

HAMMOND TELLS HOW HE KILLED BARRYDT WITH AX AND DOLL KNIFE, "A HARD JOB"

(Special to the Journal.) Vancouver, Wash., Oct. 11.—(Special.) Without a twinge of conscience and in a deliberate manner, Charles W. Hammond related the killing of aged Edward Barrydt at his cabin near Bell...

Barrydt, Owner of 120 Acres. Charles Meers said that he lived near Hammond and had known Barrydt for three years. Barrydt owned 120 acres of land, but had only about three acres cleared. On this the three men were...

Ends Job by Cutting Throat. "After he was down I got a butcher knife and cut his throat. It was a hard job to cut a man's throat with a dull knife but I sawed away till I cut through the main artery. He died, called the body on and hauled it to where I buried it. I then slept in the dugout that night and in the morning cooked and ate breakfast in the house. I tried to wash the blood from the floor and when I could not I set fire to the house."

One Woman on Jury. Those composing the jury are: F. V. Arnold, George E. Schuss, J. C. Dow, O. T. Bratton, S. McQuinn, J. G. Mitchell, Fred Mattson, J. McNutt, R. Atkinson, L. Stover, E. H. Wright and Mrs. Ellen Knight.

Organizing Publicity Boosters in Montana. Tom Richardson is in Montana organizing community publicity work in the cities of Helena and Billings, along with the instructions given by the court. She was accepted with few questions. Mrs. Anna Bowes was appointed bailiff and spent last night with Mrs. Knight in the county clerk's office. She is the wife of Chet Knight, a local carpenter.
