

MAY APPEAL FROM RULING OF M'GINN

City Council Urged to Take Action in Inman-Poulson Case.

Persistent effort of an attorney for the Inman-Poulson company, to prevent a review of the recent circuit court decision by which the company was given the right to occupy valuable east side streets forever, came to naught yesterday when the judiciary committee of the city council recommended the passage of an ordinance authorizing City Attorney Grant to appeal to the supreme court.

Mayor Rushlight, while he was in the council, began the fight to oust the big mill company from East Sixth, East Third and other thoroughfares which have been occupied by mill buildings that shut off the traveling public from access to the water front. City Attorney Grant lately took up the battle and through suit against the company, in the circuit court. Judge McGinn decided that the city owns the streets in question, but that the company and its heirs and assigns may use them forever. The city attorney believes the supreme court of the state will meet certainly reverse this decision.

Attorney George B. Shepherd appeared before the committee on behalf of the milling company and brought the councilmen not to recommend the passage of the ordinance granting the city attorney authority to appeal the case. He said the city can not possibly win and that it will cost at least $1000 to obtain transcripts of the proceedings and abstracts. He said the taxpayers of the city will have to foot these bills.

"If Mr. Shepherd is so certain that the city will be defeated in its attempt to oust the company," said City Attorney Grant, "I don't see why he is so eager to keep me from bringing the case to the supreme court. If Judge McGinn's decision is sound law the higher tribunal will uphold it. If not the supreme court will reverse it. This case will not only affect the streets occupied by the Inman-Poulson company, but it will also affect many other streets similarly occupied. Heretofore it has been the practice for private interests to take for granted that water front streets belong to everybody but the public. I intend to get a decision which will decide this question for all time."

CHANGES IN PRECINCT BOUNDARIES NECESSARY

Redistricting of election precincts for the primaries and general election of 1912 will be forced upon the city court as a result of the great increase in voting population since the boundary lines were last fixed.

At the last session of the legislature a law proposed to open the polls in the morning on primary days, and had this been enacted it would not be necessary to change the precinct lines this year. With the polls open only half a day, however, it is feared the vote could not be cast in the heaviest voting precincts.

Under the state law each precinct is supposed to contain not more than 300 voters. Many of the Multnomah precincts contain many more than 300 voters last spring at the city election and it is uncertain how many new votes will be required to care for the expected big vote of next year.

Deputy County Clerk Herman Schneider, who acts with County Clerk Walde in making up provisional precinct maps for the approval of the county, will take up the matter in a few days. At first it was thought the dividing of a few precincts would suffice, but this it is feared would lead to greater confusion than a general readjustment of lines and the creation of necessary new precincts.

CREDIT MEN HOLD AN INTERESTING SESSION

The first monthly meeting of Portland Association of Credit Men to be held this fall took place Wednesday in the Hotel Portland restaurant, with 114 members present. Several interesting talks were made relative to the work to be taken up this year. Otto Mangold addressed the members on the long credit question, which has been bothering the local jobbers for some time. Heretofore some of the jobbers have had to wait a year before bills were paid by some of the eastern Oregon merchants. To solve this difficulty is to be one of the purposes of the work to be taken up this season.

W. J. Henderson, who acted as chairman, gave out the plans of the national conference which is to be held in Boston next year. The names of the chairman of the standing committees were made public as follows: Legislation, J. L. Schmitt, Portland-Singapore company; membership, J. W. Brown, General Electric company; credit department, H. G. Laffey, Himmelfarb-Frank Drug company; fire insurance, R. M. Underwood, Felling, McClellan company; mercantile agency service, F. H. Hain, Creston, Seattle company; investigation and prosecution, R. E. Knapp, W. P. Fuller & Co.; credit investigation, J. R. Thompson, Arneson & Co.; book-keeping, H. H. Miller, Portland Gas & Coke company; banking and currency, F. L. Skell, Portland Flouring Mills company.

Babe Killed by Boiling Water.
Centerville, Wash., Oct. 29.—The two-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Hevonen, well known residents of the Finnish colony at Taylor's camp, died in agony yesterday afternoon as the result of a severe scalding received Wednesday. The child was playing near the kitchen stove when a bucket of boiling water fell upon him, scalding the entire right side of his body.

SLEPT SIX WEEKS

When the strange case of the Iowa woman who had slept constantly for 41 days was reported, many people who could not sleep at all wished that they might have a similar experience. You would be surprised to know how many people there are right around here who hardly ever get more than two or three hours sleep at night, owing to bad health, general weakness and worn-out condition. Miss Louise Ludwig, Newark, N. J., who went through all this has written a letter saying:
"Having felt weak, tired and badly rundown, with little appetite, and inability to sleep well, I began to take Vinol which I had heard was the best remedy for that condition. It has done me great good by building up my strength, improving my appetite and enabling me to sleep soundly."
If you are worn out and weak and want new strength so you can eat well, sleep well, and be well, Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron remedy is what you need, and we guarantee it to satisfy you. Woodward, Clarke & Co., Druggists, Portland, Or.

GRAY HAIR DENOTES AGE. IS YOUR HAIR FADED OR STREAKED WITH GRAY?

A Few Applications of a Simple Remedy Bring Back the Natural Color.

How often one hears the expression, "She is gray and beginning to look old." It is true that gray hair usually denotes age and is always associated with age. You never hear one referred to as having gray hair and looking young.
The hair is generally the index of age. If your hair is gray, you can't blame your friends for referring to you as looking old. You can't retain a youthful appearance if you allow your hair to grow gray. Many persons of middle age jeopardize their future simply by allowing the gray hair to become manifest.

If your hair has become faded or gray, try Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation which a chemist by the name of Wyeth devised a few years ago. It is simple, inexpensive and practical, and will banish the gray hairs in a few days. It is also guaranteed to remove dandruff and promote the growth of the hair.
It is a pleasant dressing for the hair, and after using it a few days itching and dryness of the scalp entirely disappear.
Don't neglect your hair. Start using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur today, and you will be surprised at the quick results.
This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special Agent, Owl Drug Co.

Laurelhurst as it appears today in its finished and completed condition. To appreciate the remarkable transformation which has taken place there in the past two years one must see the property.

Laurelhurst

The Addition with Character

Stands out today in its completed state as the premier residence park of Portland. Every municipal improvement requisite for the health, comfort and happiness of those people who appreciate and demand the best home surroundings, has been made in Laurelhurst by the City of Portland, at a cost exceeding $1,500,000.

When the expression "completed" is used in describing the state of Laurelhurst's improvements it should be taken literally; every street, 25 miles in all, has an asphalt pavement; the entire 52 miles of cement sidewalks have been laid, perfect gas, sewer and water systems have been put in throughout the property, the addition is brilliantly lighted with a superb system of cluster lights and the sidewalks are lined with carefully selected shade trees, embracing all of the best known varieties. Two double track carlines bisect Laurelhurst, one near the north line and the other near the center.

You must not get the idea that the streets of Laurelhurst are torn up as they were three or four months ago and that piles of sand, gravel and cement are scattered here and there; such is not the case.

Two years ago, when Laurelhurst came under the control of the present owners, the promise was made that within two years, every municipal improvement would be made throughout the entire addition. That promise has been faithfully kept to the minutest detail.

Laurelhurst

The Addition with Character

Now that it is a perfectly improved residence addition, is one of the show places of Portland. The natural beauty and attractiveness of Laurelhurst, enhanced by the costly public improvements, just completed, and the scores of elegant homes built there during the past year, has made it the highest-grade residence property in Portland and stamps it as the choicest and most desirable home-building area in the city.

It would be worth your while to spend an hour or two walking or motoring through Laurelhurst. There is nothing else like it in Portland. It is distinctly in a class of its own. Laurelhurst can be reached from the center of the city over hard-surfaced streets, as the district between the shopping center and the addition is practically all paved.

Less than two years ago Laurelhurst was the finest dairy farm in Oregon. Today it is the only finished, residence addition of any size in Portland and is by far the most beautiful home-building district on the entire Pacific Coast.

Take an hour off and go to see Laurelhurst. The wonderful work that has been accomplished there in the past 18 months will be a revelation to you.
