DISCORDANT NOTE AT METHODIST CONFERENCE

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Toronto, Ont., Oct. 5.—A discordant note was struck at the Methodist conference following the address of Bishop Hendrie, D. D., in which he referred to the Beattle murder trial at Virginia. He pictured a court room in which no women were permitted and a jury on its knees before giving the verdict of Alderman Snape of London "guilty." at the end of this address asked what the judge's sentence was, and if the prisoner had been "white" would it have been different.

Business Man's club, at lunchers at Hotel Portland today, indured Councilman Maguire's effort at revocation of licenses of saloons which have compromising annexes.

An appeal for inforcement of the curtow ordinance, and for the men of the shib to use their efforts in behalf of the boys and girls of the city, wore features of an address by Judge Gateos of the juvenile court. He recounted numerous instances of social vice and disease revealed in the cases in the juvenile court, all of which disclosed appalling conditions among the delinquent children of the city. He urged more attention by parents to the question of where their boys and girls are, and what they are doing, especially at night. Judge Morrow insisted that good citisens should never shirk jury duty, claring that failures at conviction are often the fault of jurors. The club is to go in a body to Salem next Sunday as guests of Governor West for a visit at the penal and other in-

TRADE EXPANSION N In the City of Portland

To the President of the Portland Commercial Club:

Your attention is respectfully directed to "Trade Expansion in the City of Portland," No. 2 and 3, which will appear in the daily papers of this city tomorrow and the day following. Also to the extraordinary announcement which will follow on Sunday morning,

The only object in addressing you is that you and your associates may know that your efforts to promote commercial expansion in Portland are bearing fruit in various ways,

To the People of Portland:

Every man, woman and child in Portland has his charities-at least a desire to do something in the way of charity each year. While the expense of the project involved in the "Trade Expansion' enterprise to be launched by Portland merchants will be carried by the merchants themselves, the character of the proposition makes it possible for all to have a part in the work. Every reader of this paper will therefore be vitally interested in the unfolding of the plan, which will permit them to help in any desired degree—all without one cent will permit them to help in any desired degree-all without one cent

To the Clergy of Portland:

Consider this as formal notice to you that for the next few days there will appear in this space some mighty interesting news to you and to every member of your congregation. It will be news of a character that will inspire some of you with increased efforts, and some with entirely new efforts, along a line in which every church is interested. Upon you, to some extent, will depend the result, just as upon you depends the result of leadership in anything your church attempts, only that in this matter your congregation will want to do more of the work than is usually the case. Success for you and yours will therefore depend largely upon your qualities of generalship.

Portland, Or., October 5, 1911.
