Banquet Room Opened.

MH. AND MRS. TERRINGTON, B.
WELCH, and guests last evening for a dinner which celebrated the opening of the new hotel room at the Imperial Hotel.

Compliments Young Matron.

Mrs. James Alexander Ellis invited guests for nine tables of bridge yesterday in compliment to Mrs. Daniel Mc-Graw (Miss Mary Dunn). The rooms were beautifully decorated with autumn leaves and dahlias in the same shades.

Bridge Luncheon.

Mrs. Herbert Lehman provided over a large bridge luncheon yesterday when one hundred numbered tables were arranged at the small tables which were covered with autumn foliage and roses. Seven tables of bridge were played and the game captured by Mrs.
D. J. Maloney and Mrs. John Raymond Holman.

Club Benefit.

The card afternoon yesterday at the attractive home of Mrs. T. G. Geer, fifty-third and Thompson, Rose City Park, for the benefit fund of the new rich houses to be built in that vicinity, was largely attended by a beautifully gowned throng of women. High scores were made by Mrs. Charles Billington and Mrs. G. R. Raymond. During the noon Miss Zeta Holtister delighted the guests with several charming vocal numbers. Dahlias and cosmos in autumnal shades decorated the rooms.
The patronesses for the afternoon were Mrs. T. G. Geer, Mrs. O. C. Huguenin, Mrs. Fred Brookner, Mrs. A. Laddow, Mrs. Carl Christensen, Mrs. O. E.
Brooks, Miss Hubbard, Mrs. A. M. Mack, successful that a series will probably be given.

James were the co-authors of "E Interpreté," a charming little two act French
