 5 cents. A person can go from Portland to the Clarke county fair and return to his home, any place in Portland for 40 cents.

Commission Form Saves Money. Hoquiam, Wash., Oct. 1.—After two months under the commission plan, Hoquiam is able to show a saving of $200 monthly. Useless clerks and assistants were cut off.

Questions and Answers

Dear Miss More: Will you please tell me what is correct upon entering a restaurant, in the evening, after the theatre?

Does the woman precede or allow the man to lead the way to their table? Who gives the order to the waiter?

Please tell me also some of the things one may order, besides oysters, and the correct manner of eating them. I should like to know how one eats an order of quail on toast.

After a matinee does a party of young women go to a restaurant and order something similar to what a theatre party should?

Would it be proper for my sister and her girl friend to go to dancing school together without an escort?

MRS. J. L.

The escort leads the way to the table and gives the order to the waiter.

For an after theatre supper it is perfectly proper to order anything that the appetite calls for, but an order of potatoes and onions might cause embarrassment to your escort, and would hardly be the thing. The usual supper consists of oysters in various styles, lobster, sandwiches, sweetbread, rarebit, salad, creamed diabla, bread and butter, etc.

After a matinee ladies indulge in what is called "tea." It may consist of any light refreshment, such as tea and wafers, cocoa and sandwiches, crumpets, etc. Whatever is eaten at that hour should be light, that it may not interfere with the dinner that is so soon to follow.

Two girls may attend dancing school together, but it always safer for some member of the family to escort them to and fro if possible.

one is best for the individual. Excess land values will put off the day of central Oregon's maximum development.

Big Farms Discouraged. "Another thing we will be interested in doing will be to encourage subdivision of land. The man who has 1000 acres and sells $60 of it will find his land remaining worth much more than all that he had in the first place. Let the people produce in this country what the country is adapted best to; let land values be kept reasonable; let the big tracts be divided, and we will do our share in railroad building and development."

Jim Hill Meets Bill Hanley. On of the most affecting incidents of the day was when Hill the elder greeted Colonel William Hanley. The Hill special and party had gotten in earlier than was expected. Hanley heard the engine whistle and hurried with C. C. Chapman to the train.

"Bill," said a voice from a passing car. Hanley turned, it was Hill. The two men's faces lit up as they shook hands. "I've been waiting a long while for this day," said Mr. Hanley. "And I have been planning for it a long while,"

Bill," said the empire builder to the big man of Hanley county. Mike Detren, Coconostone Lake. The morning was spent in seeing the country and witnessing contests on the river and in bridge building. William Hanley helped drive the bridge. Carl H. Gray, president of the Hill line in Oregon, laid the cornerstone of the new Bend depot. Chief Engineer Budd and Superintendent J. F. Rogers were congratulated by Hill on the wonderful record made in laying the last 25 miles of track in 13 days. Agent J. H. Corbett was installed in charge of the passenger and freight business.

Beautiful Day at Bend.

The day is faultless, the rains that had fallen, the heaviest known in central Oregon in 15 years, serving only to lay the dust and make traveling easier. The school children paraded this morning in Main street, west far to show the capabilities of dry farming. The Hill party will go to Fallbridge tonight, to the Spokane Interstate fair tomorrow, then back to St. Paul in time to meet the engagement at Springfield, Ill., on October 11.
